"The Sea Hawk" Begins Showing at Arcade Today.

Sahuntin's brilliant novel, "The Sea Hawk," one of the three best sellers of 1923 and regarded as a more spirited narrative than even "Satanstoe," has at last made its way to the screen and the Arcade theatre presents Frank Lloyd's First National picture version of the adventure of Sir Oliver Trevelyan among the Barbary coasts.

In book form "The Sea Hawk" has been regarded as a modern epic and in relating the story pictorially Mr. Lloyd has enhanced its value. To transfer the big drama to the screen it has been necessary to build an entire Algerian city with its quaint slave market, winding streets, mysterious courts, four gigantic ships of the sixteenth century design and to use more than a thousand people actively in the several big sea battles.

William Sills has been given the dominant role of Sir Oliver, later Sak-el-Hahr, the hawk of the sea, and Edith Bennett is cast as Rosamund, his sweetheart. Lloyd Hughes, Wallace Berry, Frank Currier, Marc MacDermont, Wallace MacDonald, Mimi Medea Rodzina, who recently left the Moscow Art Theatre to cast her fortunes with the cinema, Kathleen Key, Christine Moore, Fred McSweeney, Louise Albert, Albert Prince, Kate Price, Louis Morrison and others equally well known.

The Arcade Theatre will present "The Sea Hawk" with appropriate musical setting.

"Girl of Limberlost" Delights Crowds At Sherrys Theater.

Gertrude Olmsted, the Edith Carr of Gene Stratton-Porter's personally supervised production of her book, "A Girl of the Limberlost," which has just been released and which is to be shown in this city within a few days, has the distinction of being one of the ten young men and women, chosen last spring by the "Wampus" as the coming stars.

The "Wampus" is the noted Los Angeles organization of 8000 publicity writers, than whom there is declared to be no greater or more capable group of "pickers of coming stars" in the picture world.

Prior to her engagement for a leading role in "A Girl of the Limberlost," Miss Olmsted has had many featured parts, the latest of these being the leading woman of "Cameo Kirby" in which she accorded a distinctive hit. In the part of Edith Carr, in Mrs. Porter's story, she has created a distinctive character—the snobbish and pampered daughter of a wealthy family—one of that sort of persons, each member of the audience can count among friends or acquaintances.

"A Girl of the Limberlost" is declared by picture reviewers as being one of the outstanding photo-dramatic bits of the year. Made under the direction of Laurence Fox Meridian, this story of a girl's struggle for an education in spite of the opposition for an embittered mother, has an appeal both to young and old.

Comedy showing, "Wide Open Spaces."

Women's Federation to Meet

MOSCOW, Idaho. The state federation of women's clubs and the third district federation will meet here October 7 to 10. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Warren Trull, Moscow, first vice president of the state federation.

Delegates will be entertained at banquets at Eldersburgh hall, University of Idaho, and the Elks' temple and at a dinner by groups on the university campus.
