INJURED MAN RECOVERING

Robert Hall, who was shot at North Powder Sunday morning, is resting easily today, according to reports from the hospital.

Two bullets entered Hall's arm as he was attempting to escape from the Hutchinson-Porcupine store after being caught in the act of looting the establishment.

He was operated on Sunday evening and the bullets were removed. Unless infection sets in the arm will be saved. His trial will be delayed for several weeks until his condition improves.

hospitality and good fellowship. Gathered at banquet tables in the Odd Fellows hall the people of Cove and a few outside guests enjoyed a dinner which would indeed be hard to surpass. On every face could be seen a thankful feeling for the many blessings which Providence showers on Cove.

The banquet was prepared and served by the ladies of the Cove Commercial club with Mrs. E. H. Bell and Mrs. Kugo Blank acting as a committee to supervise the work.

Immediately following the banquet all adjourned to the lodge room of the Odd Fellows building

Gives Up Hubby

Told by his doctor that he had one year to live, Ralph W. Upham of Columbus asked his wife, Emily K. Upham, to release him from marriage so he could live his last year with the woman he loved. Mrs. Upham, however, granted his request by suing for divorce, which was granted, together with $50 a month for the support of their son, age 1 where for two hours a program was enjoyed.

Roy Bell acted as chairman of this meeting and the speakers included Dr. W. T. Pay of Hot Lake, C. W. Gidwell and Prof. Roy Conklin of Union, John Dean and Harry Weimer of Cove.

The program was opened with a saxophone duet by Mr. French and Mr. Mills which was very appropriate as an opening number. Kathleen Campbell of La Grande then sang to the delight of the gathering, "Mother, My Dear" by Pheburne and "My Lullaby" by Mrs. H. N. Ashby of La Grande accompanied her at the piano. A well rendered vocal solo by Mrs. Ernest Bell of Cove and a vocal number by Prof. Price constituted the musical numbers for the evening.

Dr. Pay in a neighborly way recalled in his speech some of Cove's conditions years ago and stressed the great improvement made in that community in but a few years, predicting what marvelous changes would come in years following. After telling his audience a few good stories he spoke earnestly on the health of a community and gave his audience some concrete facts to remember. He told of the untiring effort on the part of humanity to breed better live stock, but deplored the fact that little attention is paid to cultivating the human race. As an illustration he told of one degenerate who entered a western state fifty years ago until that state has had to care for more than a half hundred of his descendants who were mentally and physically unfit to do their part in society. The doctor drew home the point that no one can do things properly unless in possession of health and he urged greater attention to that most important feature of mankind.

Spoke on Chautauquus, W. C. Gidwell of Union, spoke on the Chautauquus, telling how Union had decided to abandon the five-day successive entertainment and take up the theater.

course of an entertainment a month. Harry Weimer spoke on the Cove Chautauquus, urging that it be continued for the benefit of the young, and if not continued to follow the lead of Union and install a gymnasium.

Prof. Roy Conklin gave a pleasant talk on his experiences in Cove and devoted the serious part of his address to the duty of the home to the children of the country, calling attention to the fact that schools cannot do it all and the parents should take their responsibility for their children.

Freight Rate Aided. John Dean, one of the largest fruit producers of Cove and also a heavy buyer of Cove fruit, delighted the audience with the information that at least the Union Pacific railroad company had decided to absorb the freight charged on Cove products from Cove to the main line of the U. P., thus cancelling the charge of the $20 minimum on a car of fruit from Cove to Union Junction.

Drace Dennis, of the Evening Observer, spoke briefly on the merits of Cove products, the majority feeling that the La Grande and Cove produce and carried a message from the business people of La Grande to the Cove people assuring them of the desire to cooperate with them in all their undertakings.

School News

An assembly was held at the high school this morning and a number of business matters were attended to.

E. D. Towler, principal of the high school, read and explained the chapter in the student body constitution providing for the election of a student council. The student council consists of a representative of each class selected by the class officers, the student body officers and the principal of the high school and the school superintendent. The council for the current year is to be selected and approved this week.

The point contest for the classes is also under way in full swing. The classes are awarded a certain number of points for work done in each activity and at the end of the school year prizes are awarded to the winning classes. By virtue of signing up the greatest percentage of its students for student body tickets the senior class is now in the lead in the contest with five points.

The Juniors won three points, the sophomores two, and the freshmen took the loser's end of the purse taking one point.

The current entertainment season will start next Friday and Saturday with the presentation of two operettas in the high school auditorium.

The operetta, "The Indian Princess" and "The Toy Shop" are to be given by the pupils of the Riveria and Greenwood schools, respectively.

Rehearsals are progressing and the little youngsters have their parts in fine shape. The operettas are being staged under the supervision of Mrs. Dallas Green, musical director of the two schools.

Tigers in Spotlight. KANSAS CITY (By the Associated Press)—The Missouri Tigers hold the spotlight with the greatest lead in the Missouri valley.

Securing to victory over Coach Sluga's western conference eleven in Chicago Saturday, the Tigers established themselves as probably the most formidable aggregation in the valley on the basis of the season's first tests. They proved that Coach Gwinn Henry has built up for the conference struggle a powerful, co-ordinated machine, with a smashing offensive.

Three conference games on the schedule for this week and three valley teams play outside the conference. Next Saturday's games are: Washington vs. Grinnell at Grinnell. Kansas vs. Iowa State at Lawrence. Oklahoma vs. Nebraska at Norman. Missouri vs. Mississippi Wesleyan at Columbia. Drake vs. Knox college at Des Moines.
