

L. H. S. PLAYS ENTERPRISE THIS WEEK

Local Eleven Expected to Win by a Few Touchdowns, Barring Unforeseen Happenings.

(By SCOOP)
1922: Enterprise 6, La Grande 44.
1923: Enterprise 6, La Grande 79.
1924: Enterprise 7, La Grande 7.

La Grande high school is expected to win by a few touchdowns against the branch line county-seaters Saturday, principally on the strength of its showing against the alumni team a few days ago when the old grads were downed 18 to 0.

Enterprise high is stronger this year. It is believed, than at any time during the past few years—and a much tighter game is expected than either last year or year before.

To begin with, both Enterprises games (in '22 and '23) were played Thanksgiving day which had given La Grande a chance to hit its peak stride. This year the local team is still green.

Also Enterprise has more games behind it than the Tigers have. They defeated the alumni 7 to 4 and lost to Baker 18 to 0. Joseph held them to a tie.

In all likelihood the Blue and White gridiron representatives will be transported to Enterprise via automobiles, probably to leave either Friday afternoon or early Saturday morning.

Just how many men Mac Tavish is to take along is more or less of a mystery yet but it wouldn't be surprising to see about 20 local faces on the field and bench at the Wallawa county fair grounds at the end of the week.

Pendleton, playing without quarterback Hutton, took a sup of the bitter dregs of defeat at Yakima Saturday. But that doesn't mean anything. Yakima is supposed to have the strongest team they have mustered for years.

Hermiston lost to Walla Walla also, by a couple or three touchdowns, but is expected to be tough beef steak for the Buckaroos to chew on this week. Kennewick lost 20 to 3 to Hermiston and besides, Hermiston defeats Pendleton about every other year.

Union's showing at North Powder, where she lost 48 to 0, was disappointing. Since U. H. S. re-inaugurated football she has always had a team that was threat-

Who Wants to Be President?

Certainly little Billy Craig of New York doesn't. Billy is the mascot of the New York Giants, who have just won their fourth straight pennant, setting a new record. Billy knows all the players by their first names, gets to sit on the bench with McGraw, and doesn't have to pay a cent to see the big leaguers perform. Say, what's being president to a job like this, huh? Billy is posing with Jimmy O'Connell, outfielder, in the above picture.

oning and won quite a few of her games.

But this year all the big boys have graduated and a small team, practically composed of last year's second stringers, is on the field.

Couch Pitts, who is rated as a fair mentor, will have a hard task to push the Maroon and White into the win column.

By the way, the Giants, old war-worn battlers that they are, are finding the Capital City team managed by Stan Harris, just about as hard to down as any team could be.

McGraw's supposed master mind may be functioning but youth, also, must have its fling. And with the count tied, prior to today's game, it appears that the master mind isn't always the winner when it hits a bunch of clean, right livings, fighting Senators.

OREGON WILL MEET PACIFIC U. SATURDAY

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore. (Special)—The Oregon football team goes into its second game of the 1924 season Saturday, an unknown quantity. The varsity tangles with the strong and pointed Pacific aggregation, a team which in the past has been drilled by freshman teams of Oregon and O. A. U., but which in the past three years has come rapidly to the front in athletic circles and has been taking on members of the coast conference.

The Pacific Badgers are anxious to win from Oregon and it will take all that Maddock's team has to keep them from turning the trick. Pacific lost by a heavy margin to the Washington State eleven, but hope to change the situation as far as Oregon is concerned.

Secret Practice. Maddock and Spellman have been drilling their men behind closed gates for the past four or five days. Oregon won't be an entirely smooth running machine in the tilt with Pacific, but will go much better than in the near defeat contest with Willamette, September 27.

Both Maddock and Spellman are sticklers for fundamentals and have been giving their proteges regular drilling in these along with signal work. The reserve forces of the eleven are showing up much better and Maddock will be able to send good men into any vacancies.

Backfield material is abundant with more than two complete sets of backs. Sheddard, a distinctive quarterback from Baker, is doing some excellent generaling on the first string varsity and he is considered a starter in the Pacific contest.

It is likely that the Oregon men will give as many of their men as possible a chance to get into the game. The loss of Adolph, triple threat back, is a severe blow to the squad. Adolph was just beginning to get his kick away for good distances.

Oregon Heavy. Oregon will average about 170 pounds this year. The line should weigh in the neighborhood of 150 pounds this year, while the backfield tips the beam at 165. These figures may be altered, however, according to the men Maddock sends in. The average age of the Oregon team is 21 years, two years older than it has been for the past two seasons.

Following the Pacific tilt, Oregon plunges into a hard conference schedule, starting with Stanford and ending with the Oregon Aztecs, November 8. Then there will be one more game with the Multnomah club in Portland, November 29.

Jack Johnson Working For "Bob" La Follette

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Jack Johnson, former prize fighter, who recently announced that he had entered the Evangelistic field, addressed a La Follette and Wheeler political meeting here Monday night, but only after a second collection had been taken. Johnson spoke in the state armory before a gathering composed principally of negroes. When the first collection was taken the chairman announced Johnson would not appear unless more money was forthcoming and the hat was passed again. Johnson spoke for six minutes urging his auditors to vote for La Follette and Wheeler in November.

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, is speaking for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket at his own instance, G. Victor Coles, director of the negro neighborhood of the La Follette campaign, said.

"He told me he was going to support La Follette," the director said, "but he is not one of my bureau's speakers."

Sidelights

OF TUESDAY'S GAME (By the Associated Press) Landstrom, kid third sacker, showed his mettle under hot fire in the second inning. Blugie, Rust and Miller peppered twisting shots at him in succession but though Blugie beat out his tap, Landstrom retired the next two snappily and checked Washington with a brace of runners on the path.

The Giants don't like left-handers. That has been shown in the two games the Senators have won. Zachary stopped the Giants in Washington Sunday until the ninth and Mogridge, except for the generosity that led to his removal, hurried brilliantly Tuesday. His slow ball had the Giants breaking their backs awaiting or popping 'em up.

Goslin made up for the three hits of which he was robbed Monday by getting safe blows on all four trips to the plate Tuesday. When he drove the ball to the upper stands in the third for a home run he went by Frisch at second with a "try and rob me out of that one" attitude. . . . Virgil Barnes withstood a heavy bombardment before he faded from the picture. After getting safely by the first lining he was clouted for nine hits and five runs in the next four frames.

Mogridge had a perfect day at bat, striking out four successive times. He was under "traps" on his last trip to the plate and didn't move his bat off his shoulder until the count was three and two and then fished Dean's groover.

ASHLAND TO BUILD DAM. ASHLAND, Ore.—A preliminary survey of a possible site for the dam which will impound a water supply for this city will be made immediately, so that it can be completed before winter. This site is at a high elevation and the dam will be filled with snow in a short time. Ashland faced a severe water shortage during the previous summer and the council has decided to construct a dam in Ashland creek watershed, which furnished local city water.

Perfect Fitting is an Important Part of Our Service to You

Our careful attention to style correctness does not lessen the care we give to the fitting qualities of our shoes, as our customer-friends well know.

They also know that quality is assured in all of our shoes. Perhaps we should mention these facts more often; the only reason we don't is because these are such long-established features of our service that they are "habits" rather than "news."

BOY HUNTER MISSING

EUGENE, Ore.—William Scott, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Scott, pioneer settlers of the Blue river section of the upper McKenzie river district, disappeared from home Saturday and was believed to have perished in the mountains.

The boy, who is a student of the Blue River high school, took his revolver on the hunting trip. A searching party was organized.

Alleged Bribery Deal Unchanged, Says Landis

POLO GROUNDS, New York (By the Associated Press)—The case against Jimmy O'Connell and "Cozy" Dolan, members of the New York Giants, banished from baseball for their part in an attempted bribery deal remained unchanged Tuesday, Commissioner Landis announced after he had received a visit from each of the two players.

The commissioner denied that either of the two players who were accused of trying to get Heine Sand, Philadelphia shortstop, to throw a game for $500, had appealed their cases, but it was understood he informed them both he had no reason now to change the verdict which expelled them from the game a week ago.

According to the commissioner, Dolan's principal object in visiting him was to explain that when he told Landis "he didn't remember" in connection with O'Connell's confession, he, Dolan, knew nothing about the whole affair. Dolan has steadily denied implication in the affair, as charged by O'Connell.

The stuff that "champs" are made of Such popularity must be deserved

THERE'S no royal road to "stardom." How well the big stars of baseball know this. And in merchandising as in baseball, big success is scored only by deserving it. A product, too, must "deliver the goods."
