New Film Shows How a Policewoman Works.

The public has heard much in the past few years about women police. During this time the policewoman has become quite the vogue in the larger cities of the country where they cooperate with the plain clothes detectives and uniformed police in rounding up and taking care of women delinquents and criminals. They are much employed also in wiping out vice in the larger cities.

Thus while much is heard of them very little is ever seen of them by the public. Humorists and caricaturists have come to make the public believe they are big Amazon types, wearing blue and brass buttons and even a couple's regulation caps or helmets. But this is not the case in real life. They are generally plainly dressed and are women of tried judgment and from outward appearance are never to be identified as members of the police.

A good example of how they work and what they look like will be found in the forthcoming photoplay production which features the bill at the Sherry theater today. This picture is the latest vehicle starring Neva Gerber and is entitled "Dangerous Paths." Comely showing "Trotter Wool-stie."

"Sinners in Heaven,"
With Superlative
Cast, Coming Here.

The title of the new Paramount picture, "Sinners in Heaven," which is coming to the Star theater for a three day run beginning Friday has a distinctly paradoxical sound. It is safe to assume that the picture satisfactorily explains and justifies the title.

To those, however, who have read the story by Olive Ardor from which the picture was adapted by James Creelman and produced by Alan Crosland, the title has an especial significance and it is certain that they will appreciate its retention in the screen play.

"Sinners in Heaven" tells the story of a man and a girl who are through fate wrecked on a tropical island off the coast of Africa. Try to imagine what would happen if you found yourself stranded in some remote corner of the earth, apparently a million miles from any sign of civilization, and your only companion was a person whom you cordially disliked. This is the situation that confronts Barbara Stockley, the heroine, and you can readily understand the dynamic possibilities for riot drama when we tell you that the girl eventually falls in love with the man and marries him, there in the heart of the African desert. How the marriage is performed and what happens after that, we will let you discover for yourself.

With a combination of such box office favorites as Bibb Aunspaugh and Richard Dix who portray the two leading roles, surrounded by such likeable and well known players as Holmes Herriot, Mou-lague Love, Florence Hillman, Etta Shannon, Betty Hiburn and March Harris, the only fair thing to do is designate it as an all-star cast.

Make a note of the play date if you want to be amongst those present when "Sinners in Heaven" comes to town!

An American Melodrama Opening At Arcade Thursday.

The Paramount picture, "The Children's Children," a picturization of the famous novel by Arthur Train, will be the feature at the Arcade theater Thursday to remain for days. The story is a sensational American melodrama featuring Bebe Daniels, Dorothy Mackall, James Hennie and George Pawcett. It is the life story of three generations of a prominent New York family and has been produced in an unusually gripping and vivid manner. It is a tremendous Sam Wood production. In-
