

NEWS of SOCIETY

Perfect in every detail was the P. E. O. luncheon given at the country club Friday, October 17, under the direction of the social committee, of which Mrs. A. L. Richardson is chairman. The club colors, white and yellow, were carried out in the dining room and throughout the other rooms and the menu, served in Mrs. Richardson's usual excellent style, followed the color scheme.

By request of the members Mrs. A. L. Richardson, in her delightful manner, sang "Frees" by Rodolphe and "The Robin's Song" by White. She graciously responded to an encore with "Mr. Mr. Robin," by Katherine Glen, an Oregon composer. Mrs. Quimby, the state organizer, was the guest of honor and was presented with a beautiful corsage bouquet of roses. Flowers were also given to Mrs. Hunter, the president of Chapter 1, of the P. E. O. After a pleasant social hour all went to the home of Mrs. Richardson where the regular business meeting was held, followed by an exemplification of the ritual work for the benefit of the organizer. Mrs. Quimby gave a splendid talk, touching on many points of interest for the good of the order and particularly stressing the beauty of the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

A charming affair took place last evening when Mrs. Elmer McManus and Miss Myrtle Black entertained honoring Miss Volma Switzer, whose marriage to Earl Larson will be an event of next week. About twenty members of the younger set were present and at the close of the evening a two course luncheon was served. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Raymond Biggers and Mrs. Stanley Mills.

An October party was one of the main features of the opening evening of the Christian Endeavor convention being held here this week-end at the Presbyterian church. Approximately forty-five young people gathered last evening in the basement of the church and spent a very pleasant time getting acquainted with the visiting delegates in whose honor the party was arranged.

The rooms were artistically decorated with autumn leaves and flowers to correspond with the theme of the evening's entertainment, after which delicious refreshments were served.

A very interesting program has been arranged for Tuesday afternoon, October 21, at the regular meeting of the Neighborhood club, with Mrs. E. A. Eddins in charge. The subject to be discussed is "Early American Drama," featuring Brownson Howard's representative play "The Shenandoah." Mrs. Stella Ingle will tell the story of the first part of the play and

"Different" Cloaks

This new cloak, the latest from Paris, is of deep color tissue trimmed with imitation ermine. French designers say it is destined to be very popular this winter.

The last part will be presented under the able direction of Miss Lorna Coolidge, with the following cast: Miss Lorna Coolidge, Miss Bertha Walbridge, Miss Florence Thompson, Mrs. J. E. Woodell, Mrs. Clyde Seitz, Mrs. Walter Lelaman, Mrs. Chase Bohlenkamp, Mrs. Ethel Grady, Mrs. Chas. Moore and Mrs. G. L. Dutton.

The Island City Card club held their first meeting of the season last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunter, with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dobbins assisting as host and hostess. Seven tables were at play with Mrs. Albert Wardell winning high score for the ladies prize and A. D. Mitchell winning the gentlemen's prize.

Yellow marigolds were artistically used as decoration and during the evening a delicious two course luncheon was served.

The Parent-Teachers association of the Nevada school opened yesterday afternoon and the following program was enjoyed: Spanish dancer, Rose Nowlin and Donald Metcalf; song by Birdy Brande; piano; and, Edna Towery and Virginia Hager and a lecture by Rev. Elmer Grant Keith.

Nineteen new members were taken into the organization at this time making a total of fifty-two members. Following the program delicious refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting will be held at the Riverside chapel, on the evening of November 22. The meeting will be held in the evening so all parents can attend.

The Neighbors of Woodcraft, Circle number 47, are very busy getting ready for a rousing meeting Tuesday, October 22, when they will give a grand day. Minnie Hines will be here for the day. Beginning at two o'clock a large class will be taken through the mystery of Woodcraft and at six o'clock a four course dinner will be served. Six outside circles have been invited. At 7:30 o'clock the grand guardian will speak to the public. The meeting will take place at Honan hall and on the first time a grand guardian has honored the local circle a large attendance is urged to be present.

The Baptist Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Harry Williams Friday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in discussing the fall program to be held November 19 and 20 and after the regular business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Frank Jester will be hostess at the next meeting of the Aid.

The Westminster Guild will meet Monday, October 29, at the home of Miss Emily Snook, 1505

N avenue, with Miss Alice Snook assisting.

Union. — The marriage of Miss Gladys Bennett, formerly of High Valley, and Arthur L. Brown, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, occurred at San Diego, California, October 8, 1924, at 8 o'clock p. m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bennett, formerly of High Valley, this county. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Brown, of Council Bluffs, and has been in Oregon for the past two years, going to California from Salem. The many friends of the bride in eastern Oregon will wish them the greatest measure of happiness in the new life they have entered. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are residing at 1021 Tenth street, San Diego.

Union. — On Tuesday evening a farewell party was given at the latter Day Saints church in honor of Francis Halling and Willie Baxter, who left Wednesday morning on mission work, to be gone two, possibly two and a half years. They go to the Northern States Mission with headquarters at Chicago. They will visit in Idaho and at Salt Lake a short time before beginning their eastern journey. Francis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Halling and Willie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baxter, well known families of Union. The young men graduated from Union high school in 1923, and are well fitted for the work assigned to them, and they will be followed by the good wishes of a host of Union friends. — Weekly Republican.

The Stake M. L. A. Board gave Mrs. Jack Hiatt a delightful surprise party Wednesday evening, when about twelve ladies went to her home and spent the evening in social entertainment. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served.

HUNT'S LETTER

Students of the effect of the senate over matter will crowd the senate galleries to watch the physical and emotional reaction on Dawes as Caraway slips his knife through the Republican cuttle and proceeds to lay bare the carcass beneath. Caraway, carved with a restless hand which has pricked the sensibilities of much more repressed men than Dawes.

Can "Hell-ah-Maria" Dawes, in such a situation, be expected to follow the tradition of vice presidential ethics? No stage drama will have anything on the tenseness of that time. Repressed emotion might bring on an apoplexy. Unleashed emotion would bring real fireworks.

On the other hand, should the Davis-Bryan band wagon bring the Democratic candidate to Washington, consider for a moment the agony of soul and spirit that would be at the heart of the man who in his chair and sought the privilege of recognition from "Brother Charles!"

Next to laying to appeal on bonded knees to the council of the League of Nations for permission to run for re-election, one might think of no other so bitter, no humiliation quite so complete, as for this blue-blooded dean of the senate aristocracy, long the sage and intellectual leader in the upper house, to be compelled to address this newswoman from Nebraska: "If the president please." There, indeed, would be a real drama of soul, or melodrama.

In either case, whether Bryan or Dawes presides in the Sixty-ninth senate, there will be on the floor a thorn in the side of either or both parties as the situation may decree. La Follette and Wheeler.

They will be there as senators unless one of them is there as a presiding officer while the other sits at the White House. Suspense? Human Interest? Drama?

That's what Washington is going to be full of nothing else but, as Tom Heflin would say.

HINTS TO MOTORISTS

The matter of dimming the headlights of a car commands a space in this column. When a driver has his lights dimmed and meets another car that has glaring headlights everything is blind to each man with the dim lights until after he gets out of the rays of the approaching car's lights. Very serious accidents have occurred from this cause and all drivers should help to eliminate them, particularly when it is so easily obtained. — ALONZO G. DUNN, La Grande traffic officer.

CHURCH NEWS

CHRISTIAN CHURCH — Walter Myers of Eugene Bible University, who is in our city in attendance as chief lecturer of the Christian Endeavor Convention, will preach the sermon at the morning service. Mr. Myers is Professor of Religious Pedagogy in the university and is known over the state for his work and preaching. You will enjoy hearing him. There will be no evening preaching service on account of the Endeavor session at the Presbyterian church. Mr. Myers will speak at this service on "Witnessing for Christ in the Church." Bible School meets at 9:45. A class for everyone. We want you there. — O. W. Jones, minister.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH — "The House of Cheer." "I believe in God" and "Keeping the Heart" are the themes in the series on "God and the Heart," now running at the First Methodist church and being delivered by the pastor. The first theme will furnish the subject for the morning service and the second will be used at the 7:30 p. m. service of worship. The church school is better organized than for a long time and will open at 9:45 with the piano introduction. The adult classes will meet at their usual places. The Men's Forum will be addressed by Principal Towler of the high school, and all men not otherwise in Bible classes at 10 a. m. are invited to meet with the Forum. The regular choir will sing at the morning service of worship. Paul Knautz will render a solo and the music will be led in the evening by a men's chorus. The Epworth League meets at 6:30 in the parlor.

Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. Preaching by the pastor at 7:30 p. m. Subject: "Faith Made Perfect by Conduct." After President Coolidge, in his address at the unveiling of the monument of Francis Asbury in Washington, D. C. this week, said what he did about the place of religion in our national and community life, can any man be loyal to the best in his community or nation and not take his place in the life of some church? For a vital Christianity outside a church is unknown. Make your church home with us.
