PROGRAM IS READY FOR ROAD FETE

when a few moments' time will be allotted for those who must leave.

The Program in Detail.

The dedicatory program is constituted as follows:

Elmer L. Stoddard, president Chamber of Commerce, presiding. Brief outline of road program in Union county, by the chairman.

The last link in the Oregon Trail, save one, an official of the highway commission.

The Old Oregon Trail and its relation to travel, Walter E. Meacham, president Old Oregon Trail association.

The future road program in Union county, County Judge U. G. Couch.

La Grande's new tourist artery, Dr. H. S. Brownton, president of the City of La Grande.

Presentation of Gangloff park to pioneers, Mrs. Lee Bouvy, assisted by Maryetta Foley and Joan Bouvy.

Response, Hon. Dunham Wright, president Union County Pioneer association.

Response, Mrs. Julius Boesch, president Sons & Daughters of Union County pioneers.

Adjournment.

All Talks Brief.

These speeches are all limited to 5 minutes or less and will be interwoven with Chamber of Commerce quartet music.

The luncheon hour will be signalized with two speeches, chief of which will be a talk by Roy Klein, chief engineer of the highway commission, and a few remarks by Judge Duby, chairman of the highway commission.

In the event of exceedingly rough weather, the luncheon will be served in the I. O. O. F. hall, but the weather will have to be extremely severe to compel the change. The feeling among chamber of commerce officials and members is that a little bad weather will only add to the zest of the occasion. However, excellent weather is forecasted.

Reserve Flots Today.

The pioneers themselves will be guests of the chamber, and will be seated in automobiles conveniently near the speakers' stand during the ceremony, so that they will be comfortable even in bad weather. Seats will be provided for all others. Anyone other than actual pioneers wishing to join the noon-day luncheon are cordially invited, but all such should reserve their plates with Earl Reynolds this evening, and the pay plan is dutch treat.

The highway is to be closed between the hours of 12:20 and 12:45 o'clock and between 1 and 2 o'clock. This includes all traffic Cars will be stopped at the hospital if in violation of the rules. Traffic will be detoured by way of the old road.

All pioneers are also asked to register at the chamber of commerce office in the Sommer building. The present list of pioneers is incomplete and with many of them to be in town tomorrow, it is felt that it would be an appropriate time to secure a complete registration. All pioneers who do not have the opportunity to register tomorrow are asked to do so at the first opportunity that presents itself.

ENFORCING LIQUOR LAW EVERY DAY

quors, wine, etc., have been seized during the last three years. A total 11,677 automobiles and 441 boats and launches have been captured.

During this period more than 138,260 criminal cases have been taken to federal courts. Of this number over 120,000 have been terminated, resulting in more than 94,300 convictions.

"Thousands of other cases have been turned into local courts, of which there is no complete record. Fines of nearly $15,000,000 have been imposed, over $12,500,000 of which has actually been collected and turned into the United States Treasury. Last year alone the fines, forfeitures, etc., imposed totaled over $7,000,000, of which more than $5,000,000 has already been collected. In addition, about $1,000,000 was paid by brewers during the year in compromise of civil liabilities. Tax penalty figures are not yet compiled, but will swell the total collection considerably.

"The injunction or 'padlock' is another effective weapon. Injunction cases have been instituted in both federal and state courts since July, 1922, over 4,000 such cases have been instituted. In more than 2,200 cases injunctions were granted, over 2,650 of which have been made permanent. Particular attention has been devoted to securing injunctions in brewery cases. About 150 such cases have been instituted against breweries. Of those granted, 75 have been made permanent, and 28 breweries have been actually closed.

"Many important cases have been prosecuted under the provisions of the criminal code for conspiracy to violate the law. The heaviest penalty ever imposed in any one case was for conspiracy and involved a fine of $21,000 and a sentence of 20 years in jail.

"A well organized permit system has effectually curbed the leak from bonded warehouses. There has been a reduction in withdrawals of about 7,000,000 gallons from that in 1921, the first fiscal dry year. Although more industrial alcohol is being used legitimately now than ever, due to expansion in the volume of legitimate alcohol-using industries, diversions to the bootleg trade are decreasing. It is estimated that less than 10 per cent of the entire production is involved in illegal transactions, a substantial quantity of which is later seized and destroyed.

"An extreme reduction in the use of medicinal wines as beverages has resulted from medicating the wine, rendering medicinal preparations containing wine unfit for beverage use. Withdrawals of wine during the last year were only a little over 4,000,000 gallons, over half of which was used for sacramental purposes.

"Only about 12 per cent of the applications for importation of wine during the last year were approved, all of which was for medicinal or manufacturing purposes. The practice of smuggled exported whiskey back into this country has been practically eliminated by curtailing exportation. Of the applications for exportation of whiskey in the amount of over 4,400,000 gallons during the last year, only about 4 per cent were approved, and none of the whiskey shipped to Canada."

Obituary

C. H. ERWIN

PORTLAND, Ore. (Special) — Charles H. Erwin, pioneer railroad man in the northwest, who began his career with the old O. R. & N. company when its railroad was built east from Portland to The Dalles, died here at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. L. Corey, 241 East Fifty-first street, early yesterday morning. Death was due to a complication of causes and hastened through a hemorrhage of the brain.

Up until 12 years ago, when Mr. Erwin retired from railroad work to enter private business at Colfax, Wash., he had served in practically every division for the Union Pacific in the northwest. He was station agent at Baker, The Dalles, Colfax and many other of the larger stations during his period of service. In 1912 he retired from railroad service to engage in the grocery business at Colfax, but was forced to retire six years ago, due to ill health.

Mr. Erwin came to Oregon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Erwin in 1868, where they settled at Silverton. He was born in Thorald, Canada, in 1850. Mrs. Erwin who was a daughter in the James Wheelhouse family, one of the pioneer families of Klickitat, Wash., died in 1919. Funeral services for Mr. Erwin will be held Wednesday at the Congregational church, in Colfax, Wash. Mr. Erwin was a member of the Colfax Masonic lodge and of El Katif temple of Shriners at Spokane.

Surviving are two sons, C. W. Erwin of Union and R. H. Erwin of this city, a daughter, Mrs. W. L. Corey of this city, a sister, Mrs. L. E. Allen of Hollywood, Cal., and a brother, W. F. Erwin of Sherwood, Ore.

A Buddhist temple of Boro-Budur in Java is being restored and preserved by the Dutch government. The temple is supposed to have been erected in that country during the eighth or ninth century when the Buddhist kings were in power. Mohammedan rule was established there during the tenth century and since that time the temple has been in a process of decay.

In twenty-five years, according to estimates the population of the United States will be 150,000,000.

According to a report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, 42,919,000 acres of land will be sown to winter wheat this autumn. This will be an increase of 2,500,000 acres over last year.

Senate Probers Leave Chicago for Washington

also will be interrogated as to the amount and the source of funds which John M. Nelson, field marshal for Senator Robert M. La Follette, told the committee he underpending on its own initiatives in behalf of the candidacy of the independent presidential candidate.

At the outset, however, the inquiry at Washington will be centered around La Follette's charges of a Republican "slush" fund, and with that end in view, subpoenas have been issued for Joseph R. Grundy, a Bristol, Pa., yarn manufacturer and chairman of the ways and means committee of the Republican national committee; Edward T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia; Nathan T. Folwell, treasurer of the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, and other witnesses from that city and from Washington.

Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City will be present as personal counsel for Senator La Follette and has asked the opportunity to cross examine witnesses. He expects to have associated with him Samuel Untermyer of New York, a supporter of the Democratic national ticket.

Grundy to Be Questioned.

Grundy is to be questioned particularly with reference to letters sent out by him to the "citizens of Pennsylvania" in which he asked for the contribution of "every possible dollar" to the campaign fund and indicated that the money was designed for use in other states especially in the northwest, regarded as a La Follette stronghold.

Stotesbury will be called for examination on the basis of reports that he was named chairman of a bankers' committee to collect funds from banking interests for use in supporting the Coolidge-Dawes ticket and in "heading off" the La Follette movement. According to information reaching Senator La Follette, the appointment was made at the recent convention here of the American Bankers' association.

In addition to the Philadelphia and Washington witnesses, La Follette has asked that several persons be called from Kansas City for questioning as to whether there is an organized movement for the collection of two separate funds

BEAVERS MAY CHANGE HANDS

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—It was reported here Saturday night, that Tom L. Turner, scout for the Portland baseball team of the Pacific Coast league, and John T. Shibe, part owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, had obtained an option for the purchase of the Portland baseball club. The deal, it was said, would be closed early next week. The reported price for the club franchise and the Portland holdings, which included the baseball park, was three hundred thousand dollars. William Klepper, president of the Portland baseball club, and principal owner, refused to comment on the report.

one by the bankers and the other by the business men generally. He also has requested that several financiers and others in New York be subpoenaed for examination along the same lines.

Whether the Kansas City and New York witnesses will be called will depend largely upon the extent and nature of the information elicited from the Philadelphia and Washington men.

BUTLER STRIKES AT LA FOLLETTE'S PARTY

CHICAGO. (AP) — Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican national committee, Sunday night made public a statement setting forth his views on the senate inquiry into campaign expenditures.

He said his committee would willingly cooperate, and, he added, he hoped that the senate committee would extend its investigating to the funds being raised by opponents.

Mr. Butler's statement said.

"Since the senatorial investigating committee has decided to continue hearings into campaign funds I want to say once more that the Republican national committee willingly cooperates in producing such information as is desired.

"We hope that the committee will go into the matter of the funds raised by our opponents as well. On September 5, in Milwaukee, Wis., 100 La Follette leaders held a meeting and decided to raise $500,000 in that state. Among those present were Herman Ekern, attorney general, who presided; Governor John J. Blaine and State Treasurer Sol. Levitan. This $500,000 was to be apportioned to various congressional districts, each one of eight districts raising $43,000, and three congressional districts, the Third, Fourth and Fifth, each raising $55,000. Proportionately, that fund for Wisconsin was much larger than that proposed by certain Republicans in Pennsylvania. I can only hope that the third party managers have been more successful in filling their quotas than we have.

"The Republican party has no objections to the raising of funds for the third party candidates by such gigantic organizations as the American Federation of Labor or the railroad brotherhoods. But such funds must of necessity become the subject of inquiry by the senatorial committee if it is to continue hearings of this stripe."
