Hapsburgs Gather in Germany To Discuss Family Fortunes

LINDAU, Germany, (AP) — A gathering of nearly all the 60 living members of the Hapsburg family took place here recently, almost unnoticed by the world. Hapsburgers from many countries assembled in a local hotel. Archduke Friedrich, former commander-in-chief of the Austro-Hungarian army, presided at the meeting.

Friedrich, with his wife, son and six daughters came from Budapest. Archduke Eugen came from Basle, and his sister Marie-Christine, mother of the King of Spain, from Madrid. She had visited ex-empress Zita at Lequitio, Spain, before she left to beseech Zita's approval of the meeting. According to the law of the house of Hapsburg, to which the family still adheres, Zita is the head of the family and has authority over all its members.

"Just as we now give a harmless anesthetic to an individual for a surgical operation, so we may be able in the future to put a whole nation to sleep for 48 hours by a combination of new chemical discoveries with radio-controlled, maniless airplanes."—Major General Squier, signal corps expert, United States army.

"The Alaskan," Starring Tom Meighan, Coming to Star.

Wantonly violating the sanctity of a mother's grave, John Graham laid the foundation of a mighty hatred. Upon this incident is based the story of Thomas Meighan's latest starring vehicle, "The Alaskan," which Willis Goldbeck adapted from James Oliver Curwood's famous novel of the same name. Local movieites will soon have the opportunity of seeing America's favorite male star in the greatest picture of his screen career, as the photoplay is scheduled to open a three day's run at the Star theatre Friday.

Produced for Paramount by Herbert Brenon, "The Alaskan" is said to be the star's outstanding success as an out-door picture. The entire company was transported to the wilds of Alberta and British Columbia where all of the exterior scenes were filmed.

Featured in the cast chosen to support Thomas Meighan are Estelle Taylor, John Sainpolis, Charles Ogle, Frank Campeau and Anna May Wong.

"The Alaskan" is founded upon a conflict between native-born Alaskans, sons of the gold-rush pioneers, and the powerful financial interests which strove to gain control of Alaskan industries.

Laughs Galore In Sherrys Show, "Try and Get It."

Take the advice of one who sees many pictures, food, bad and indifferent, and witness "Try and Get It." It is Bryant Washburn's first production "on his own." It was directed by Cullen Tate and in the cast are Billie Dove, Lionel Belmore, Edward Horton, Joseph Kilgour, Mme. Rose Dolne, Carl Stockdale and Hazel Deane.

The reason we say go and see it, is because it has more hearty, wholesome laughs than you could "shake a stick at."

Real spontaneous humor is not as common as one might expect on the screen today. But here is that very thing, in large doses. Then there is a very pretty love story—and for the women, fashions galore. A whole revue is staged in the finest set, a modiste shop—that we have seen in any picture.

You are going to be sorry if you miss this one.

Comedy showing "Just a Minute."

Feeble Minded Girl Is Unharmed by Indians.

A curious bit of reasoning on the part of cruel Indians is interestingly revealed in "Leatherstocking," the new ten-chapter Pathe serial featuring Edna Murphy and Harold Miller which is showing Saturday matinee only of every week at the Sherry theater. This film drama is an adaptation of Cooper's famous Leatherstocking Tales, directed by George B. Seitz.

One of the unique characters in the story is Hetty Hutter, the feeble minded daughter of Tom Hutter, ex-pirate and freebooter. Hetty had no fear of the hostile Indians who surrounded her father's property. But the strange part of the matter was that the redmen would never hurt Hetty because they believed that being feeble minded, she was under the protection of the "Great Spirit."

Lillian Hall, beautiful young screen star, is said to give a truly remarkable performance as Hetty Hutter, one that will win her a place in the heart of every movie fan.

Takes Scenes at Circus for "Boy of Mine."

A genuine circus, one of the biggest and most famous, was used as a background for some of the scenes of "Boy of Mine," which I. K. McDonald produced for First National, and which is now being shown at the Arcade theater.

The scenes were "shot" during the visit to Los Angeles of "the greatest show on earth."

Ben Alexander, the First National boy star, who was "Penrod" in "Penrod and Sam" was the hero of them all.

"Boy of Mine," which like "Penrod and Sam," is a picturization of a Booth Tarkington story, centers around the life of a typical American boy, a part played by Ben. Humorous incidents in the picture have to do with his visit to the circus.

That the circus people would reflect the true atmosphere of a circus, J. K. McDonald sought permission to "shoot" his scenes during a Saturday afternoon matinee. The privilege was granted and the unit was moved bag and baggage to the circus lot.
