Edmund Cobb At Sherrys in Two-Fisted Drama.

What would you do if you were the son of the biggest cattle man in the west and your father's interests were menaced by the advance of sheep men into your territory? If you were sent by him to settle the feud existing between his men and the sheep men, and you suddenly found yourself in love with the daughter of your father's arch-enemy? This is the situation which confronts Edmund (Two-Fisted) Cobb in Western Feuds, the latest picture to be shown at the Sherry theatre today only. Surely such a situation would try the resources of the most capable. How this is worked out in a manner satisfactory to both great interests and likewise satisfactory to the lovers, makes one of the most interesting western pictures seen in a long time.

"True as Steel" Showing at Sherrys For Three Days.

With one of the most brilliant screen casts of the year "True as Steel," the latest production of the noted author-director, Rupert Hughes, opens at the Sherry theatre on Sunday for three days. Allen Pringle, who has become an all-star leading figure through her work in the leading role in "Three Weeks," plays the central figure in "True as Steel," as Mrs. Boutelle, a successful business woman.

Opposite her is the popular stage and screen leading man, Huntley Gordon, who came to Hollywood a short time ago, and since then has played opposite Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri, Myrtle Stedman and other famous stars. Norman Kerry and Cleo Madison, the first as the insolent husband of Miss Pringle, the second as the matronly wife of Gordon, add their usual finished performances to the picture.

Louise Fazenda, famous comedienne, adds a touch of comedy to the production in the role of the stenographer. Eleanor Boardman, Raymond Hatton, William H. Crane, William Haines, Lucien Littlefield and other complete the cast. Comedy showing "One Stormy Night."

Prize Title Story Coming to the Arcade Monday.

You've heard loads about "The Story Without a Name," now see it for yourself on the screen. Agnes Ayres and Antonio Moreno are featured in the leading roles of the new Irwin Willat Paramount production, "The Story Without a Name," which will be shown next Monday at the Arcade theatre.

The story is an adaptation by Victor Irlin of the Photoplay Magazine Radio-Prize-Story. Arthur Stringer, author of Gloria Swanson's picture, "Manhandled," and also the Paramount production, "Empty Hands," wrote the story which is one of the biggest screen novellas seen in many a long day.

"The Story Without a Name" is a gripping melodrama crammed full of plot-mel action. It is the tale of a young inventor and his "death ray" which is destined to open the eyes of the world.

The "death ray" and the radio are both features of this new eagerly awaited by fans all over the country—fans who participated in the magazine contest for selecting a title for the picture—fans who heard of the contest and the picture that was to come when it was broadcast from the sixty odd radio stations throughout the U. S.—all fans in general, in fact.

Playing in support of the principals in "The Story Without a Name" is a great cast which includes Tyrone Power, Dagmar Godowsky, Louis Wolheim, Ivan Linow, Maurice Costello, Jack Bohm and other players prominent on both stage and screen.

If you're looking for thrills, by all means see "The Story Without a Name."

Beautiful Girls Featured in Arcade Vaudeville Offering.

Vaudeville in its glory, consisting of novel ideas, plenty of beautiful girls, lots of fast and snappy songs and dances and no end of comedy, will be seen at the Arcade theatre on Sunday.

A real treat are the Aerial Hawaiians presenting "Pastimes in the Tropics," an aerial novelty amid tropical settings—something entirely different from other acts of this nature.

Bergor & Rose, a comedy pair, appear in a side-splitting skit called "Gimme a Dime."

Queen Tut Trio offers a novelty musical act in Oriental costumes of the days of King Tut.

Leonard Kane, the dancing Adonis, illustrates the poetry of motion in a manner that will charm and captivate the audience.

Lo. F. Yeo & Potter, two well known comedians with tricky bit-eyes do everything but talk.

Village Church Keeps Treasure Despite Larc of American Gold

LONDON (AP)—As a contribution to English national pride and the wide feeling that English art treasures should be kept in the country, the wardens of the little village church of Lymington have retained their decision to sell a 400-year-old tapestry to an American buyer.

The tapestry which depicts the marriage of Henry VII and Elizabeth of York, has hung in the church for 40 years and is beginning to feel the effect of the musty stone walls. The church council, therefore, decided to accept the offer of $25,000 made by an American, but their action so aroused the villagers and the rest of England, for that matter, that they now plan to spend a little money in having the piece renovated and put in a glass case.

Four Men Dory Pacific In Thirty-Two Foot Boat

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Aboard a 32-foot boat four men from this city have set out on a cruise across the Pacific with Honolulu as their destination. The cruise was planned by Karl Rathfon, an experienced navigator of small craft, and his boat is the Idle Hour.
