HUSKIES LEAD IN VICTORIES

BUCKS TACKLE THE DALLES

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore. (Special)—Oregon and Washington teams will meet for the nineteenth time Saturday in the big Homecoming game on Hayward field. In the eighteen games played between the two institutions, Washington has scored eight victories, as against seven for Oregon. Three games resulted in ties. The Oregon team with Saturday's game, the count will be even, eight victories each.

In the eighteen games played Oregon has scored 388 points, to 372 rolled up by the Huskies. Oregon took the first contest in 1906 by a 43 to 0 score, the largest ever registered against the Washingtons. The two institutions did not meet in 1911 and 1922. In 1923 the Washington team scored a one-point victory, 6 to 5. Then followed a series of Oregon wins with the exception of a tie game in 1925. With Gilmore Doble as its coach, Washington won all games from 1925 to 1924.

While La Grande high school has no game scheduled for Saturday—in fact none until the Homecoming November 11th, several other teams in Eastern Oregon will play crucial games.

Probably the most important one will be at Pendleton when The Dalles will tangle with the Bucks in Round-Up park. Both teams have gone through the season without being defeated by an Oregon team. The Dalles team has been scored on and the only loss Pendleton's and the was traced was in the Hermiston game, with the Bucks won 34 to 6.

Then Baker will play at Prineville and Union at Hermiston. Both games should be anyone's game until the final whistle.

Today North Powder is playing at Wallawa and Pilot Rock at Athena.

1916 Game Remembered.

Those who have followed football and the great game between the two state institutions was in 1916 when the teams battled on a muddy field to a 6 to 6 tie. That year Oregon went to Pasadena, Calif., for an inter-collegiate game and triumphed over the great Washington team.

In 1918, 1919 and 1920 Oregon won the series. In 1922 the teams staged a hard battle in Seattle which resulted in a 2 to 2 score. Last year the Huskies won 26 to 7, in a hard contest. The Oregon team, shattered with injuries, put up a great fight.

Washington favorite.

At present the weather and the condition of the playing field in Eugene give the Washington eleven a decided advantage due to the greater weight of the invaders. The field today is a sea of mud. A stubborn fight is all that will save Oregon from being scored on.

The advance scout aide, according to Graduate Manager Benefield, indicates that at least 12,000 persons will be at the game. Visitors who have not obtained tickets will still may obtain them in Eugene at Chalk's cigar store, Larway's music store, the University Co-operative store and the office of the graduate manager on the campus.

off of doubtful states to a vigorous contender for leadership in the state, Mr. Davis might be credited with Oklahoma, West Virginia and Maryland, which would increase his electoral poll 26 votes making him a total of 165.

Coolidge Lead Heavy

Granting the Democratic and Progressive candidates these states where President Coolidge is leading by a narrow plurality, it would leave the president 327 electoral votes with 266 required for election to the executive chair.

On a special day which The Digest has prepared from the final figures of its record-breaking poll, 25 states are marked: Republican, 12 Democratic, 1 Progressive, and 2 doubtful. A special table showing the official returns by states in the Harding-Cox election of 1920 is also presented.

"Here are the final figures," states The Digest, in summation of its poll, "presented in the spirit of non-partisanship, and designed to get at all sides of a complex question, which The Digest among other American periodicals, has made peculiarly its own.

Cal Had Majority.

"Briefly," Mr. Coolidge receives more votes than all his opponents put together, and Mr. La Follette receives a slightly larger popular vote than goes to Mr. Davis.

"The Digest does not predict the election of Mr. Coolidge. It presents its findings, however, for the honesty and general accuracy of its poll, and leaves its readers to draw their own conclusions.

"On the basis of the present Digest poll, even allowing the widest margin of error, which may or may not be proved, it will be seen that the totals seem to point to the probability that Mr. Coolidge will receive the electoral vote of a sufficient number of states to ensure his election.

"There are strong claims that Mr. La Follette will carry both Minnesota and Iowa, and The Digest's figures do not indicate this. Minnesota's ballots have shown a consistent margin for Mr. Coolidge throughout the balloting. Iowa seems to be even more strongly for the president.

California Wavering.

"California, however, has from the first shown a strong sentiment for the Wisconsin candidate, and therefore, in spite of the fact that the present vote is 76,736 for President Coolidge to 65,169 for Senator La Follette, the state is marked doubtful.

"North and South Dakota, where the Non-partisan League had its origin, are also put into the doubtful column because of the La Follette strength shown there.

"Whatever arguments the Democrats have advanced for considering that The Digest's poll favors Republican aspirants would apply, of course, quite as well to La Follette, and in admitting that La Follette's showing makes the vote of California, Nevada, and North and South Dakota somewhat doubtful, The Digest is following a policy of giving the benefit of the doubt to the Progressive forces. Similar doubts, on account of Democratic strength, are admitted in the case of Oklahoma, West Virginia, and Maryland.

"Sur of One State.

"With these doubtful states eliminated, it will be seen that La Follette, at least according to the opinion expressed by voters in the Digest poll, is sure of carrying only the single state of Wisconsin.

"On the other hand, there is some indication that, in the popular vote, he may pass the Democratic candidate, Wisconsin counting 13 electoral votes.

"The states credited to Mr. Davis—Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas—cast a total of 139 electoral votes.

"Granting Mr. Davis the doubtful states of Oklahoma, West Virginia and Maryland, the Davis total would be 142 votes.

"Granting Mr. La Follette the state of Wisconsin together with the other states in which his strength is considerable—North Dakota, South Dakota, Nevada and California—his total electoral vote would amount to 25.

"The electoral vote of Mr. Coolidge, according to these calculations, would represent the difference between the total Davis-La Follette vote, and 251, the total vote of the Electoral College.

"Mr. Davis' vote of 142 plus Mr. La Follette's vote of 25, a total of 167 votes, subtracted from the total electoral vote of 531, would leave Mr. Coolidge with an electoral vote of 364. The number of electoral votes necessary to elect is 270.

"It must be emphasized, as has frequently been pointed out, that The Digest did not ask about the politics of the poll system, but only how they voted in 1924.

Vote Fair.

"Hundreds of thousands of Democrats voted the Republican ticket in that year. Therefore, it can not be said that, on the basis of The Digest's figures, so many voters went to Republicanism, so many to Democracy, but only that the distribution was between those who voted the Democratic and the Republican tickets in 1920, whatever their essential politics.

"It appears, also, that in the important matter of drift, as between Republican and Democratic since 1920, there has not been a great deal of change.

"That is to say, the growth of Mr. La Follette's strength, which may give him a larger popular vote than Mr. Davis in the coming election, has been drawn with a fair amount of equality from the two old parties, and has not greatly distinguished their proportionate standing in of four years ago.

"The final figures presented this week show a total favor by more than a quarter of a million votes than the next largest poll. The Digest's "straw-vote" on the Mellon plan, taken early this year.

"The total vote for the 1924 present poll was more than 15 per cent, on the total number of ballots sent out, as against an average return of about 12 per cent, for national polls.

Oregon Vote.

Final returns from Oregon: Coolidge 14,475; Davis 5,219; La Follette 8,762; Park 162; Foster 65; Nations 236; Wallace 111; Johns 50; Total for state 27,574.

In 1920 the returns were: Republican 29,252; Democrat 6,122; Socialist 211; Farm Labor 142; Prohibition 62; Had not vote 4,299.

The total vote for the 1924 state follows: Coolidge 14,475; Davis 60,410; La Follette 28,524; Park 1,622; Foster 474; Nations 12,244; Wallace 1,174; Johns 494; Total 258,022.

The total vote in 1920 (straw vote) was: Republican 1,527,722; Democrat 446,842; Socialist 15,742; Farm Labor 2,592; Prohibition 2,042; Had not vote 445,022; Total 2,558,022.
