OFFICE CAT

 MORE QUESTIONS
 Dear Junius: Which is the most important — a man's wife or his trousers?
 Answer: Well, there's a lot of places a man can go without his wife.

Dear Office Cat: My mother's Irish, my father's Italian and my father-in-law's Jewish. What can I do?
 Answer: Join the league of nations.

Elections may come and elections may go but the American greenback has more supporters than all of the candidates put together.

Many citizens, called prominent, have little time to do anything else.

The boy who thinks his parents don't understand him is right. If they did he wouldn't be able to sit down half of the time.

Yesterday a man was reading a newspaper on Adams Avenue to a couple of married women. "You'd better go to Reform School for Being Unmanageable" was one headline he read and then—both women exclaimed, "how does my husband manage to keep out of jail?"

"Excuse me, please, I'm going to Peddle Eggs," he called. Who says the world is going to the dogs.

And, in closing today, Junius wishes to caution all you who have a little barrel of apple cider in your home, to be careful that it doesn't turn hard and knock you for a row of boughs.

step between me and death." The church was filled with mourning friends of the young man and the family. He was a member of the American Legion of Eight and the members, in uniform, conducted the services at the cemetery.

The young man met his death while on duty as brakeman on a logging train, which became unmanageable, and jumping the tracks, buried Mr. Graham under 20 loads of logs. It required seven hours' labor to remove the

CLAUDE C. PRATT

That sure makes me feel mighty good. A farmer said to himself as he drove away with a big load of building material, patting himself on the back for being such a fortunate man. I saved enough money from buying from the Claude C. Pratt Lumber company to buy his wife a brand new auto. Nails, $1.95; base, 10 log lots, $2.40 and $2.65.

Obituary

WILLIAM COUCH
 GARDNER, Wash. (Special)—William H. Couch, aged 59, one of the best known grain buyers of the Inland Empire, died here October 28th from heart disease, after an illness of two years. The last three months he had been confined to his home and two weeks ago he went to bed. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, a son, two sisters, Mrs. M. L. Carter, La Grande, and Mrs. J. E. Robertson, Portland, and three brothers, James U. G. Couch, La Grande, and John Couch and L. Couch, Wallawa.

Mr. Couch had been in the employ of the Northern Grain company 15 years, most of the time at Gardfield. He was born in Linn county, Missouri, and came to the Grande Ronde valley when but a boy. He was a member of the Christian church, the Old Folks, Rebekahs, Artisans and the Eastern Star, and was a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner. He belonged to the Spokane Consistory and Shrine. The funeral was held from the Christian church Thursday, the Rev. Fred Allen Hutton, former pastor and life-long friend, officiating. Masons had charge of the services at the grave.

ERNEST GRAHAM
 FLAGG, Ore. (Special)—Funeral services for Ernest Graham were held at the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. William Crosby Ross, of the Presbyterian church of La Grande, preached a very fitting sermon, taking for his text the words of David, "There is but a

The Show Place of Champions

The Pacific International Livestock Exposition, organized but a scant fourteen years ago, is today the largest general livestock show in America, rivaling the National at Chicago in its horse, beef cattle and swine exhibits and even surpassing in many respects the National Dairy Show.

Here under one great roof covering 10 acres, world's livestock champions and other notable stock come from many distant states to compete for premiums totaling $50,000. This year's show combines:

- Gigantic Livestock Exposition
- Dairy Products Show
- Land Products Show
- Northwest Hay and Grain Show
- Western Winter Poultry Show
- Night Horse Show
- Industrial Exhibits
- Daily Auction of Dairy and Beef Stock

Over 125,000 people attended last year, availing themselves of the opportunities offered for studying the ways and means of profitable livestock raising in the West. Why not attend yourself this year and then talk over the matter of bettering and increasing your own livestock with us here at the La Grande National Bank? You will never find us lacking in encouragement and assistance.

Are You Patriotic? Then Vote!

On November 4th a National Presidential Election will be held in the United States. The only right way to select a President (and other executives) is for everyone to signify his or her choice. Consider it a sacred duty to your country to go to the polls and cast your vote.

Fred Boalt's Comparison

The Portland News recently contained the following fearful comparison of appreciation for prominent characters in different lines of work. Just what mood Fred Boalt, the News editor, was in when he wrote the article is hard to determine, but the facts contained are not to be overlooked:

Professor Adolph Spitzmeister, famous the world over as the man who first isolated the germs of Jerusalem plump and household's lice, thereby saving more lives than have been destroyed in all the wars of history, was a Portland visitor yesterday.

Professor Spitzmeister delivered a lecture of vital interest to an audience of 27 thoughtful people in the Central library hall yesterday afternoon. Following the lecture, a collection was taken up which totaled $4.27.

Professor Isaac Rath, famous the world over as the man who has discovered the secret of leaning against a pill with a willow and driving it tremendous distances, but who otherwise doesn't know his own name, was a Portland visitor yesterday. Professor Rath participated in a ball game at the Naughton street grounds and demonstrated how far he could knock a swiftly thrown pill with his willow.

The governor of the state had declared yesterday a holiday. The school children were released from their studies to see the distinguished visitor. The city hall ceased to function so that the mayor and the commissioners could attend the game. The boxes were thronged with the beauty and civility of our city, including two United States senators and the editor of The Portland News.

Professor Rath came to Portland for sweet charity's sake and a $2500 guarantee. He got the $2500 and charity got what was left.

Keeping At It

We notice that the Union show crowd elected George Benson to head next year's show and in the list of helpers we find Dr. W. T. Phy, "Cad" Cadwell, L. A. Wright and the other workers for the stock show from Union.

These men are the type that keep constantly at it and as a result each year Union's show gets bigger and bigger. No doubt there are times when all of the men who will head the show next year have felt like quitting, but there is no place to quit. The natural course of events should be for the growing generation to take hold and let the men who have brought the show up to its present high standard have a rest. But for some unknown reason the younger generation does not seem inclined to do the things which require responsibility and hard work.

Judge McMahan

"Good morning, judge."

Probably this way of addressing L. H. McMahan, the Abraham Lincoln appearing statesman of Marion county seems a little strange for he was always called plain "Mack" which shortened the name of McMahan. He was recently appointed judge so he has not had the title very long and he may be just a little awkward with it.

A little awkwardness is not a crime, and we do not agree with a number of newspapers over Oregon in their statements that McMahan's appointment was a poor one. In fact, we believe it is about as good an appointment as Pierce has made since he has been governor.

We have known "Mack" for a good many years. He is as rough as Snake river canyon, but he is on the square. His idea of law may be the Henry McGinn idea, which is not had law at that.

Just how the Multnomah county voters can think of a bond issue along with all of the other features and candidates of this election is hard to figure out.
