

NEWS of SOCIETY

The first party given at A. J. Lange's new residence at 1800 Oak street, took place Saturday evening, when Miss Ann Stange was hostess to twenty-four friends at an informal dancing party. The home was attractively arranged for the affair and clever favors were given to the guests, which caused much merriment, during a very enjoyable evening spent at dancing with excellent music.

Dainty refreshments were served before one of the most charming affairs among the younger set was brought to a close.

Mrs. C. E. Wale was hostess to the F. A. B. club Friday afternoon, October 31. Three tables of bridge were at play during the afternoon with Mrs. G. B. Kerr winning high honors and Mrs. E. R. Guy winning the second prize.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion, the Halloween color scheme of oranges and black being used, and a delicious wo course luncheon was served by his charming hostess.

Friday evening was the date set for a very attractive dinner party given in honor of John H. Ivey, of Seattle, Wash., by a group of young people of this city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huel, at 2904 Second street. The group consisting of ten adjourned at ten o'clock for the Halloween dance given at the Rex hall, at the conclusion of which they returned to Second street to participate in refreshments and congratulate Mr. Ivey on the occasion of his 25th birthday anniversary.

Mr. Ivey, who is connected with the Shell company of California, has been spending his vacation in

Tie Feature Of Gown

ORNATE in materials but not in line is this afternoon gown of ecrú silk lace over henna-colored chamoise bordered with flying squirrel in soft brown. A unique effect is gained in the tie, which extends to the hemline, though gracefully looped up at the waistline. This is an excellent model for the young of generous build.

La Grande and has nothing but praise for the remarkable growth that has visited the city since his last trip here.

Mrs. Huel, assisted by Mrs. Ada Clark, were hostesses for the evening.

Miss Lillian Wynn of Elgin, and Paul Neff of Portland, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the parsonage of the Christian church with Reverend O. W. Jones officiating. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graham were the only ones present during the ceremony. The happy couple left Saturday evening en route to Portland where they will make their future home.

Miss Thelma Strain was hostess at a Halloween party Friday evening, October 31. The home was decorated for the occasion with a color scheme of orange and black and games appropriate for the affair made up the evening's entertainment, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were Billie Bennett, Maudie Whallon, Mary Asta, Jeannette Stutzinger, Frances Asta, Barbara Stutzinger, Leona Hankins, Amelia Asta and John Williams.

Elgin. (Special)—One of the most delightful social affairs of the Women's Improvement club for several months was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hug. The teachers of the Elgin schools were the inspiration for the affair and a unique program was one of the main features of the afternoon, consisting of a piano solo by Miss Ione Royce, a vocal number "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," by Mrs. Hazen and a piano solo by Miss Nova Young. They each responded to a hearty encore and the Misses Royce and Young delighted everyone with several piano and harmonica duets.

After participating in appropriate games for the occasion delicious refreshments, with the idea of Halloween prevailing, were served. The home was also decorated for the affair in accordance with the Halloween season, Jack-o-lanterns, black cats and other symbols being in evidence.

The teachers present were Miss Stella Mayfield, Miss Nellie Hunt, Miss Blanche Aisher, Miss Mildred Johnson, Mrs. Susanna, Mrs. E. R. McCornick, Mrs. Evelyn Schauder, Miss Margaret Morgan and Mrs. Charles Cross.

Elgin. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hug were host and hostess at a dinner party recently, which was in the nature of a family reunion, all of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Hug being at home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howard, of La Grande, and children, Mildred, Donald and Lester; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, of Elgin, and small son, Harry; Miss Ruth Hug, of Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Mayville, of La Grande; Mrs. L. E. Hill and son, Frederick and Mr. and Mrs. Hug.

SHEEP BANDS DIMINISHED. HALFWAY, Ore.—Once a sheep country, P. valleys now has only one real band of sheep left. A short time ago there were two, but Tom Whitley, one of the owners, is selling his herd.

Claude Officer, the original sheepman of this territory, is staying with the business and has about 1400 head. There are a few small herds on the farms, but only one large enough to go out on the range.

Fashionable Lingerie Is Now Tailored

THE daughter of the house, as well as her mother and her sister and her cousins and her aunts, may look forward this Christmas to lingerie gifts of most engaging novelty. Modists and designers appear to have conspired to create garments—both nether-side and weather-side—which spurn the conventional-lacy impedimenta for a chic tailored effect inspiring to the young woman of taste. Indeed, tailored lingerie appears to be a fact. Above, at the left, is an entirely original design of Italian silk vest and drawers characterized by inserts of pin tucks at the sides and under the arms, almost invisible straps and fastenings simulated by ribbon rosettes. In the center may be seen the latest word in

MARIE ANTONETTE. Since writers are wont to attribute any deviation from a placid conventional disposition to a streak of red hair, suppressed or expressed, Marie Antonette, the beautiful wife of Louis XVI, who stirred up civil war in France, may blame her temperament on her hair which had quite a tinge of red. However, being of a more conservative nature, we will admit that we have known a number of people who have stirred up tempêtes who have not been able to boast of red hair. Helen of Troy, we recall, who was famous for her blonde beauty was also famous for the misfortune that followed in her train including the ten years' Trojan war.

With the brilliant complexion of so many of the continental beauties of the day, with features of the piquant renaissance type, and with reddish hair, Marie Antonette possessed a youthful freshness of appearance as well as the liveliness and brave recklessness of youth.

Etiquette in the Austrian court where she was raised was not so strict as that in the French court to which she came as a young crown princess and queen, which she later reigned as queen, and she always rebelled against the

SURE MIKE, LET'S VOTE (By Flora L. Barrie)

Oh, dear, I'm in an awful mix. Just trying to think politics. The women must be sure to vote. We are the country's only hope. I'm Southern born, so I should be a Democrat, from A to Z. But when I want to vote that way a lot of folks have much to say. "Don't vote for Mr. A," he hints. Also his dad sold underpants. And Mr. B, why, he's so dumb. He'll put the country on the bum. While Mr. C, it's sure great stuff. His past is fishy, that's enough. I always knew the Lord could make most anything he'd undertake. But perfect men, like some who run, I know, dear Lord, it can't be done. They promise to do things so nice. The world would be a Paradise. I'm going to vote, but ohmigod, I've heard and read such yards of

How can I tell which one to choose? I want to win my bet, not lose. I've tried to find out what to do. To be a female "oil" so true, And this is all that I can see. Will make a regular run of me. I'll eny-mene-uh-no. When to the polls I gaily go.

Beauty Hints

Among the red-haired "sorority" there are many fortunate enough to have sufficient natural color, often an enchanting flush that comes and goes. Others must give special thought to the shade of rouge selected, the Mandarin rouge with its added tone often proving more effective in giving brilliancy and transparency to the skin. However, just as the red-haired type will avoid wearing bright pink or bright red in a costume, they will also avoid bright pink cheeks or a startlingly red mouth. A bright red or a dark color lipstick should be avoided unless the hair is very dark, a light shade being sparingly applied if a lipstick is necessary.

Where Shall We Go This Evening?

FREQUENTLY you decide to spend the evening in town with some friend. The first part is easy. Dinner at a pleasant restaurant. But afterwards . . . What will you do to carry on this business of having a good time?

Easy! Two cents. An evening paper. A glance at the advertisements. Suggestion—agreement, and you're off!

You didn't go around to the different theaters, to be driven to an unsatisfactory choice by fatigue and time. If it's worth while to consult the advertisements about amusements, how much more worth while must it be when it comes to the spending of the household money.

Read the advertisements. They place before you the full choice of the trustworthy goods in the market. They describe advantages, and give you full information before you have to stir out of your chair. Pursue for every article you buy the method you use when it comes to amusements.

The way to be sure of what you buy is to buy advertised goods.

READING ADVERTISEMENTS IS AN EDUCATION IN BETTER BUYING
