IDAHO PLAYS OREGON NEXT

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, (Special)—By an extraordinary display of fighting spirit and football knowledge, the University of Oregon upset all forecasts in its defeat of the heavy and experienced University of Washington team Saturday. Washington was conceded a big advantage before the game but Oregon played the Huskies to a stand-still, triumphing 7 to 3 after one of the most bitterly fought contests seen here in years.

Coach Maddock, who was one of a handful of football men willing to predict publicly an Oregon victory, is highly pleased with the outcome. Oregon students, alumni, and other supporters are jubilant. The team got away at the beginning of the season to a slow start, playing a tie game with Willamette University. Since then Oregon has developed rapidly. In the Washington game, Maddock's eleven took advantage of every opportunity and of every weakness, following the ball throughout the game, and displayed a brilliant defensive game.

Oregon was able to make yardage through the heavy and experienced Washington line. Oregon scored its touchdown through ability to break through the opposite defense, and the Maddock men broke up a surprising number of Washington passes when their successful completion would have meant long gains and possible touchdowns.

"This week Oregon is getting ready for what is regarded as the hardest game of the year, the contest with Idaho at Moscow. Idaho has scored victories over Washington State College and O. A. C., winning each game with a big score by a field goal. Critics say Coach Warner's players were lucky to score against Idaho.

The Oregon team went through the game without a single substitution, which speaks a lot for the condition of the men. They will prepare for the Idaho game by several days of work in signal practice, drill in football fundamentals and a lot of light scrimmaging.

The southern university cancelled its game following the announcement of Stanford and the University of California last Saturday that after the present football season they would discontinue athletic relations with the University of Southern California.

A Lebanon physician was called and Mrs. Morris is resting easy.

Pittsburg Pirates to Have Fast, Speedy Nine

NEW YORK (By the Associated Press)—Speed will be a dominating factor in the present drive of the Pittsburg Pirates next season. Already the fastest club in the minor circuit, the acquisition of George Grantham from the Chicago Cubs has given the Buccaneers a monopoly on speed.

The 1925 Pirates will boast probably the four most proficient hitters in the National League. Max Carey, who, like Eddie Collins, seems to gather speed with age, led the Hoosier organization last season with 47 thefts, while Hazen Sawyer, recruit outfielder, was up with 32. The Traylor stole 25 and Grantham 21. The former Cub has demonstrated his speed in this, however, for he stole 43 bases in 1923.

"This is being done with a view of emphasizing the educational side of these contests," said E. H. Wilcox, chairman of the contests. "The rules have been changed for this season, the list of test pieces rechosen and everything possible done to make the contest fair and an incentive to high standards." The contests will be held in a series of three, the first, the district and at the finals before the convention to be held next June in Portland, Oregon. The district winners will compete in Portland.

COPENHAGEN, (AP)—Erection of an "American House" in Copenhagen, where American business interests might be grouped together in one building similar to the Busch Building in London, was advocated by the American ambassador, Dr. John D. Prince, in a recent address before the American club here.

Dr. Prince said that both he and Consul-General Marion Letcher favored the idea, and that the latter was ready to support it to the extent of moving the consular offices to such a building, truly representative of American business interests.

In his speech Dr. Prince emphasized the growing importance of Copenhagen with its excellent port and commanding geographical position as anemporium for American trade on the Baltic, facts he said, that made an American House in Copenhagen the more desirable.

It is understood that a Danish architect has worked out a detailed plan for such a building, and that the plan will shortly be put before the American colony in Copenhagen by a Danish business man with large American interests.

PARIS, (AP)—It may be some consolation to art lovers throughout the world, who have wondered in what position were the missing arms of the famous Venus de Milo statue in the Louvre, to learn that even the ancients themselves were perplexed on this point.

Dr. Eddé, a French physician, has just made known that during a recent visit to Egypt he came into possession of a small bronze statuette of the same period as the Venus de Milo. This statuette is an exact copy of the famous Venus, and like the original, it has no arms. Dr. Eddé therefore concludes that the Venus de Milo never at any time had arms, and he believes that the sculptor, when he had carved out of the stone such a divine form, gave up all idea of adding arms.

When the Venus de Milo was discovered on the island of Milo a large reward was offered to any one who could find the arms, but in spite of extensive searches, nothing was discovered.

Sunshine and Fresh Air Prescribed for Bad Girls LONDON, (AP)—The English reformers' idea of making bad girls better is to give them trips to the seaside. Accordingly last year several of the detention institutions for young girls took parties of inmates to various seaside resorts where they were given a two weeks' vacation with only the supervision of two matrons to each party of 25 girls.

Last year's cuttings proved so successful that nearly all similar institutions this year took up the idea and allowed their best behaved girls to have a vacation. The expenses for the trip, above what it would have cost to feed and provide for the girls at the institution, were donated by persons interested in progressive and humanizing methods in the correctional institutions of the country.
