MUST WE GROW OLD?

Vital Glands of Young Animals (Glandogen) Used to Restore Vitality.

Scientists of international prominence declare that the vital glands of young animals have remarkable power for renewing vitality, turning up the entire system and building up nerve force.

Dr. Arnold Long says in his book, "Old Young Deliverance," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the enforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment.

Glandogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Red Cross Drug Co. (mail orders accepted.)—Adv.

ROOMING HOUSES

Noted Stage Play—"Why Men Leave Home" Now in Pictures.

"A little sonographer is a dangerous thing."

For proof of this perverted proverb we direct your attention to "Why Men Leave Home," a First National picture, produced by John M. Stahl, which is scheduled to open at the Rex today. It was personally directed by Mr. Stahl from the famous stage play by Avery Hopwood.

In this picture Alma Bennett, a stunningly beautiful young actress, plays the role of a stenographer, her employer being impersonated by Lewis Stone. The employer,

When John Flowers acts he takes his famous photo pony along with him. In fact John's horse, Hatches, is almost as well known as the actor himself and according to John, the horse knows more than most humans. The picture of the horse goes way back to the days when the Indians roamed the plains and prairie schooners linked the east and west in an endless wagon trail across the untrodden plains.

Hatches has a happy family of going a long while without drinking, so that he almost rivals the camel. Bowers declares that this feat is the result of the training of his ancestors, who were often forced to travel over desert sands for days without drinking.

The horse is unusually intelligent and apparently enjoys acting as much as its master and seems instinctively to know what is expected of it. In "The Code of the Wilderness," a David Smith production, the horse does some of his stunts which have won for him an enviable reputation. "The Code of the Wilderness" furnishes ample opportunity for fancy riding and daring feats of skill and speed. Mr. Bowers is also shown, and others in the cast include Alana Hale, Otto Harlan, Kitty Bradley and Charlotte Merriman.

Norma Talmadge Talks On Recent Leading Men.

Four leading men made love to Norma Talmadge in 1923.

And every one says Norma had a different manner.

First came Jack Mulhall in "Within the Law." Then Conway Tearle in "Ashes of Vengeance." Then followed by Joseph Schildkraut in "The Song of Love."

Last came "The perfect lover," Eugene O'Brien, who appears as Norma's leading man in "Secrets," which, it is expected, will excel even "Smilin' Through" as a popular and artistic success.

Norma should be the best of all judges of the capabilities of leading men, so her comments are interesting.

Famous Pinto Pony Used in "Code of the Wilderness."

John Emerson, was happily surprised—that is, he thought he was—but his wife did not see much joy in being neglected by her husband and was forced to seek recreation and enjoyment with her women friends.

It was while she was on a week-end trip to a resort that John discovered that he missed his wife considerably. He found a way to relieve his loneliness by taking the sonographer and to dinner.

All would have been well if his wife had not returned unexpectedly—and smelled perfume on his trousers. The journey to the divorce court was a swift one—and John found himself married to the type-lapper.

They had been married but a few hours before John intervened and separated them for good.

Helene Chadwick plays the part of the wife in this picture, others in the cast being Mary Carr, William V. Mong, Hedda Hopper, Stanley Bracy, Lila Leslie, E. H. Calvert and Howard Truesdell.

STOP THAT BACKACHE!

Many La Grande Folks Have Found the Way.

In a dull, nerve-racking headache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous? And it is impossible to be happy or enjoy life even though around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbor here recommends Doan's. Read what this La Grande resident says:

D. D. Burgess, 102 Washington Ave., says: "My kidneys were in bad condition and I had severe headaches and at times I could hardly bend. My kidneys acted irregularly, too, so I used Doan's Pills from Silverthorn's Drug store and they soon had me free from the aches and pains and put my kidneys in good shape."

I use Doan's at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Burgess had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.
