

NEWS of SOCIETY

Hops Chapter No. 12, O. E. S. held their regular meeting last evening at the Masonic hall and all reported a good time. The evening's entertainment was a surprise for the officers of O. E. S. when the Past Matrons club put on the local work centering the degree in Worthy Matron, Mrs. Nettie Eakin. Those assisting in the work were Worthy Matron of the team and mother of Mrs. Eakin, Mrs. Ed Kiddle, Worthy Patron, C. B. Eberhard; Assistant Matron, Mrs. Frank Jackson; Secretary, Miss Carrie Hunter; Treasurer, Mrs. Florence Bacon; Chaplain, Mrs. Anna Leavay; Marshall, Mrs. Ingland; organist, Mrs. Nellie Niell; conductress Mrs. Margaret Weiss; Assistant conductress, Mrs. Ella Russell; Adah, Miss Pauline Lederle; Ruth, Mrs. Hulda Humphrey; Esther, Mrs. O. Mae Noyes; Martha, Mrs. Myrtle Brown; Director, Mrs. Ida Charles; Warder, Mrs. Hessler and Secretary, L. H. Russell.

An excellent musical program was rendered during the evening by Andrew Loney, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Metzler, which was enjoyed by everyone. Refreshments were served by the social committee, with Charles Hingner as chairman.

Members of the Student Body of the La Grande High School were thankful that they had a Hi Dad organization last evening when the Hi Dads were hosts to the student body with a dance in the gymnasium of the high school. The gym was attractively decorated in a color scheme of blue and white, and a large crowd had a good time dancing by music furnished by the Star Novelty Orchestra. The Baker football team were guests of the evening.

Good fellowship was displayed Tuesday evening when the Odd DRESSES this season depend upon their chic for little unexpected touches rather than elaborate ornamentation. On this Nile green crepe frock the two ruffles which form the skirt are attached in the front with a labor effect that breaks the conventional line and forms a charming decoration. The upper part of the costume could not be more severely plain.

Fellows and Robelohas enjoyed a delicious 6 o'clock dinner at the I. O. O. F. hall. Over two hundred were present and following dinner the regular lodge session was called to order. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Minnie Bragg, S. G.; Nora Noah, V. G.; Mattie Golden, secretary and Lydia M. Hug, treasurer. After the lodge meeting a very interesting program was rendered under the able direction of Mrs. Jas. Moss.

Every member of the Country club is invited to attend the dance to be given this evening at the club by the social committee for November, whether they have been notified to that effect or not. The committee in charge for this month is making every effort to make this dance a big success and striving to get every member of the club to be there this evening when the orchestra starts playing. This is the first of a series of dances given during the winter season by the club.

A shower was given at the home of Mrs. E. Goughenover Tuesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. W. I. Warner. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in social entertainment, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Imbler, (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keown celebrated their wooden wedding anniversary recently at their home south of Imbler. A delicious dinner was served and an enjoyable time spent by everyone. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Keown of La Grande.

which was worn a black handkerchief tightly wrapped about the throat. It ended two inches above the skirt hem, which shaped lightly at the waist and is completed with hip-pockets.

London.—Send to Scotland for short hose. That is the cry here, as well as in Paris and New York. The latest importations from the North have all the exclusiveness and beauty of the Scotch productions. They are designed in rather sober marked colorings, over checked with a contrasting hue.

Paris.—"Tell me what they are wearing," exclaimed the newest American arrival today. "Straight lines," was the answer, "perhaps a flushed hem or a border of shaded fathens, but the straight silhouette always. After that, let your letter of credit be your guide."

Some very good essays have been turned in on the Home Electric Lighting System. The students have put forth their best efforts to write these as there are some very good prizes to be given away.

A Senior class-meeting was held Wednesday noon at which the editor of the Mimir was voted on. Also the business manager was voted for. The results of the meeting were: Velma Metcalf, editors; Helga Williams and Lillian Sims, assistant editors; Douglas Moe was chosen as business manager and Ray Meyer as assistant business manager. We feel sure that these students will put forth to the best of their ability to make this Mimir the best published.

Orchestra practice has been on Monday and Wednesday this week as Thursday and Friday are holidays. Each person is working diligently on his part.

The Topics of the Day club met and discussed the events of the next Literary Digest. New officers were elected for the next time.

The advanced French and Spanish classes are still studying classics. The beginning classes are spending their time on short stories.

The Caesar class has been working on a short play which is expected to be quite entertaining.

Basketball practice is really going on in earnest now as any of the girls will tell you. There is going to be a practice game held Friday afternoon at which time some of the faculty is to help choose the class teams. About forty girls are out this season, but they are mostly freshmen and sophomores. The junior and senior girls may have to join in order to make one team.

The senior class of Pendleton III put on a miniature "Round-Up" to which the La Grande football men were invited. Those who partook of the Pendleton III's hospitality report a good time.

Melvin Parker and party were pushed by the Pendleton stage for about ten miles. They were on their way home from the Pendleton game when they ran out of gas.

Ralph Webb had a wisdom tooth pulled after the Pendleton game. He suffered very much with the tooth on the way to Pendleton, but is now getting along fine since he has it out. It caused him to have to miss two days of school of which he did not like to do.

A high school assembly was called at 1:55 o'clock Wednesday for the purpose of the freshman stunt. The football boys who expect to graduate this year were called upon to give a short talk. Coach MacTavish also gave his views upon the Baker game. After this a few high school yells were given and the high school anthem sung. Announcements were made and the meeting adjourned.

Miss Bennett reports that she hasn't noticed anyone putting gum behind their ears instead of in the waste baskets as some did last year.

The Domestic Science department had a part in the exhibit held in the Domestic Art and Science rooms last Friday. There were charts on the walls showing foods high in the three most important minerals of the body, calcium, iron and phosphorus and also of foods containing vitamins A, B, C, and D. Well balanced meals were illustrated by charts. Canned fruits and relishes were placed on a table for display. In the dining room the table was daintily set for luncheon.

JUDGE NON-SUITS ACTION AGAINST KLAN FOR LIBEL

After dismissing the action at the request of the plaintiff's attorney against Fred L. Gifford, grand juror; George Haab, Perry Miller, John Van Blaricom and F. S. Pankhauser, five of the defendants in the action for damages brought by Edna K. Cummins of Newberg against the Ku Klux Klan and a number of members of that organization, Judge Belt late Wednesday afternoon heard arguments upon motions for non-suit presented by attorneys for the remaining defendants. The action is one for libel.

In keeping with his ruling of Tuesday excluding evidence tending to show that the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and its subordinate branches maintained a policy of investigating persons not members of the organization and taking direct action against them similar to the case at issue, Judge Belt sustained the motion for non-suit as to the Ku Klux corporation. To this action the plaintiff's attorneys excepted and it is understood they will appeal to the supreme court regardless of the outcome of this case as against the remaining defendants.

Mayor Still in Case.

Judge Belt also sustained the motion for a non-suit in favor of the defendants E. H. Utter, W. S. Stull, R. E. Amy, Clyde Stretch and Alfred Dixon, against whom no evidence had been offered to connect them with the alleged libelous publication. Judge Belt denied the motions for non-suit presented in favor of the following defendants: James Parrish, Claude Stevens, E. A. Ellis, mayor of Newberg; W. A. Bond, M. A. Deaton, exalted cyclops of the Newberg Klan; John Groff, Vernon Groff and Mrs. Perry Miller, excellent commander of the Women of the Ku Klux Klan at Newberg.

giving." Mr. Keith said: "Among the many things for which we may give thanks, two stand distinctly before us: The growth of the desire for peace, and the swing toward God."

Dealing with the teachings of the parable he said, "The parable teaches fidelity and vitality as over against indolence and sloth." Quotations from the Proverbs were given setting forth the wise man's estimate of the sluggard. "In God's sight," he continued, "man's character and achievement in life are measured, not by what he possesses, but by the use he makes of his possessions."

"The great inglorious company of today is that large number of people who are constantly crying, 'I have no talent to do that,' and straightway refuse to do anything."

"Some of us are afraid of mistakes, morbidly so. The man who never made a mistake never made anything else. Our trouble is that we are thinking more of ourselves than of making the best use of the talent God has given us."

"There are two things to remember: First, a man's real achievement is to be measured by the use he makes of what he has; second, the use of the one talent is an indication of how we would use ten, did we possess them."

Hunt's Letter

Henry Lodge was a participant. Lodge wasn't the ardent athlete that T. R. and Jusserand were, and the fast pace set by the president and the ambassador soon had him winded. They had reached a stretch of rough up-hill going when Lodge called a halt.

"Theodore, Theodore," he called, panting, breathless. "Slow up a bit. You must think I'm a damned kangaroo."

The intimate palship between Roosevelt and Jusserand at this period is said to have caused a change in the British ambassador to Washington.

Sir Mortimer Durand, Great Britain's envoy, never achieved any personal relationship with the president. Their contacts were always formal. He was always "Mr. Ambassador" to T. R. and Teddy was "Mr. President" to him.

Sir James Bryce, afterward Lord Bryce, was sent over to replace Sir Mortimer. As a writer and historian, familiar with American affairs and institutions, Bryce fitted much better into the Roosevelt scheme of things.

They found themselves on common ground in historical and literary discussions. Also, Bryce cut in on some of the president's rough cross-country hikes. But no other diplomat ever achieved the camaraderie with Roosevelt that was held by Jusserand.

His departure marks the passing of the last of the "strenuous brotherhood" which flourished at the capital in the days of the "big stick," the "Annals Club" and the reign of Roosevelt.

Ship Lines in Economy Move

HAMBURG, (AP)—The Hamburg American Line and the Ocean Line have established here a joint freight department, which accepts checks and forwards freight for both lines. The move was taken to save expenses.
