U. S. BUREAU AIDS TO EVOLVE SAFE HIGH-SPEED LIFT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Some modern cities must continue to sprout skyscrapers, and modern invention must provide methods of getting sizable masses of the population up and down within those structures. The United States bureau of standards is seeking, in association with insurance companies, manufacturers, and engineers, to evolve new methods by which the process may be safeguarded.

A prime requisite to the operation of the high-speed elevators which alone made skyscrapers practicable is a dependable interlocking mechanism, that will hold doors shut unless the elevator car is in proper position for their opening, and function to prevent the dropping of elevator cars within shafts. To the perfection of such a mechanism bureau experts have addressed themselves.

One device which the bureau has constructed for testing interlocking devices puts each machine through 100,000 repetitions of its functions. The mechanism is observed and examined before, during and after the testing. Its failures, potential or actual, are detected.

Dr. C. J. Burgess, director of the bureau, has revealed that manufacturers following the work already have mapped out several improvements to the mechanisms they produce. Insurance companies follow the work, since it bears directly on the rate of accident risk, which they apply.

MAMM POP

IT WAS A WONDERFUL CHRISTMAS POP BUT I FEEL THAT I SHOULD SAY SOMETHING ABOUT THE WAY YOU FEEL. YOU FEEL THAT THAT BIG COZY AND DOT A DIAMOND WINKWATCH WHEN THEY COULD HAVE BEEN HAPPY WITH GIFTS THAT COST HALF AS MUCH.

AND MY DIAMOND RING—IT OF COURSE IS BEAUTIFUL BUT YOU SPENT ENTIRELY TOO MUCH FOR IT. I LOOKED FOR A RING WHEN THERE'S SO MANY THINGS I NEED FOR THE HOUSE.

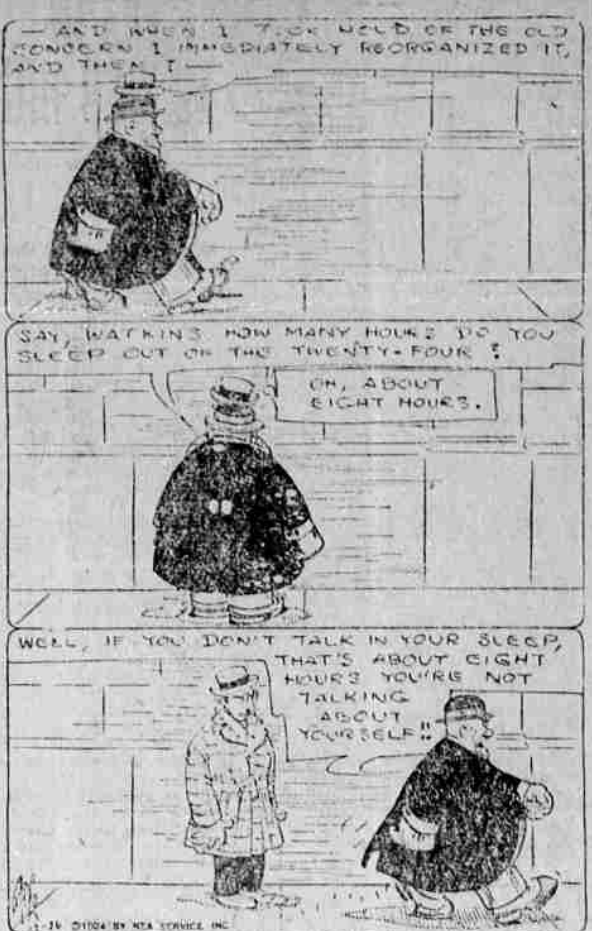

THE CARPET ON THE STAIRWAYS IS ALMOST WORN OUT AND WE NEED A NEW ONE AND FURNITURE FOR THE LIVING ROOM—THEN THERE'S TABLE LINEN AND NEW LINOLEUM FOR THE KITCHEN.

BUT DON'T WORRY ABOUT THESE. I'LL CHANGE THE CARPETS AND GET THEM FOR YOU.

WHAT? GIVE UP MY BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS CARPETS? NEVER! I'LL CHANGE THE CARPETS AND GET THEM FOR YOU.

Sherrys Showing "Thundering Hoofs" Last Time Today.

Fred Thompson in a new role—that of a cowboy who saves his horse by giving bare-handed battle to an enraged bull in a Mexican bullfight arena. The arena scenes in which the world-famous athlete struggles with the big animal are the most spectacular which the intrepid Thompson has ever attempted. It caps the climax of a thrilling story which has plenty of comedy elements as well as the big surge and sweep of western drama. Ann May, one of the most charming young ingenues of the screen today, has the role of a Spanish girl opposite Mr. Thompson. Others in the cast are Charles Mattos, George C. Ward, Fred Huntley and Bill Lawler. At least who did so well with the last Thompson series, directed the picture. The story is from an original by Marion Jackson.

Comedy showing "Should Landlord's Live?"

To Give An Idea How Big "North of 30" really is.

Featured Players—Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, Noah Deery.

Producer—Irvin Willat, who made "The Heritage of the Desert" and the natural-color picture, "Wanderers of the Westland."

Author—Emerson Hough, who wrote "The Covered Wagon." This story, like the "Wagon," ran in the Saturday Evening Post.

Support—David Dumas, Stephen Carr, Guy Oliver, William Carroll, Clarence Gelder, George Irving, and Bill Miller.

Type of Story—A story with the same sweep as "The Covered Wagon," with a theme just as big and as vital. It is a story of pioneers—a story of Texas, during its most interesting period. The time is directly after the Civil War. The terrible struggle of the cattlemen to find a market for their stock and the hardships endured by the settlers of that state are very clearly shown.

The general theme of the story, the huge cattle drive, carries on through early Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas. "North of 30" is "The Covered Wagon."

The High Jinks—The love of Miss Wilson's ranch hands for their "red-headed boss." Preparations for the great cattle drive. The start. The finding of Miss Wilson's trunk of hand script in Holt's wagon. He leaves the train in disgrace. The night attack of Deery and his men on the wagons.

The first struggle of the cattlemen. Nothing else has ever been done quite like this. The fording of the Red River on the Texas-Oklahoma border. Holt's treaty of peace with the Comanches. The arrival of the herd in Abilene. Wild celebration. The second stampede by the blaring brass band in town. This is the punch scene of the production. It contains comedy, thrill—everything. The selling of the cattle to the eastern buyers. The terrific fight between Holt and Deery when the latter again attempts to steal the trunk containing the land scrip. Deery turned over to the Indians. The marriage of Miss Wilson and Holt in the final scene and their exit from Abilene to go back to Texas and join their enormous ranching interests.

It's same picture, and opens at the Arcade Monday.

All-Star Cast For Zane Grey's "Border Legion."

Headed by Antonio Moreno and Bruce Campbell in featured roles, a remarkably strong cast has been assembled in the newest Zane Grey Paramount production, "The Border Legion," to be shown at the Star Theatre today.

More than a different sort of role as Jim Cole, a gay, young, irresponsible cowboy, Miss Campbell's role is that of a typical daughter of the West—strong, beautiful, unafraid.

In the principal supporting roles are Rockliffe Fellowes, leader of "The Border Legion"; Gibson Godland, his lieutenant; Charles Ogden, a cattleman who is the target for the maraudings of the Legion; James Coney, Edward Gribble and Luke Cosgrave.

"The Border Legion" was a band of outlaws who rode the Southern border of Idaho in the early days of the West, spreading death and terror.

According to Zane Grey, this is a true story. It is clean, wholesome, and typically American, check-full of action, appeal, drama and love. William Howard did the direction, and George Hall wrote the screen play.

The entire production was made in the wild and little-known mountains of the Southwest with the marvelous natural scenery as background.

"The Border Legion" is the "Western" of the season!

Chapas Counts Four Governors. MEXICO CITY, (AP)—The state of Chapas has set a record for governors, according to information available at the department of the interior, where the names of four claimants who are attempting to exercise their authority are given as follows: General Carlos A. Vidal and Francisco Fernandez Rold, Attorney Luis Ramirez Corzo, and plain citizen Juan Lora. Each is supported by a band of followers, has selected his staff of officials and is determined not to be ousted.

JOHN WOOL RABBIT

SALISBURY, Ore.—A joint trail and water rate on wool is favored by the Oregon Wool Growers' association, according to a letter received at the office of the patch service commission from Fred W. Kibben, of Pendleton, president of the association. The letter urged the representatives of the "public" who had thrown the chair into the vice commission to attend a hearing and expected to rob the bag of wool growers and shippers dwelling when the accounts had to be paid before the interstate been rendered unconscious.

THREE ESEN CHILDREN

MATHEMATICS, Ore.—Three Eesen children are operating with a calculator. Mrs. Eesen, of that city, was awakened while her husband was taken with the fever of the disease. The letter urged the representatives of the "public" who had thrown the chair into the vice commission to attend a hearing and expected to rob the bag of wool growers and shippers dwelling when the accounts had to be paid before the interstate been rendered unconscious.

Men's Overcoats

Men's All-wool Overcoats in a wide range of patterns and colors—brown, black, grey, green, olive and tan—full-bottomed backs, raglan sleeves, convertible collars.
