WORKER HURT AT MAXVILLE

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special) — Glen Robinson was brought to the hospital here Monday afternoon, suffering from injuries sustained while working in the woods near Maxville. Robinson was working on the deck of a large log raft...

The snow which fell here the latter part of the week covered the ground to a depth of six and eight inches in the valley and much deeper higher in the hills and in the timbered sections. Reports from Maxville, Sted Springs, sections state the depth of the snow there to be around 15 inches.

George Woods and Phil Pelland of Lostine were among the visitors in this city the first of the week. The small child of Mr. and Mrs. Erna Wortman, which was seriously scalded last week when it tipped a pan of hot water over on itself, is reported to be getting along nicely at this time.

W. H. Henson, stage driver between here and Maxville, reported some difficult road to make with his auto stage Monday morning. Many logging jacks from the north woods were in town for part of the week.

PENDELTON. — In a speedy bout, marked by fast, clean wrestling, Frank Pilling won over Ray McCarroll here in the Alta theater. SCHOOL MATES PLAN HONORS

MERCERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Three memorials to Calvin Coolidge Jr., son of the president, who died last July, are planned at integral parts of the campus and buildings of Mercersburg academy where he was a well-loved student.

The memorials will take the form of a cross in the new academy chapel; a sunshine corner devoted to birds, flowers and trees in some central part of the campus; and a group of young buildings to be erected by "sons of America's best painters."

Mrs. Coolidge has requested that she be permitted to make the cross her gift to the institution in memory of her son. The sunshine corner, suggested by Mrs. Coolidge, will be the academy's own memorial and will commemorate the boy's delight in the beauties of nature. It will consist of a series of bird baths to attract the feathered woodfolk; a sundial, and seats where the boys may gather when at leisure. It will be surrounded by shrubs, flowers and trees.

In addition to these memorials Mercersburg academy has provided an memorial issue of the Academy News, in which are gathered recollections of young Coolidge both in the life of the school and in that of the nation.

The school life of Calvin Jr. was a succession of brilliant achievements. For three years, like his brother John, he kept his name on the honor roll and was entered for matriculation at Amherst. He was a reporter on the school paper, and during his last year was editor of the school literary magazine.

SCHOOL SITE IS SOUGHT. ROSEBURG, Ore. — To select a site for the new school building, for which bonds of $165,000 were recently voted, the school board has appointed a committee of 40 men and women. The board already has obtained options on two sites, and from these or other places the committee will choose the one believed to be the best suited.

A high school building is to be constructed and the present high school building will be used for a junior high school.

In London's Great Fog

London always is foggy. But it outdid itself this winter. This picture gives an idea of how heavy the mist was. It is not a silhouette, but a genuine photograph of two men warming their hands over a fire. The dark gray is not fancy background. It is thick impervious London fog.

DAIRYMEN PLAN MEETING

HALFWAY, Ore. — Dairymen are looking forward to the association meeting scheduled for January 7 here. Everything is in readiness for promoting the dairy industry in the valley, according to Ivan Louderback, dairy expert. He will be assisted by N. C. Jamison, who is in contact with dairy people all over the state.

A new Halsecomb testing outfit has been purchased by the agriculture classes of the high school and work will begin at once to get rid of the star boarder.

ANDREW DUPRE, VICTIM

MARSHFIELD, Ore. — The janitor who went down at the Arago lighthouse in sight of Mrs. Dupre's house, has been identified as Andrew Dupre, 24, and married.

Dupre slipped down to the coast on his bicycle and thus his identity was not established until the bicycle he rode was identified by his wife.

Library Has New Quarters

MARSHFIELD, Ore. — The library board at Myrtle Point is to celebrate appropriately the occupation of the library's new quarters in the new city hall and on January 2 with a special program. The women's civic club is acting as host to the population on the occasion.

In Los Angeles, a woman kicked out a shop window. May have seen a hat and like hers for less money.

'JUICE' COST IS EXPLAINED

Which costs more to produce: water-power electricity or steam-power electricity?

James H. Collins, widely known writer on business affairs, answers the question in the National Business, the official organ of the United States Chamber of Commerce. "The price of electricity is something that takes a little explanation," Mr. Collins writes. "It isn't so much the cost of 'juice' that you pay for in your electric bill as it is the cost of getting it to you and of having it ready when wanted."

"It is a popular belief that water-power electricity is cheaper than that generated by steam power. It costs considerably more per horse power to build a hydro-electric plant than a steam plant. This high cost is represented by great dams, and where the water powers are remote, the right of way for transmission lines, a strip of land often several hundred miles long, must be purchased by the power company and constantly patrolled."

"But they balance each other fairly well when it comes to operating expenses, for while the steam plant costs less to build, it requires enormous supplies of coal and water-power, whereas the hydro-electric plant is almost self-operative. "If electricity could be generated for nothing, it should still cost the consumer money, because the expense of distribution is six to ten times the cost of making 'juice'."

Auto accidents a national evil, says 'Coolidge'. And the worst, say we, are the dipsticks running against a flyover bank account.

Dallas Cowboy Arrested. DALLAS, Ore. — Tim Berry, a local cowboy and rodeo rider, was arrested by Sheriff Orr on a warrant charging violation of the prohibition law. A visit to Berry's home near Silver by the officers was alleged to have disclosed a still and several barrels of mash. He was bound over to the grand jury and, in default of $100 bail, was committed to jail. If he advertises it, he knows his goal!
