Great Prize Fight Featured in "Winner Take All"

If you want to see a virile, volcanic, dynamic drama of western manhood and eastern temptations, Buck Jones is there in "Winner Take All" at the Star Saturday and Sunday.

Buck made his local bow as a prize fighter last night, and pleased a large audience. And the western scene as depicted full of enthusiasm, and his mate fight talk. They couldn't help it.

This newest William Fox attraction starting the popular cowboy is all action, prize-fights, plungers, spangles, parties, and fun, and stores the last word in luxury blended with the grim realism of the prize-ring.

This critic won't give away the crackerjack of a story from the trained typewriter of the w. k. Saturday Evening Post writer, Larry Evans. But it gives Buck Jones the greatest scope of his career for displaying old and new talents.

Buck does exactly his old western stuff that's gained him military orders of admiring fans, and at the same time he flashes a brand new line as a "hated" cowboy who battles his way to heavyweight championship honors; then is beaten by the fast pace of the Big City; loses the girl he thinks he madly loves to a millionaire; then makes a great comeback in the greatest of all western fights with a sensational surprise knockout finish that knocks the cowboy pug through the ropes of Love's arena into the arms of the real Giel, and ends his ring career forever and lives happily after.

Lovely Peggy Shaw, equally so of face and form, is the lit in the mire of metropolitan night life, and among other noble screen favorites in the cast are Richard Henry, Lilyan Tashman, William Norton Bailey and Ben Doolay.

diagnosing the relationship between the jazz mad set and the modern family.

The play and screen version are considered the most unusual, and at the same time, most humorous exposition of the irresponsible set. William de Mille as director and Mrs. Berger having captured the full spirited flavor of the original.

Tetty Compton plays the part of an author's wife. She is interested in normal entertainments, while her husband, played by Elliott Dexter, is surrounded by high brow writers. A dashing, glibly leader, a fascinating role for Adolph Menjou.

Small Farm

Will Take in Modern La Grande Home.

30 acres in Cove. Mill Creek runs through the place. Good 6 room home, good barn, two modern poultry houses, hog house, etc. 22 acres in hay, 7 acres in grain, berries and pasture. Highway runs by the place, just a few blocks from the business center, yet just outside city limits. This is a very desirable home, and is located in a beautiful area. Since Cove is now connected with the Oregon Trail at Union and La Grande, watch Cove grow.

How to Hold Your Wife—Learn Latest Dance Steps.

Dance—that is an effective way to retain the affections of one's wife.

This advice is pointed out in William de Mille's production, "The Fast Set," which leads a two-day engagement at the Arcade theatre today.

"Improving the mind is not one of the indoor sports of the tea-dance," says a subtitle in the new Paramount production. But another title says, "Bachelors step where husbands will not tread," adding, "F. S.—And always the latest steps."

Adapted by Clara Berger, "The Fast Set" which is a visualization of Frederick Lonsdale's New York and London stage success, is probably the last word in

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL DIES

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—F. H. Bennett, 28, principal of the Klamath Falls high school, died at a local hospital from heart disease which was superinduced by a kidney operation performed at the hospital.

The operation was of a minor character and it was believed he had recovered from the shock. Mr. Bennett had been principal of the Klamath high school for the past two years. He was well liked by students and parents. A widow and a daughter in the high school survive.

The great advantage in making love in a flier, we hear, is you can start the thing so quickly.

joy, seen an opportunity for a first-class party. The hostess breaks up the afternoon by bringing a social occasion to a dinner party. Zeeb Pitts has the part of the human pawn.

"The Fast Set" is probably the biggest production yet made by William de Mille. It has all the color of New York's great White Way as a background for one of the most sparkling comedies of the season.

Sherrys Showing "Roaring Rails" Today and Tomorrow.

Good old primitive melodrama is the Harry Carey attraction at Sherrys. Instead of driving a horse of flesh and blood he drives an iron horse in "Roaring Rails" which calls upon every conceivable element to furnish action, thrills, suspense and heart appeal. Nothing is neglected to point a vigorous story of courageous heroism—some villainy of the despoiled dyer colors. Carey is quite at home in this picture. Although he has seen after some which demands up and at 'em action his moments of pathos are ever being registered because of the companionship of the adopted boy he brings back from France.

The role is that of a locomotive engineer and the first thrill is presented after the introduction of the characters. In driving an express train he allows a head-on collision through causing the youngster from falling out of the cab. Discharged, he becomes a hero and the following sequence is suggestive of Chaplin and Jackie
