27 YEARS AGO

Daily Morning Observer, January 11, 1898.—Mayor Carroll of Union is in this city.

There are 1120 pupils enrolled in the Baker City public schools.

Sleighing is better in the vicinity of Summerville than in La Grande.

Mr. Will Wright, cashier of the Union bank, returned last night from Elgin, where he had been on business.

The officers and members of Hope chapter No. 13, O. E. S., are requested to be present at the next regular meeting Jan. 12th.

Mr. L. B. Mitchell, of the firm of Mitchell and Daisley, the Summerville flouring mill men, was in the city yesterday and while in our office stated that their mill was now grinding on a 500 barrel order of flour for the Klondike.

Druggist F. Newlin left last night for Portland to be gone about ten days.

A good congregation greeted the preachers at the Union People Meeting held in the Presbyterian church last night. Rev. J. C. Thomas delivered a short sermon.

The Sunday school at the M. E. Church, South, has increased in number from 8 to 35 since the arrival of the new pastor.

The old timer, Mr. E. Fisher, who settled in this valley in 1862, and now resides about 17 miles from this place, near Summerville, was in town yesterday with butter and other farm products.

Turner Oliver returned from Union last night bringing the sad intelligence of the death of Ermaline, the sweet and charming baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oliver, which occurred at 10 minutes to 12 o'clock, the funeral will take place today at 11 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver have many friends in this city who will be greatly pained to learn of their misfortune. Ermaline was three years four months and two days old.

Last night the K. of P. hall presented one entire set of happy faces, wreathed in smiles as the Observer reporter slipped in to note the cause of all this jollity when we were informed that Knights and the Rathbone sisters had in the presence of a few friends publicly installed their officers for the new year.

District Deputy Grand Chief Mr. W. J. Snodgrass installed Rewona Temple No. 9 assisted by Grand Senior Mrs. Lula Henson. Grand Manager Mrs. Mary Tall proceeded to install the following officers:

Past Chief, Mrs. E. Ralston; most excellent chief, Mrs. Francis Weaver; excellent senior, Mrs. Della Wright; excellent junior, Mrs. E. P. Richey; manager of temple, Mrs. Ora Lincoln; master of records and correspondence, Mrs. Sadie Cayler; master of finance, Mrs. Alice Garland; protector of the temple, Mrs. Lena Thomas; guard of the outer gate, Mrs. Ella Ryncarson.

Thomas' orchestra furnished delightful music at the proper intervals, and Deputy Grand Chancellor R. L. Lincoln proceeded to install Red Cross Lodge No. 27, K. of P.

Chancellor commander, J. H. Peare; vice chancellor, Dr. A. L. Richardson; prelate, T. Conavon; keeper of records and seals, R. L. Lincoln; master of finance, A. P. Lewis; master exchequer, C. W. Melquist; master arms, I. W. Bart; master of work, O. Ralston; inside guard, W. T. Campbell; outer guard, Chas. Dunn. After this beautiful ceremony the chairs were removed and those who enjoy the excitement of waltzing were permitted to satisfy their pleasure with congenial friends and keep step to perfect music until—well no one realized how fast the hours did fly.

Every now and then a gift fountain pen lives up to its name by scattering ink all over the paper.

Five Sundays hath November—on which you will get to WEAR your new fall clothes.

Something falls on Sept. 7 this year. The calendar has it in red. Maybe that's the day some golf player will break a leg.

La Grande Theatres

Stage Success Is Now Big Film; Shows at Sherrys.

"Listen Lester," the musical comedy hit that had a long run on Broadway and was taken on tour for two seasons, will be shown at the Sherry theatre for the last time tonight.

The producers have been unusually fortunate in being able to secure for this cast, players who have long been identified as comedy favorites on the screen. Among the principals are Harry Myers, Lee Moran, Alec Francis, Geo. O'Hara, Eva Novak, Louise Fazenda and Dot Farley.

The picture is said to emphasize pure farce entertainment value, making only a superficial attempt at drama. The comedy element is featured and in this respect the producers are said to have been entirely successful, having given the screen one of the richest farces since "The Hottentot."

The story revolves around the attempt of a gay old philanderer to recover the letters he has been indiscreet enough to write to one of his passing amours. The letters, by theft or coincidence, change hands about fifty times during the course of the action. Ingenuity has been taxed to its limits in devising means by which this could be done without repetition. The film, which was directed by William Seiter, is a Principal Pictures release.

Also showing A Berg Nature picture.

Bert Lytell Severely Raps The Male Vamp.

Girls! Heed the warning! Bert Lytell is out of the running! He's too modest to admit anything that will put him in the Valentino class!

He denies emphatically almost swearingly, that he is a male vamp! He simply won't be a "sheik" to please any woman.

His "fan" letters have increased a thousand fold since the slender, dark men have become a vogue, but Bert doesn't think that's the reason.

The star was found on the side lines of "The Meanest Man in the World" set at Principals Picture studios, Hollywood.

"I'm not the cake-eater type," he said. "I don't want to be confused with the sizzling caveman with hairy arms and chest; the suave, oily heart-bandit, or anything else except an honest-to-goodness normal man with normal politeness and a normal amount of common sense.

"Some movie fans save photographs just like some other people save coupons," he continued. "I don't know how many stars' pictures it takes to get a nickel-plated cook stove, but I'm not silly enough to think that just because someone wants my picture, that someone is in love with me."

"What makes you dark chaps so popular these days?" asked a young woman who is also a member of the "Meanest Man" cast.

"Why, I'm not versed on that subject—is there a vogue for the darker men? That's right — Rudolph Valentino, Tony Moreno, I guess that's right," he mused. "Somehow I never thought of myself being in the class."

Lytell admits he likes the old-fashioned girl, the kind that wears ruffles and doesn't play politics. It all came out with: "How do you like knickers for men to wear to business?"

Quick as a flash he came back with: "A lot better than I like 'em on women!"

"The Meanest Man in the World," a First National picture will be shown at the Arcade theatre today.

Harness Shop, Robbed.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or.—The Connolly brothers harness shop was robbed for the third time in nine months, according to a report to the police. Merchandise valued at $100 was taken. The prowlers gained entrance by breaking a window at the rear of the store. Several guns and a complete outfit of hunting clothes were taken.
