Members of the Clio club met last evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Bohannon, Jr. at their home on First street. Nine tables of bridge with Mrs. E. Stoddard and Dr. Lee Baurly winning high honors among the club members and the guest prizes going to Mrs. Chas. H. Reynolds and H. C. Coburn.

The rooms were artistically decorated in a color scheme of pink and white, pink carnations being used profusely. A dainty two course luncheon in the same color scheme, was served at an appropriate hour.

Mrs. Bruce Dennis was hostess to the Lucky Thirteen club yesterday afternoon. After having luncheon at the dining room of the Foley hotel the guests were taken to the Dennis home on O'Connell, where the afternoon was enjoyably spent at bridge, with Mrs. W. G. Sawyer winning high score and the guest prize going to Mrs. P. B. Appleby.

The Art Department of the Neighborhood club had a very interesting meeting yesterday when they met at the club rooms with Mrs. F. A. Epling in charge of the program. "The Parthenon" was the subject of the afternoon and was handled in an excellent manner by Mrs. Epling. She gave a very comprehensive idea of the ruins and a clear conception of the former majestic temple. "The Parthenon" is a large white marble building of the Greek period and is situated on the Acropolis of Athens. It was dedicated to the goddess Athena and was the seat of the government of the city.

Approximately one hundred and fifty members of Hope Chapter, No. 13, Order of the Eastern Star, met for their regular meeting Wednesday evening, at which time installation services were held. Mrs. Myrtle Broughton, Past Worthy Matron, was the installing officer and was assisted by Evelyn Hearnshaw, as Marshall, Rose McEwen, as organist, and Mrs. Lucy Smith as chaplain. The services were especially beautiful this year, due to the effective manner in which they were handled by the above officers.

The following were installed: Maude K. Eberhard, Worthy Matron; Ernest R. King, Worthy Patron; Carrie J. Steincamp, Associate Matron; Florence Bacon, secretary; Ella W. Russell, treasurer; Minnie E. Hodgins, Conductress; Anna S. Greave, Associate Conductress; Stella S. Ingle, Chaplain; Martha Pearl Cochran, Marshall; Nellie G. Neill, organist; Mildred Hoyt, Adm.; Bess Warner Cook, Ruth Lena J. Hollister, Esther Hazel Graham, Martha; Ethel S. Lynch, Electa; Emma W. Power, Warden; and John C. McEwen, Sentinel.

A practice which has almost become a custom in Hope Chapter was featured, flowers being left in the stations by each outgoing officer in the form of a quaint fashioned corsage boutonniere. In the new officers' assembly their places. Mrs. Eberhard also gave sprays of carnations to each new officer and the installing officers.

Martin Elliott Parker, who was matron during the year 1923 and who now makes her home in Portland, was present for the occasion and added much to the pleasure of the evening as she is one of Hope Chapter's most charming and popular members.

Netta K. Eakia was presented with the Past Matron's jewel by Hope Chapter, presentation being made by co-worker, Chas. Binkert, who was Worthy Patron during 1924.

At the close of the business of the evening the members of the club were entertained by a very interesting and enjoyable program.

meeting Mrs. Everett Beatty and Mrs. Andrew Loney, Jr., chairman of sections 1 and 2 and their committees served delicious refreshments.

Fashion Notes

Paris. — Tunics are now being trained to be trains. One evening frock seen here today consists of a pale blue and gold lace slip over which is worn a blue tulle tunic so cut as to form long points in the back which sweep the floor. The tunic is banded with gold lace ribbon at the short sleeves and at the hip line.

Paris. — The new French bags are flatter than ever, but they have ceased to be square. Some are round, some oval, some hexagon and some diamond shaped. Practically all have a tassel.

London. — One trunk now Madeira bound for the winter contains a short one piece dress of white crepe de chine which is decorated at waistline, collar and cuffs most attractively with bands of green crepe de chine embroidered in white. The skirt is marked by wide box pleats.

London. — No chance that the collars of the newest burberry sweater will shrink for they are formed of scarfs attached at one end which wrap about the throat, the free end slipping through a loop at the side to hold it in place.

New York. — Perforations form the principal adornment of the new spring oxfords. These leathers are marked by a round stubby toe and a fairly low broad heel. Russian calf is the smart leather for them. The evening slippers are exactly the opposite, with high narrow heels and long, narrow toes.

New York. — The time when a vest pocket comb was a part of the equipment of every country swain has gone, but the custom has been revived by nearly all wearers of hobbled hair. Every bag nowadays contains a tiny comb in gold, enamel or lacquer which is used freely in public.

New York. — Hundreds of fur coats have been bought in New York shops in the last week. Price reductions have been sharp and careful women have balanced their prices against those problems next all with cost for storage and alterations added and decided to buy now.

Need A Bobber Be A Barber? Edna Says No!

(By NEA Service)
When is a barber not a barber. Whether that is silly or not, a Utah court gave that answer when the question was put to it.
Edna Houtz, proprietor of a Salt Lake City beauty parlor, had been found guilty in one court of violating a law which requires barbers to pass an examination. She appealed and was upheld.
"If the Utah legislators intended to classify bobbing as barbering they certainly neglected to say so in their law," said the court.
And merrily the snippers and the clippers are snipping and clipping in Edna's establishment.

MOTOR CAR TO USE CRUDE OIL

Inventor Claims Automobile Can Be Operated Much More Cheaply by New Method.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A solution of the problem of how to drive an automobile on crude oil, at one-third of the cost of gasoline, is claimed by a Swedish inventor, Nils Anderson, who has perfected an engine attachment for this purpose after several years of experimenting. Anderson's device can readily be installed on any ordinary motor and makes it possible to use crude oil, kerosene, wood alcohol, or gasoline.

The crux of the problem, says the inventor, was the fact that crude oil cannot be completely vaporized, and without special treatment the residue would clog the engine. He solves this by exposing the oil to intense heat which shatters such ingredients as cannot be turned into gas. They remain in the form of a combustible fluid and are consumed during the explosion in the cylinder. When using crude oil the motor must, however, be started with gasoline from a separate small container, while the oil is carried in the regular gasoline tank of the car.

The crude oil attachment consists of a super-heater, a special carburetor and exhaust pipe, together with the necessary connecting rods for manipulation.

Among the advantages claimed are a smaller quantity of oil consumed per mile, less lubrication, no overheating of the engine, and a reduction of about 76 per cent from the cost of running a car on gasoline.

Bible Reading Proposed.

STATEHOUSE, Salem, Ore. — Bible reading in the schools will be compulsory under a bill to be introduced by Senator Garland of Linn county. Selection of the reading course would be under the jurisdiction of a commission of seven or nine members, to be appointed by the governor. One member would be a Catholic, one a Jew, one a Christian Scientist and the remainder from Protestant denominations.

SWACKHAMMERS AT HOT LAKE

HOT LAKE (Special)—The year 1925 has opened with a rush at the Hot Lake sanatorium. Many are daily entering both the hospital and sanatorium sections of the institution and both are more busy than they have ever been so soon after the holiday season.

Among the arrivals the two, who are probably the most interesting to Grande Ronde valley residents, are Dr. and Mrs. Walter Swackhammer, both born and raised in Union. When they stopped to visit Dr. Fry and make the sanatorium their headquarters while seeing friends in all sections of the valley, they registered from Portland. They are just moving there from Boise so that Dr. Swackhammer may take over the direction of the United States veteran's hospital, number 42. As it is around this point that much discussion and dissatisfaction of Portland veterans has centered, the selection of Dr. Swackhammer for it is considered a decided compliment to him. He will be supervisor over eight medical officers, 16 nurses, five technicians and 80 attendants. Dr. Swackhammer has been with the veteran's hospital of Boise for the past four years, having been in charge there since last June.

Mrs. Giles Harnden of La Grande has been a patient in the hospital for the past few days.

Mrs. G. R. Williams is a second La Grande resident who has been a patient here this week.

Miss Harriet Ekersley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ekersley of Cove, and a former instructor in the schools of Union and Cove, has come out to the sanatorium for consultation and treatment. Miss Ekersley is now living in Portland.

Fire Chief Registered.

Chief of the fire department of Walla Walla, Wash., is William Metz, who returns from the city. Both Metz and his wife have been patients here for the past few days.

Charles E. Kelley, who registers from Wilder, Ida., owns a farm in that district.

Another agriculturist who has come to the sanatorium during the past few days is P. G. Bowman of Rehmette.

Though "retired" from the active business world, Neil Campbell, who is down from Halley, Idaho, for treatment, still owns interests in mines, lumber camps and hotels and his word is still sought as the final one in decisions about those enterprises. Campbell has been one of the most active business figures of southern Idaho and his name is prominently connected with much constructive work varying from building dams to towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moorhead are both patients from Hazel. Mr. Moorhead is manager of the branch of the White Pine Lumber company which is located there.

Dr. P. E. Hearnall, a prominent Washington physician who registers from Grandview, has brought his mother here for treatment. Mrs. Hearnall is in the hospital.

Students at Sanatorium

Three students of the Twin Falls high school who are taking treatment here are Fay Holloway, Jess Todd and F. B. Bowman.

Mrs. E. R. Lottridge is a patient in the sanatorium hospital. Though Mrs. Lottridge registers from Baker she is well known to La Grande residents for her husband is manager of the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company.

Mrs. C. P. Lappin has brought her son down from Council Bluffs, for a surgical operation. The Lappins are ranch owners.

Frank Bidwell, of the Bidwell and Evans Grain company of North Powder, is in the sanatorium hospital recovering from a minor surgical operation. Mrs. Bidwell has been here with her husband.

Mrs. George Clark, whose husband's profession of plumbing has made him the coldest man in Union since the era of cold weather and heating pipes, is a patient in the hospital.

C. B. McCoy of Palouse, Wash., is an orchardist who has come down for a surgical operation.

Wife of Umatilla county's deputy sheriff is Mrs. Norma Wheeler, a patient from Pendleton.

Mrs. J. W. Galbraith of Prairie City is a hospital patient. She and Mr. Galbraith are owners of a large ranch.

From Pennsylvania comes Mrs. N. M. Brooks to be with a sister who has come down from Mountain Home, Idaho, for a surgical operation.

Ray Blanchard, well known to Union county farmers as the dealer in Rawleigh's products and champion salesman for this area, is a patient from Elgin. Blanchard has undergone a minor surgical operation.

J. B. Riley, of Everett, Wash., and owner of the Everett pharmacy of that city, is a patient here.

Ross Carney, proprietor of the Pendleton Trading company, is a patient from the Round-Up city.
