Evening Gown

HELL pink silk voile and bands of pink velvet make this very lovely evening gown with a panel that becomes a side train or may be looped over the arm as a scarf. It achieves simplicity with an air of severity and is a style that is becoming to almost every type of figure.

Mrs. Lee Bouvy was hostess to the Clio club Saturday afternoon at her home on Washington avenue. Bouquets of beautiful pink roses were attractively arranged throughout the home making a delightful setting for an afternoon of bridge. Four tables were at play with Mrs. H. F. Bohmkamp winning the club prize and the guest prize going to Mrs. J. E. Foley.

Miss Hulda Anderson's Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church had a good time Saturday evening when they gave a party in the community room of the church. Approximately thirty girls were present and the evening was spent at games after a short business meeting. Delicious refreshments were served, after which the time adjourned to meet again something in February for a St. Valentine party.

Palestine Lauds Work of U.S. Women

JERUSALEM (AP)—The efficiency of the Hadassah Medical Organization, an American Jewish women's association, is praised in the annual report of the Palestine government's department of health. The part played by the Hadassah in hospitalization is attested by the statement that "of the 21,000 patients treated this year in all the non-governmental hospitals, one-third was treated in the Hadassah."

The Hadassah Medical Organization, the creation of the Women's Zionist Organization of America, derives about one-fourth of its $450,000 yearly budget from the Palestine Foundation Fund. Speaking of infant welfare, the report states: "The drop-of-milk scheme in Jerusalem has been merged into the health welfare centers, which the Hadassah Medical Organization is conducting on modern lines under the direction of well trained and experienced personnel. The Hadassah has opened several new centers in Jerusalem and extended the work to the year. It has also established the six month course of training for graduate prospective nurses who wish to qualify in health welfare work."

In the chapter on the mortality rate the report points to the fact that "as a result of the activities of the infant welfare stations in Jerusalem the proportion of deaths among babies in 1922 was 140 per 1000 births, as compared with 150 in 1921-1922."

Appreciation is expressed of the activities of another American organization, the Anti-Malaria Research Unit, financed by the Joint Distribution Committee of New York.

"The anti-malaria work accomplished by the research unit has been of the greatest value," the director of health states, "and its results are already apparent in the disappearance or great diminution of primary malaria in the Jewish colonies, both new and old, in Palestine."

The report states that "hygiene work in most of the Jewish schools was conducted by Hadassah in a most careful manner."

Mentioning the Hadassah nurses' school the report recalls that "this institution continued its work as the largest center for the education and training of nurses in the schools."

Mention is also made of the sick fund (Kupath Cholim) of the Jewish Labor Association and the extension of the work of this fund by the establishment of a network of clinics and convalescent homes within the country. Three clinics and 23 rural clinics having been opened. Towards the budget of this fund amounting to about $150,000, the Palestine Foundation Fund contributes about $50,000.

WOMAN SUES FOR $3548

EUGENE, Ore.—Mrs. Hazel Weller of this city filed action in circuit court against the Mountain States Power company. She asks damages of $3548.

She says in her complaint that her lungs and heart were badly affected.

Seekers of Thrones Call On High Heavens

COBURG, Germany (AP)—Mysticism and the alleged manifestations of Heaven figure so conspicuously in the communications of rival claimants for the Russian throne, a throne which no longer exists, that central and western Europe generally regard the family row of the Romanoffs as an uncanny and useless performance.

Since his original manifesto declaring himself the rightful czar of all the Russias, Grand Duke Cyril has remained silent in his Coburg villa, and there are indications that he and his supporters will keep the Russian court and its doings well under cover because of the Communist efforts to have the self-styled czar expelled from republican Germany.

There is something so fantastic and Asiatic in all the actions of the Romanoffs that liberal-minded people of the west cannot take them seriously. Even the aged Marie Feodorovna, mother of the murdered Czar Nicholas, Danish princess though she be and sister of Alexandra, England's queen dowager, sounds this same note. She has never believed her son is dead and, in denying the claims of all successors, especially of Grand Duke Cyril, she talks of the divine right of rulers as if the world were plunged back into the Middle Ages.

Cal's Cousin

Gertrude Victoria Moore of Brattleboro, Vt., went down to Washington to see her cousin, President Coolidge. Gertrude, a stenographer in a law office in Brattleboro, was named after the president's mother, "Victoria Moore." She was born near the Coolidge homestead in Plymouth, Vt. What's more, she's a sorority sister of the "first lady" as both she and Mrs. Coolidge are members of Pi Beta Phi.

RECIPES

Coffee and Fig Mousse. 1 qt. cold coffee, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/2 cup syrup, 4 egg whites, 2 tablespoons gelatin, 1 cup whipped cream. Heat the coffee and syrup to boiling point. Dissolve the gelatin in water. Combine and cool. Beat the whites of eggs until very stiff and when mixture begins to beat heat them in a fold in the whipped cream, turn into a mold and pack in salt and ice. When ready to serve slice and top with whipped cream and fig marmalade.

Lamb Souffle. 2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons shortening, 2 tablespoons corn flour, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 2 cups chopped cooked lamb, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup corn flakes, 1/2 cup pepper to taste. Make a sauce of the shortening, flour and milk. To this sauce add the chopped lamb, corn flakes, parsley, seasonings and well beaten egg yolks. Beat the whites of eggs until stiff and fold into the first mixture. Bake in a baking dish in a slow oven 30 minutes.

French Potatoes. Scrub and pare potatoes of uniform size. Parboil ten minutes, drain and place in pan in which meat is roasting. Bake until soft, beating the potatoes when basting meat. Forty minutes or more will be required for baking, depending upon the size of the potatoes.

Wynne Ferguson Auction Bridge. EASY LESSONS IN AUCTION BRIDGE. ARTICLE No. 10. That auction and its attendant rules are not yet standardized throughout the country is well illustrated by the following...

Hand No. 2: Hearts—6, 5, 4, 3, 2; Clubs—4, 3; Diamonds—5, 2; Spades—7, 4, 3, 2. No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump and A passed. What should Y now bid with the foregoing hand? The proper bid by Y is two hearts. It is the weakest kind of hand but offers a better defense with hearts trump than of no-trump. In the actual play of the hand, Y did bid two hearts and made two odd, while at no-trump Z would have gone down three tricks.

Hand No. 3: Hearts—4; Clubs—10, 6; Diamonds—K, Q, J, 7; Spades—A, K, Q, 7, 5, 2. No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one spade. A two hearts, Y two spades and B and Z passed. A bid three hearts and Y and B passed. Z bid three spades. A four hearts, Y doubled and B passed. What should Z now do with the foregoing hand? Z should bid four spades. The fact that Y has helped the spade bid and also doubled four hearts work make it practically certain that Z could score four spades, game and rubber. On the other hand, it doesn't look from Z's hand that he and his partner can beat the four heart double more than a trick or so. Never give up a certain game and rubber unless sure of at least 300 points penalty.

Hand No. 4: Hearts—A, 7, 2; Clubs—K, 10, 8, 7, 2; Diamonds—Q, 8, 4; Spades—5, 7. No score, first game. Z dealt and bid one spade and in passed. What should A lead from the foregoing hand? A should lead the deuce of hearts. A lead from an ace and only two little cards against a declared suit is always sound, especially if the hand offers no other lead that is sound. The club lead is bad because it made will probably cause the loss of the game.
