Former Resident Visits Lake—

One of Dr. Fay's first assistants at Hot Lake, Dr. R. S. Armes, of Flies, Idaho, stopped at the Lake for a visit yesterday. Dr. Armes is returning to his home in Flies, from the Willamette valley, where he was called because of the serious illness of his sister. Dr. Armes was an interested visitor at the scenes of some of his early activities, and was greatly interested in the probed cattle on the Phymore farm, as he has resided from the medical profession and raised purchased short horns and Dorset Jersey hogs on his ranch in Idaho.

Pendleton Woman Recovering—

After her third recent attempt to commit suicide, Mrs. Ethel Moore, pretty young divorcee, was removed from St. Anthony's hospital today, recovering from poisoning caused by swallowing three bicarbonate of mercury tablets. A relative of Mrs. Moore declares that unhappiness over a love affair with a local man caused her to take poison, her other attempt at self destruction having been by means of swallowing carbolic acid. Each time she resisted medical aid and on the occasion of the third poisoning physicians found it difficult to give her treatment as she seemed, says her sister, bent on accomplishing her own death. Mrs. Moore has been employed in a Pendleton home and has friends here who are glad that she is recovering. It is felt she attempted suicide because of great mental depression and that for this reason she was not responsible.—Pendleton Oregonian.

SOONS VISIT AT MONMOUTH

MONMOUTH (Special)—A committee from the Oregon state legislature visited the Oregon normal school recently in order to learn the conditions of the school. Assembly was called at 2 o'clock and all classes dismissed so that all could meet these gentlemen. The chapel was filled with students and pupils. Different members of the committee made short talks and pledged themselves to do all that was possible for the Oregon State normal. That the O. N. S. had been slighted in the appointment of the school funds for the state school seemed to be the sentiment of this committee and during this session of legislators they are going to try to make a more equitable division of this money.

The basketball team of the Oregon normal school met the basketball team from the Dental college of Portland Friday evening at the local gymnasium, which ended in a 22 to 10 score in favor of the normal school.

The students of the Oregon normal school held their regular election the latter part of last week. Miss Florence Metcalf was elected president of the student body for the ensuing year.

Miss LaVelle Wood, who has charge of the home economics department has returned to school after being called home by the death of her mother.

DIPHTHERIA IN NOME SPREADS

NOME, Alaska (AP)—Nome has a diphtheria epidemic, and an antidote. The nearest known supply of antitoxin is at Anchorage, 600 miles away, and must come by dog team. Several deaths have occurred.

There is only one physician, and new cases are appearing daily. The United States public health service, in response to a request relayed by radio, cable and by land telegraph, has ordered 1,000,000 antitoxin units dispatched from Seattle. This must come by way of Seward and the Alaskan railway to Nenana, 400 miles away, and thence by dog team. This would take 50 days.

Dan Sutherland, delegate in congress from Alaska, has sent word that he is trying to get an airplane to fly from Fairbanks, Alaska, and pick up the antitoxin at Nenana. By this means it would take a week to bring the life-saving agent from Seattle. The one physician has already shown signs of overwork and Geo. S. Maynard, mayor of Nome, has appointed a special health board and engaged at public expense all the available nurses.

The schools have been closed and Nome has been quarantined.

Our missionary efforts will be effective in proportion as we render them in the same spirit of brotherhood which marked the earliest Christian mission," the president said.

HERRIN PROBE IS UNDER WAY

The witnesses who were outside of the hotel at the time testified that at least three shots were fired by persons outside of the hotel and that shots came from the upper windows of the hotel and from the direction of the office of E. N. Bowen, city judge, across the street.

The mysterious shot heard on the main street of the town and supposed to have been fired at Ross Liberty, a policeman, was in reality fired by Liberty, some of the witnesses indicated, although none could testify that they actually saw him shoot. The eye witnesses all agreed that Thomas killed Young, while several added that Young killed Thomas after receiving a fatal wound. Opinions differed as to who killed Ed Forbes and all denied any knowledge of who killed Homer Warren, but all agreed he must have been killed by bullets fired from the outside.

Shorter Galligan, with an escort of two automobile loads of deputies, arrived early and went into a truck in front of the house, where he accompanied him, while others scattered through the crowd. One deputy, stationed on top of a truck in front of the house, remained on guard through the funeral services. Galligan and his men were heavily armed.

The Rev. John Meeker, Presbyterian minister, in the course of the funeral sermon, said that nothing but personal religion could save Herrin.

Young will be buried Thursday. Saturday's shooting occurred shortly after Justice Bowen had adjourned a night session of city court. As the court broke up a shot started these on the main street and Ross Liberty, a Herrin policeman, dropped to the ground and then rose trembling who had shot at him. The shot hit a concrete column in front of Liberty.

How Soldier Dispersed Attacks

"For two years my stomach trouble was very bad, my doctor had to inject morphine on several occasions when I was stricken with those attacks. After taking 4 bottles of May's Wonderful Remedy I have been entirely well and am serving in the artillery, having been pronounced in perfect health by government physicians." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the intestinal excess from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all drug stores.—Adv.

Hunt's Letter

Kellogg came up before a committee of lawyers for examination for admission to practice.

He was nervous and plainly rattled. He floundered about, unable to express plainly even what he knew.

One of the committee frankly stated he didn't think Kellogg would do.

A second member, C. M. Start, later chief justice of the Minnesota courts, said he thought the young man knew a lot more law than he was able to tell.

The third member was won over to this viewpoint and the committee finally decided to license him. He got by, but it was a "close squeak."

No man who gets into the law by such self-denying labor ever forgets his "first case." Kellogg never has forgotten his.

The suit was over the ownership of a horse. Kellogg's client had possession of the steed, ownership of which was contested by the other party to the action.

For his services, Kellogg was to be paid $5 in cash and was to receive transportation to and from the county seat, 15 miles away.

Yesterday In Congress

Recommendations of President Coolidge's agricultural commission were made public.

The Underwood bill for private leasing of Minecreek Shale was sent to conference by the house.

House Republicans called a caucus for February 27 to select candidates for speaker and floor leader.

Attorney General Stone's nomination to be an associate justice of the supreme court was debated in the senate.

Representatives of a number of churches appeared before the house foreign affairs committee to urge American participation in the world court.

Indications pointed to several changes in key positions at the department of justice, in addition to the retirement of Attorney General Stone.

Secretary Wilbur told the house military committee that President Coolidge was opposed to the bill for unification of the army and navy air services.

Final congressional action was taken by the senate on passage of the South-Hoeh resolution looking ultimately to a readjustment of freight rates.

Memorial Day Ruling Advocated By Order

Another organization of this city has adopted a resolution similar to the one approved by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and has gone on record as favoring a Memorial day entirely consecrated to the memory of those soldier heroes who lie in their last resting places.

The resolution asks that no dances, ball games, carnivals, traveling shows, prize fights and similar amusements be permitted to be staged in La Grande on Memorial day and following the lead of the Eagles, requests that the city commission pass a city ordinance making it unlawful for any amusement of this kind to be held in La Grande on that day.

The resolutions presented to the Evening Observer by officers of the order, follows in part: "Recommended by the La Grande Knights of the Ku Klux Klan." "Be it resolved, that we hereby go on record in opposition to any ball games, traveling shows, dances, prize fights, carnivals or similar amusements to be held within the city limits of La Grande on May 30th, Memorial Day.

"That this resolution shall be in the form of a request to the city commission, to pass a city ordinance, making it unlawful for any amusement of the kind mentioned to be held in La Grande on Memorial Day.

"That we feel that this day, set aside to honor and respect our dead, should be observed in accordance with its purpose."

Bachelor to Reign in England, British Fear

(Continued from Page 1) dish, Lady Mary Gordon-Leonnox and Lady Mary Cambridge, who were all freely discussed as prospective brides for the Prince of Wales, have married. In fact the lot of English girls of suitable age is becoming distressingly narrowed, and as most Englishmen have made up their minds that David Edward is not going outside his father's realm for a bride, the prince will probably have to choose his bride from a younger generation.

So interested have the public become in this chapter of his life, His Royal Highness can hardly attend house parties or dances without a resounding echo connecting his name with some debutante being heard immediately throughout Mayfair, then down to Southwick and Clapham. Since returning from his last trip the prince has successfully counteracted this gossip by not appearing at dances and house parties. At the present time there is no girl being honored in the prospective Princess of Wales.

There are many people in London now who whisper that the announcement of the engagement of the Prince of Wales will never come and that he is going to be that strange complex, a bachelor king. Some who profess to know even say the prince has often stated he does not want to marry. So far as the outward circumstances show, the betting is on their side.

Final congressional action was taken by the senate on passage of the South-Hoeh resolution looking ultimately to a readjustment of freight rates.
