Mrs. John T. Harvey, Jr., entertained Friday afternoon at her home at 1861 Washington avenue honoring Mrs. W. D. Smith, who is spending the winter in this city from Washington. Crossword puzzles were in order for the afternoon, first prize going to Mrs. Smith, guest of honor, for having completed her puzzle first and the consolation prize going to Mrs. C. E. Duffy.

An excellent luncheon was served at an appropriate hour.

Embroidered Roses

Just two large embroidered roses—one a delicate pink and the other a deep rose trim this attractive black velvet gown with its classic simplicity of line. There is fitness in the front and adds to the grace and comfort of the gown.

Members of the Art Department of the Neighborhood club spent a very interesting afternoon yesterday when they met at the club rooms for their regular meeting. "Greek Sculptors" was the subject for the day with Mrs. J. E. Woodell, Mrs. Alvah Duryea and Mrs. Tom Walsinger in charge.

This was the first time Mrs. Woodell and Mrs. Walsinger have appeared before the department and they show much knowledge of art subjects. During the business session plans were made for work in the future.

A Dutch dance given by Ruth Conner and Katherine Hildegar, won a great deal of applause. The program consisted also of a number of solos by Mrs. Helene Stenzen. HEALTH

TO PREVENT PNEUMONIA

(By Dr. Frederick Stricker) Man should be familiar with pneumonia as it has been known for centuries. But it is a persistent enemy and kills over six hundred and fifty persons every year in Oregon. Pneumonia cannot be placed under absolute control, but individuals may, by caring for themselves properly, lessen their chances for contracting the disease by observing the following rules:

Dress for the weather. When coming out of the cold, heavily dressed, remove your heavy wraps immediately. If your clothes are wet, remove them, dry the skin, and put on dry clothes. When going out in the cold, dress warmly. After having put on heavy clothing, go out immediately; don't stand around and get overheated. Don't exercise and then stand around or sit around with the same clothing on.

Don't take a warm bath and then go out in the cold. It is best to finish the bath with cool or cold water.

Dress in such a way as to gradually accommodate the body to changes which otherwise would be sudden.

Keep fit, breathe pure air, take regular but moderate exercise in the open, practice mouth hygiene, avoid overeating and other excesses. Study your diet and avoid contamination by choice of proper foods. Don't overheat the home or office; keep the air moist. Always wash the hands before eating.

Pneumonia is a reportable disease. Assist in its control by insisting that every case be properly recorded.

A mortgage on a home is usually a sign that a young man wants to get ahead; a mortgage on a car is often a sign that he don't care if he never gets ahead.

MRS. BARRETT TELLS OF PHY

In an article in the February issue of "Success," the famous Mrs. Rose Tyler Barrett has written bits of the early history of Eastern Oregon. The "only woman city manager" in the United States writes of the early life of Dr. W. T. Phy and of Governor Pierce. Her article runs in part as follows:

The hot springs were first described by the Astor-Hunt expedition of 1812 as "the medical springs where not only the Indians but great herds of elk and deer came to partake of the health giving qualities." "Between these giant springs and Cove, famed as the cherry blossom land of Eastern Oregon is a promontory called Phy's Point. Here less than 50 years ago a boy was born and grew up in these surroundings. Since it didn't cost anything, he dreamed dreams, unable to enjoy material luxuries, he indulged in the luxury of building castles in the air. Some day he would be a great physician and surgeon. By the giant springs he would build a great sanatorium where he would heal the sick and make the lame walk. And so, his dream has come true!

At the bath house one day while passing through Hot Lake, I noticed a little girl whose face beamed. I asked her what was the cause of her happiness, and lifting her face to mine, with her whole soul in her eyes she answered: "Wouldn't you be happy if you could walk for the first time in your life?" She expressed exactly what Dr. Phy is doing out in God's country."

Mrs. Barrett is well known to most Oregon people. She is a frequent visitor in this part of the country, and has often stopped at the Hot Lake sanatorium.
