An assembly was held Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The speaker of the morning, Rev. George A. Pollard, was introduced by Professor Towler.

The theme Reverend Pollard spoke upon was "Life". He stressed three distinct attitudes of life. By reciting poetry, prose, and comic sketches of every day life, Reverend Pollard's speech was made so emphatic that even the roughest could discern his meaning.

Warren Gilbert took the floor following Mr. Pollard and was hailed with delight by his many eager listeners. He announced the proximity of the movie "The Man Without a Country," encouraging all students to attend.

The meeting was then turned over to the student body president, Ralph Webb. As the MacTavish plan was planning to beat the Pen-dleton Buckaroos on their home field, Ralph called on various members of the squad for short talks. Wee to Pendleton, if all threats are carried out. Among those who orated were "Tubby" Zundahl, Frank Unamuno, Richard Layman, Donald Patten and last but not least the serious-minded John Larson.

Anne Stange gave a farewell speech as she will continue her studies in St. Helens Academy in Portland. She will prove her worthiness in the girls' game Saturday evening with the Union girls.

A yell competition was held and the Juniors followed the lead-out to them the credit should be given.

The Topic of the Day club held its first meeting of this semester Thursday morning. Several new members were admitted and officers for the next two weeks were elected. Miss Vedder was elected chairman and Eileen Kiddie secretary.

This club was organized by Mrs. Young's History IV class. Regular meetings are held every Friday when the events of the day are discussed. The club was very successful last semester and proved to be an interesting and original way in which to study that part of the history.

An assembly was called Thursday afternoon for the A. G. S. Girls. At this time the regular business meeting was held, with the program, social, big sister, service, health, constitution, and refreshment committees giving their reports. Miss French laid out of the remodeling of the rest room for the girls. New draperies and pillows have been made by the Domestic Art girls while the manual training boys have made seats. The rest room will be open for the girls before long.

New business was then taken up and the "Trail Seekers' club" was discussed by Miss Bennett and Phyllis Seranton.

Suggestions for the April Antics were mentioned and the meeting adjourned.

Domestic Art II girls are making linen dresses while the A students in this class have their choice of making voile or tub silk dresses.

The enrollment of the high school is now four hundred and seventy four.

The A. G. S. this year are trying the development of a new idea for the entertainment for the girls who bring their lunch at noon.

Special dances, piano and vocal solos are some of the features that have been presented before the girls in the auditorium. This plan has never been worked out before but it is proving to be very successful.

A pep assembly under the direction of Miss Miller was held last week for the purpose of learning some songs. After singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "A Song of Love," the students were led in some yells by Gifford Shier. The student body president then called on several men from the basketball team to tell about the game with Wallawa. The assembly was then dismissed and students reported to their seventh period classes.

The American History II classes are trying something new this semester.

Instead of the class as a whole studying a current topic, a committee is appointed every week by the teacher to assign oral topics to a certain member of the class. This report is given at the beginning of the period by the student who has been appointed for the work. It has been arranged that a different oral topic will be given every day by some member of the class. This plan, so far has worked out successfully and has proved to be worth while as well as interesting.

The Glee club under the supervision of Miss Miller, is working on programs which will be given before the assembly once a week.

The Commercial club has been reorganized by Miss Miller. The constitution has been drawn up, the officers have been elected and all the committees except one have been selected.

An executive committee meeting of the A. G. S. was held Wednesday night. The work for the next semester was discussed and the committee chairman gave their plans concerning the A. G. S. work. The annual A. G. S. entertainment, the April Antics, was discussed, work is expected to begin on "The Antics" sometime in the near future.

Scotch play cast has been selected. The play chosen is the well known "Seventeen" by Booth Tarkington. It will be presented about the middle of March, under the able direction of Miss Bennett.

The Latin class word puzzles which have been made by Miss Vernon, the Latin instructor. They have caused much competition among the Latin students, and Latin classes no longer lack interest.

Hungarian Countess, Once Rich, lives in Small Barn

BUDAPEST (AP).—Countess Alexandra Forgaeh, daughter of the late Count Alexander Forgaeh, who was one of the wealthiest landowners in Hungary, affords the unique spectacle of a countess living in a chicken barn. In the little commune of Bildeghut, immediately outside of Budapest, and adjacent to the fashionable residential section known as "Cool Valley," the countess lives within four plain board walls in a room about 8 by 9 feet and numerous chickens and a large brood of pigs.

The countess is now an old, withered dame, clad in a man's long coat and soldier's boots. She speaks French fluently with a rich, mellow voice, and makes no bones whatever about her story.

"I am a daughter of Count Alexander Forgaeh," she said recently. "My sister Elise committed suicide; my brother Anton was killed at the same time with his friend and master, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. From my father I inherited 40,000 gulden. I was frivolous when a young girl. As I had a good voice, I was determined to go to the opera but my father said that a Countess could not choose such a profession. So I ran away to Paris. There I got along well on the stage. I appeared under the stage name of Corinne Mare, and was in a class with Adeline Patil and Christine Nielsen. We composed notes especially for me. In Paris, Rome and London I achieved great triumphs. Later I became the friend of Benvenuto Cellini at Paris. When I learned that my father was dying, I hurried back to Hungary.

"After his death I remained in Hungary and took charge of my inheritance. I really don't know what happened to my money. I should like to get back my property at 25s. All I want is a room and a hundred chickens and twenty dogs."

Her relatives state that the countess has lived at such a level since that there is literally nothing left of her estate.

FLASHING LIGHTS THRUWAY Pathway Into France

LONDON (AP).—In readiness for the night air service to Paris, planned by the Imperial Airways, 41 new flashing beacons have been installed between London and the north coast of England, to indicate the boundaries of the four air routes and landing grounds on the route. Fed by acetylene gas stored in cylinders, the lights will operate for six months without attention.

FOX: SILVER FOX
Being a pioneer of the northwest in raising and marketing Silver Fox. I doubt if there is any other business cheaper to enter, easier to handle or more profitable; but it is the quality and grade of stock, how and where to secure it, is your problem.

Few seem to realize that this is the one line where the Agent, Broker, Hybrid or Commission Salesman should have no place. Also ask yourself why a fox farm in one place with an office to promote sales in another? Perhaps the answer would be that the quality is so low that they could not be sold to you otherwise.

I personally own breeding stock with as high pet values as is for sale. I feed and care for my own stock, conduct my own sales. My fox pens are my office. The prices I quote you on breeders are only an average. Secure your information here where it is reliable and best authority. Located on Oregon Trail Highway, H. W. SMITH, Prop. R. F. D. No. 2, La Grande, Oregon.

INDEPENDENCE SITE IN GIVEN LEGION

INDEPENDENCE, Kan.—Title to the 58-acre farm near here which was presented to the Kansas department of the American Legion for the erection of Regional Children's Bilet No. 2, as part of the Legion's program to care for World War orphans, is now vested in the department. The deed to the farm was turned over to the Legion by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Babney of this city. The orphans at a ceremony held here recently by Harold R. Andrews, Post No. 129. Speeches were made by Department Commander Frank Haucke and by Mr. Babney.

Mr. Babney's gift was made conditional upon the department's depositing in a local bank the sum of $50,000. The department carried on a campaign for funds to support the work and raised $100,000. The deposit was then turned over the deed.

The donors have also agreed to give the Legion $25,000. Of this amount, $5,000 is to be paid when the bill is ready to be occupied, which is expected to be some time this summer. The remainder will be paid at the rate of $1,000 yearly for 20 years.

Bavarian Police Toward Aged Couple's Plan to Emulate Erich Blauvelt's

BLAUVELT, Bavaria (AP).—The second day of advent brought great excitement to this village, as an elderly man and wife had announced that they would ascend direct to heaven at that time. The man and wife gave away all their possessions, abandoned their work, and stood in readiness on a hilltop, surrounded by curious villagers. At noon the sun burst through the clouds and the aged couple expected the fiery chariot to appear just as it did for Erich Blauvelt nearly 2,000 years ago.

But it was policemen instead of chariot wheels who appeared and the aged couple and curious spectators were sent home to take up their everyday task.
