FISCAL YEAR'S WHEAT EXPORTS TO BE LARGER

WASHINGTON (By the Associated Press)—The wheat exports of the United States for the year ending June 30 probably will total 250,000,000 bushels, the department of agriculture estimates. Exports last year were 128,255,000 bushels.

Increased demand for American wheat, an announcement said, was caused by short crops in some foreign countries, notably Canada and Argentina. Canada's exports this year were estimated at 155,000,000 bushels against 345,000,000 last year.

Exports from principal producing countries this year will total between 715,000,000 and 745,000,000 bushels, the department said, compared with 781,000,000 last year.

Sanders in New Shoes; Secretary Unlike Slemph

While clerking in a Terre Haute store, the year before he entered college, he intimated to the proprietor one evening that he'd like to take the next Saturday off.

"That's not a very convenient day," his employer answered. "It's always our busiest time. Wouldn't some other time do just as well?"

"Well, it would be a bit inconvenient," Sanders is said to have replied. "You see, I've arranged to get married Saturday."

Enlike C. Bascom Slemph, whom he succeeds as aid to the president, Sanders is lacking in that indefinable quality known as "magnetism" or "personality."

By contrast with the tall, swarthy, suave Slemph, he seems unimpressive and colorless. Physically of rather stocky build, with a large head and heavy shoulders, Sanders looks miscast in a secretarial role. There is a sallowness to his skin that suggests his big body would be benefited by an outdoor job.

The intensely intent lines on his face, too, suggest that it is his will-power, his determination, rather than his personal preference, which holds him behind the big flat-topped mahogany desk in the office adjoining the president's.

For a time at least, following inauguration, the White House is to lose its "star boarder."

That title has been bestowed, by common consent on the pudgy, well-fed figure of Frank W. Stearns.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has any individual not a member of the presidential family spent so much time at the White House as has Stearns.

But after March 4 he is leaving for a two-month stay in Europe on vacation.

BUSINESS BUILDING PURCHASED

(Continued from Page 1.) the leading concern in the chain, which includes a total of 23 stores in the Pacific northwest. The office of the chain is in New York and the northwestern warehouse is located in Portland, Ore.

Steady growth and alert conducting of business last year gave the La Grande store the honor of being second best in the entire chain, proportionate to size.

Senate Turns to Night Sessions to Get Action

(Continued from page 1.) and rate increase bill and farm relief legislation. The situation in the senate is complicated by contests over a number of appointments recently chief rights center around the nominations of Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be attorney general and Thomas Woodlock of New York to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

While some administration leaders are inclined now to force the issue on these two appointments, it may be they will be left for action by the new senate, which the president called Saturday in extra session for March 4.

Efforts will be made during the coming week to put through the house the Wadsworth-Garrett constitutional amendment resolution proposing a change in the method of ratifying additions to the federal constitution. Farm legislation still is in the formative stage and until the house and senate agriculture committees can come to agreement on a bill to embody the recommendations of the president's agricultural conference, leaders can make no specific plans as to time for consideration.

IDENTITY OF BRADY MAY BE ESTABLISHED

Mrs. Brady's letter describes a man five feet ten inches tall, weighing 170 pounds with Auburn hair. These specifications fit the G. Brady in question very closely with the exception of the Auburn hair. The body of the man here has gray hair but the hair had originally been light and in eight years' time could easily have become gray.

The picture also bears a resemblance to G. Brady, allowing for the difference in ages. The same set nose and mouth are apparent in both the picture and the body. The greatest discrepancy is in the names. Mrs. Brady's husband's Christian name was Norman and the man found here was evidently going by the name of George Brady, but either could have been a middle name.

In the same mail was received a letter from the Toronto, Canada, police stating that they had been unable to locate any relatives or find any trace of G. Brady in that city.
