Real $30 to $55 Values

WHY?

The reason for this "VOLUME EVENT" is two-fold:

1. February is our dulllest month. "Sales" decrease but "Overhead" keeps on, and the dull time is the time to stimulate trade.
2. Once a year a merchant should introduce his leading brands of merchandise with an incentive to the purchaser. We realize that any loss we may sustain from this event will be amply repaid by the new friends we make who will readily purchase these lines in the future at regular prices.

HERE FROM BEND. Clyde McKay, owner of the Central Oregon Press and of the original townsite of the city of Bend, accompanied by Mrs. McKay and his mother, Mrs. D. L. McKay, arrived here this morning on a combined business and pleasure trip. Mr. McKay is a Bend booster of the dyed in the wool variety. He predicts an unusually good business year for Bend and the surrounding country. He also states with pride that Bend is now the largest lumber producing city in the northwest. Mr. McKay is an old friend of A. J. Stange of this city both having attended university together when boys. He was a guest of Mr. Stange on an inspection tour throughout the Mount Emily Timber company plant now under construction, this afternoon.

INDIAN ADMITS PART IN WRECK

PENDLETON, Ore. (Special)—Harvey Strong, 17, an Indian who claims his home is in Toppenish, Wash., is in the Umatilla county jail and a search in Toppenish is being made for another Indian named Sam Frank on a charge of placing obstructions on the track of the O-W. that caused a wreck of a freight train Thursday morning, in which Mr. Baxter, of La Grande, was injured.

The arrest of young Strong and the subsequent confession which officers claim to have secured from him resulted from work done cooperatively by members of the sheriff's office and special officers of the railroad company. The youth gave no reason for his actions.

REPAIRING ROAD
WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—A road crew has been busy the past few days between Wallowa and Lostine repairing the soft places on the highway. People passing over the road during the past few days report considerable improvement, although the work of the crew has been considerably hindered considerably by the hard freezing at night.
MARKETS STEADY
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Live-stock, eggs and butterfat steady on today's market. Butter 45c. SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Butter fat 52c.
