John Connerly Relieved of Kidney Trouble by Alvita

After ten years of suffering and discomfort from kidney trouble, John Connerly, of Selma, Calif., obtained quick relief with Alvita. Mr. Connerly makes the following report:

"For ten years I was forced to get up three and four times each night, caused from kidney and prostatic trouble. Through a friend of mine I purchased a package of Alvita, and want to let you know it entirely relieved my trouble. I surely want to thank you people for this relief, because everyone afflicted as I was owes you their gratitude."

Alvita is prepared in highly concentrated tablet form from the deep-rooted alfalfa plant, which by scientific analysis is rich in lime, iron and phosphates. Unlike drugs, Alvita is a vegetable remedy, which has proved especially beneficial in building up weakened, run-down conditions, and in overcoming kidney, bladder and prostate trouble. No matter what you have tried, try this remedy of Nature now. A dollar buys a box at any drug store. Red Cross Drug Store will supply you. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

Great Trick Riding By Buck Jones Featured at Star.

A new high record for daring horsemanship is being set by Buck Jones, the popular westerner in "The Desert Outlaw," the newest William Fox offering which will star Buck at the Star theatre today for a run of three days.

"Handcuffed horsemanship" is the sensational trick riding novelty which Buck Jones flashes before the astounded eyes. It's the greatest riding of Buck's long hard-riding career—a stellar performance. And there's still a greater thrill in store when Buck, still handcuffed, rides the brake-beam of a railroad car, and at the risk of his life, ingeniously frees himself from the handcuffs.

The bully action plot of desert love and outlawry, written by Charles Knayson, was directed by Edmund Mortimer. Evelyn Brent is Buck's leading lady, and the distinguished cast includes DeWitt Jennings, William Hayes, Claude Payton, William Gould and Bob Klein.

"The Beloved Brute" At Sherrys Today and Tomorrow.

Victor McLaglen, who has the title role in the J. Stewart Blackton production, "The Beloved Brute," which will be shown at Sherrys theatre today and tomorrow, was given a great surprise during the making of the production.

Mr. McLaglen has been making pictures in England for the past few years and "The Beloved Brute" offered him the first opportunity to work in the United States with an American company. Owing to his tremendous physique and ability as boxer and wrestler, McLaglen is always cast in roles of the "he-man" type. In his career he has never appeared in a production where he did not have at least one rough and tumble fight and in England these fights always ended disastrously for McLaglen. It is practically impossible to convince a British extra player that it is not necessary for him to practically annihilate the opponent. This is carried to such an extent that on Colleen Moore and Brother Act Together.

For the first time since they were children in Tampa, Fla., Colleen Moore, charming First National star, and her brother, Cleve, are playing parts together. The youth, just beginning his career before the camera, is cast with Miss Moore in her new First National starring vehicle, "The Perfect Flapper," now showing at the Arcade theatre.

When Miss Moore was attending the convent of the Holy Name in Tampa, she organized a juvenile stock company in which she played the roles of both hero and villain. Her younger brother, Cleve, also was in the cast, being the only boy allowed to take part.
