EXPECTING BIG SEASON AT RESORT

Wallowa Wonderland to Be Enjoyed by More People Than Ever

L. C. BINFORD IS NAMED MANAGER

East Oregon Scout, Paper Owned by Him, Is Sold to George Huntington Currey, Jr.

According to an announcement made today the Wallowa Wonderland company expects the most prosperous year for the Wallowa lake resort, with improved conditions, bigger business and a more attractive resort to offer the public.

L. C. Binford, formerly owner and editor of the Eastern Oregon Scout, a La Grande weekly publication, has been appointed manager and expects to work out several new ideas that he believes will improve conditions at the resort.

Mr. Binford, prior to accepting the position with the Wallowa Wonderland company, sold his interests in his newspaper to George Huntington Currey, Jr., who is now leasing the Scout along with two other papers he controls.

Mr. Currey is very well known here and was at one time associated with the Observer when the paper was first started. At the present time he has an enviable name in Oregon as a publisher and editor.

SAFETY FIRST PAPER PRINTED

The paper on "Safety First," recently prepared by Edwin Thomas, general foreman at the La Grande shops, was reprinted in the Union Pacific Magazine, March issue.

Incidentally, it was mentioned in a note by the editor, that the La Grande shops went through the first eleven months of 1924 with only one reportable casualty, making the cost of insurance per million much lower than 1.55.

The paper written by Mr. Thomas follows: The fundamental law of nature in the preservation of mankind, it is our duty to give it first consideration at all times and in every act. No man is big enough to go through this game of life successfully alone; from the time we enter this world until we leave it we are dependent upon one another for protection. Yet we frequently meet people who refuse to recognize this fact, and when they are questioned in connection with acts which may be unsafe

Legislative acts and bills of particular interest to Union county will be discussed at the weekly chamber of commerce luncheon tomorrow by Senator Hines, Dennis and Representative Albert B. Hunter. Among the bills to be discussed will be the Transit Live Stock act, the Dennis resolution and the Hurd law.

CANCER THRIVES AMONG THOSE OF RETIRING NATURE

Cancer is prevalent among people of a secretive nature. That is the claim made by Dr. Ralph Shadduck, who upon a series of free public demonstrations at Homan Hall tomorrow evening.

Continuing, he states that a thorough study of a person's individual characteristics and chemical changes is the key to the disease, and that it is not only possible, but easy for anybody to avail themselves of this knowledge—which will mean health and a happy existence thereafter.

"Likewise the person who understands natural laws is successful and prosperous. Cancer tumors, and all internal afflictions belong to the type of person who secretes, hides or covers up. They fail to give full expression to their lives. The person who is outspoken—bale and well met—usually has many friends and is rarely ever sick, and if so, the manifestation is on the surface and is soon overcome by his vibrant personality. However, the fundamental cause of all diseases can be easily understood and removed by a little mental effort and establishing a point of equilibrium between the mental and physical. Both must vibrate in harmony," Dr. Shadduck concluded.

TWO INCHES OF SNOW REPORTED BY HIGHWAY MEN

According to reports from the office of the state highway department here this morning, there is two inches of snow on top of the hill between La Grande and Pendleton.

The snow is not deep enough to interfere with traffic.

Mrs. Mossman Assists Lake Sunday Program

HOT LAKE (Special)—Through the kindness of Mrs. E. P. Mossman of La Grande a very interesting and instructive program will be put on in the Banquet hall rooms Sunday evening. Mrs. Mossman loaned a number of slides which are reproductions of famous paintings of the chief incidents in the life of Christ during the last week of his life. These slides are to be used each Sunday during Lent. The first two days of Christ's last week were taken up Sunday evening. Mr. Overmire of Moscow, Ida., gave the historical background of these first two days. The slides were then shown and Miss Blanche Howell of the sanatorium staff explained the paintings which were reproduced on the slides. The remaining slides in Lent the rest of the slides will be shown, one day of the last week being taken up each Sunday.

In connection with the slides and lectures were several other features which greatly added to the program. Mrs. Helen Stearns of Union sang a solo, and Mr. Hodges of Moscow, Ida., played a lute solo. A number of hymns were sung by the audience and Mr. Hodges accompanied the pianist on his lute.

FOUR CURED OF LEPROSY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four men who entered the national home for leprosy at Carville, La., several years ago, have been discharged from the institution as cured. The United States public health service announced Sunday night that the men have been under close observation for a year and during the entire time the leprosy bacillus has been absent from their body tissues.

WASHINGTON (AP Press Times Flash)—With most of the Democrats voting present the senate today elected Senator Stanfield, Republican, of Oregon, chairman of the committee on public lands and surveys in place of Senator Ladd, of North Dakota, who was read out of the Republican party.

WASHINGTON (By the Associated Press)—A move to restore the La Follette group of insurgents to their original ranking was made today in the senate by Senator Norris, Republican.

He offered a formal motion to substitute the name of Senator Ladd, an insurgent, for that of Senator Stanfield, of Oregon, as chairman of the public lands committee.

NOMINATION APPROVED WASHINGTON (By the Associated Press)—The senate military committee today approved the nomination of Lieutenant Colonel Fletcher as assistant army chief.

SESSION EXTENDED WASHINGTON (By the Associated Press)—Should the present plan of Republican leaders to call up both the sale of Pines and Louisiana treaties be adhered to, the special session of the senate probably will extend for a much longer time than had been expected when it began last Wednesday.

There already has been a hitch in carrying through the reorganization program and it appears that there will be one or two more days of debate on the nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be attorney general before a vote on confirmation is had.

WASHINGTON (By Associated Press)—It was understood shortly after the League of nations council began session today that the council had decided to postpone until Thursday discussion of the peace protocol formulated by the last assembly of the league, the ultimate fate of which is now uncertain.

The British delegates seem to resent the advancement of the idea that they are killing the protocol. They insist that what they intend to do is to explain their objections to the proposed pact.

The United States was selected in 1922 to act as arbitrator of the difficulty, both sides agreeing to accept the American decision as final. It has been generally understood that the find-
