CITY ZONING SYSTEM TRIED

WASHINGTON (AP).—There are now 320 cities in the United States which have demarked the area within their boundaries into zones, setting territory apart for exclusive use as business, residence, industrial or transportation property, the department of commerce reported today in a summary of conditions affecting the proposal.

The most marked progress was made in this form of city planning during 1924, when 62 municipalities adopted the system, fitting the zones to the particular requirements of their localities.

"In adopting zoning ordinances," the department's statement said, "these cities, towns and villages have sought to protect home owners and other land owners, on the reasonable use of their property. Zoning seeks to regulate the use to which buildings may be put, the area of the lot which they may cover, and their height in different sections of the city, that the land in each district may be used for the purposes to which it is best suited.

"New Jersey still leads in the number of zoning municipalities, having 72; New York has 56; California, 38; Illinois, 36; Massachusetts, 24; Ohio, 21; Wisconsin, 14; Michigan, 9; Indiana, 5; Kansas, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Virginia, 4 each; Florida, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Washington, 2 each; and Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Iowa, Maryland, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee and Utah, one each.

"An increased interest is being shown by the people of the United States in the enactment of zoning legislation to control the use, height and area of buildings in various districts in their communities, and in consequence zoning laws have been enacted or are being enacted by nearly every state in the Union.

"The legislatures of 24 states meet during 1925. Most of them are now in session and zoning legislation is receiving more than passing attention due to the widespread interest in the subject shown by the public at large."
