"Notch Number One" Starring Yakima At Sherrys Today

It was a pleasure to see our old friend Ben Wilson again starring on the screen in "Notch Number One" an Arrow-Great-Western production. Ben certainly played a mighty good plot for his return to the silver sheet. Also he brought an added attraction with him in Yakima Canutt, champion American cowboy, who was presented by Ex-Secretary McAdoo with the Roosevelt cup last fall, winning it from all comers at the top leading western rodeos.

Ben, as the ranch foreman, is hopelessly in love with the boss's daughter, Marjorie Daw. His boss is shot and to save her fiancé he allows himself to be captured and taken to jail. Reed Howes as the fiancé, Arthur Mackey and Little Billie Lord as "Dicks" are all fine. The work of Canutt in proving the foreman's innocence is full of dramatic thrills.

Comedy showing, "A Fat Chance," starring Walter Hiers.

Priscilla Dean In Colorful Romance At the Star.

Floory Priscilla Dean, now at the Star in her second Hunt Stromberg special production, "A Cafe in Cairo," a Producers' Distributing corporation release. Advance reports state that this new picture is not only one of the most lavish productions in which Miss Dean has ever appeared but that it even exceeds "The Siren of Reville" from the point of action and dramatic interest.

"A Cafe in Cairo" is a picturization of the novel of the same name by Isola Forrester, author of "The White Moth," and the photoplay version is credited to Harvey Gates who wrote "The Wildcat of Paris" and a number of other earlier Priscilla Dean triumphs. It is a colorful, exotic melodramatic romance of the land of Cleopatra, and it is said that the very atmosphere and mysticism of the Far East pervades its every scene.

As Naida, fascinating little Hour who falls in love with a dashing young American secret service operator, Miss Dean is given a role which exactly fits her unique screen personality. And into it she breathes not only the tempestuous portrayal for which she is famous but also a heart appeal that she has heretofore not revealed.

Although "A Cafe in Cairo" is essentially a melodrama, it tells one of the most charming love stories that has graced the screen in many moons. Some of the thrills with which it abounds are the attack on the English caravan, the attempt to overthrow the British power in Cairo, the café and harem scenes and the fight at the House of Stars which terminates in a spine-tingling knife struggle underneath the water.

Anonizing atmosphere Priscilla Dean is Robert Ellis, while other members of her supporting cast include Carl Stockdale, Harry Woods, Evelyn Selbie, Larry Steers, Ruth King, John Stepping and Carmen Phillips. Chet Withey directed under the personal supervision of Hunt Stromberg and Sol Polig is credited with the photography.

A well balanced vaudeville bill in a program that is highly diverting will be presented at the Arcade theater on Sunday.

Three Singing Bell Hops in songs as you like them present an act that always pleases for everyone likes good singing and this trio certainly can sing. Made up as bellhops, they have the opportunity of dispensing enough comedy to offset the usual singing. Alan Gray in versatile originalities, a comedy magic act that has the audience roaring with laughter—not a dull moment. Watch him closely and his ecological mannerisms, conversation and feats in comedy impersonation. The "Don't Call Me Pop," a comedy musical offering introducing solos on the cornet, trombone and saxophone in a repertoire of popular melodies. Hurd & Devers, in "Mildness Nonense," in an effective stage setting. This refreshing couple introduces two excellent personalities in a series of laugh-producing situations, intermingled with taut songs and clever dancing. Max Freehand Duo in a few thrills, a novelty act that is very sensational and daring and performed in a most unusual way. Orchestra and pictures are also featured on the bill.

Africa Bales Its Livestock
And Ships Them to Holland
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Linnets, the plague of South Africa may yet be found to have a commercial value. Eighty-eight bales of the insects, dried, weighing 18 tons, were forwarded recently from Kameere to Durban for shipment to Holland. It is recalled here that an oil for use in airplane engines, which retains its liquidity at very high altitudes, can be extracted from linnets, and that a by-product of the process is a food for cattle and poultry.
