An Idea For St. Patrick Day Party

(By Helen Harrington Downing) There are many who plan to entertain at some holiday time because of the opportunities afforded for table decoration and color arrangement.

St. Patrick's Day offers an opportunity to give the happy springtime tone that is needed to cheer one over the dismal days of March rains and winds toward the sunny balmy days that are drawing near.

Green plants, shamrocks, green crepe paper trimmings, etc., against a background of white certainly assure us that "spring is not far behind."

If small tables are to be used, for a card party or tea, have two different arrangements for decoration and then alternate the tables.

For one effect, use a green and white checked gingham table cloth with paper napkins, or gingham napkins to match the cloth.

For another effect, use a green and white checked gingham table cloth with paper napkins, or gingham napkins to match the cloth.

The alternating tables could be covered with small white cloths and scattered here and there, leaves of real shamrock or cut-out or Bristol board or crepe paper.

The centerpiece might be a plant of real shamrocks. If carefully arranged one could use for a centerpiece as many of the tiny pots of shamrocks as there are guests.

To each a green ribbon and have the ribbons radiate to each plate. There is found a tiny metal pig tied to the end of the ribbon, or possibly a paper potato basket filled with green candies afterwards each guest may draw his little plant of shamrocks from the center.

If a card party is planned, or any party where partners must be chosen, arrange sufficient slips of paper containing such combinations as "cornbeef and cabbage," "ham and eggs," "bread and milk," "ice cream and cake," etc.

Then clip these in halves and distribute to the guests. Let them match up their halves as someone reads the correct combinations.

If one has time, a Cross-word puzzle is interesting and in keeping with the present "crane." Such a game will prove quite entertaining. The blocks in the puzzle design may be painted or crayoned in green.

The menu, of course, must be just as interesting and appropriate as the decorations. Salads, green garnishes for salads, green sandwich filling such as chopped olives and cream cheese or peas, stuffed green peppers, pistachio ice cream or cakes with pistachio frosting, candy, mints, etc., all offer ideas for "decorative" refreshments.

Better Roads to Florida Aim of Highway Association JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—With its purpose of the fostering of a national hard surfaced highway from Maine to Key West, Fla., the fifth annual meeting of the South Atlantic Coastal Highway association will be held in Jacksonville April 16 and 17. Plans are being made for the entertainment of 5000 delegates.

Officers of the association say that the work of hard surfacing stretches of the highway and building concrete bridges along the route has resulted in an expenditure of over $10,000,000. While all the highway is not yet at the hard surface stage, this objective is expected within two or three years.

A free-for-all fight is sometimes very expensive.

REAL ITALIAN MACARONI AU GRATIN This substantial dish which tastes as good as it looks, hails from sunny Italy. It is easily prepared and can be served as a one-dish meal, or instead of potatoes. Cut three cups of cooked macaroni into pieces about one inch long. Prepare a cream sauce by blending together three table-spoonfuls of butter, three table-spoonfuls flour, adding slowly three quarters of a cupful of water. Cook until the mixture boils, stirring constantly. Then add a half teaspoonful of salt and a dry mustard, a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper and three quarters of a cupful of grated cheese (preferably Italian). Stir all thoroughly together, turn into a deep enameled ware baking dish, which being dainty and china-like in appearance, can be brought to the table and used as a serving dish. Sprinkle one quarter of a cupful of grated cheese over the top and bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes.
