Spring Openings Here Well Attended Friday

DUKE'S REVIEW NEW YORK (AP)—Dun's today says: "There has been no setback in trade to account for the recent depression in grain and securities markets, which has resulted primarily from an over extension of buying on the part of the market. The further break in wheat prices this week accelerated the decline on the stock exchange, while the financial difficulties of a prominent western railroad, ending in a receivership, intensified the unsettledness. The reaction in speculative markets has not been wholly unexpected, however, and it has not generally affected business sentiment for business conditions are inherently sound. There is a large export movement for agricultural staples and manufactured products, domestic mill takings of cotton have increased and more spindles are active; freight traffic continues of record volume for this season and bank clearings substantially surpass last year's totals. These and other favorable features tend to sustain confidence, although the slow expansion in different quarters and the many irregularities that prevail are clearly recognized."

SEVENTEEN ENJOYED BY BIG CROWD (Continued from page 1) bers of the cast did unusually well. Mrs. Must be said about Miss Kitchell and Douglas Moe. Both were exception. It does not detract in the least from Miss Kitchell's performance to say that the part of Jane Baxter seemed written especially for her. Every action, her very tone of voice and her expressions all helped to create a part which stood out as characterization far above average.

Lived His Part. Douglas Moe in the titular role really seemed to live the part. Willie Baxter was funny, yes, but still, underlying it all, when the crowd laughed at Willie the laughter had for its foundation an understanding of the poignant suffering he was going through when his family and his friends had no sympathy with his efforts to win the girl whom he sincerely imagined was the "only one."

Marshall, Portland's local coroner, appeared to justify the defendants to appear in the marshal's office to provide bonds for their appearance in the United States district court to the charge in the indictments.

GLEE CLUB ON WAY HERE NOW (Continued from page 1) vaudeville circuits and has some friends that will keep any audience guessing. The Oregon Agri-grators will play two selections, "By the Waters at Minnetonka," and "The Land of Sky Blue Water." The Agri-grators are considered the best of several dance orchestras at O. A. U. They have played for all the major functions of the college, such as the who realized the depths of Willie's despair when his father refused to allow him to have a dress suit. Lucile Black's work as Mrs. Baxter must be listed among the finest things in the play. But one must see a laurel or two to Gifford Selts and Tom Williams as Willie's friends who also had a most gosh awful crush on Lola Pratt, the visiting girl in town. Emma Lyman as Lola Pratt and Ruth Branwell as her friend were both good. Incidentally Clayton Colwell should come in for his share of honor in his part as Genesis, the handy colored man about the house. George Huler as George Cooper, Ralph Webb as Mr. Parchoi, Marie Andrews as Ethel Boko, Marion Lovett as Mary Brooks and Raymond Meyersiek as Wally Bance all made the most of smaller parts and contributed a great deal toward the entertainment value of the production as a whole. To Give Play Next Week The play will be shown again tonight and through the cooperation of the R. P. O. Eds will be given again next Friday night in order that the many people who were unable to obtain seats for this week-end will have an opportunity to see it.

GREAT SUMS RAISED CHICAGO (By Associated Press)—One hundred and thirty-eight chambers of commerce in Illinois and six state branches of the American Farm Bureau federation, the American Red Cross, the American Legion and numerous other agencies Friday night contributed their efforts in raising more than $1,500,000 to be used in the stricken area of Wednesday's tornado.

Committee of the Chicago chamber of commerce after a hurried meeting Friday set $500,000 as their quota; and Friday night had $55,500 cash on hand. This will be immediately dispatched to Charleston, Ill., headquarters of the relief agencies.

The state of Illinois authorized $500,000 as an emergency measure. Coincident with the announcement of the relief work a donation of $5000 was made by William Weigley, jr.

Retail stores, banks, railroads, hotels and large employers were asked to contribute towards their premises that public contributions might be increased by the Red Cross, Chicago chapter.

LIVESTOCK REPORT IS COMPLETED (Continued from Page 1.) in the United States 1,396,000. Stock cattle also decreased 2-111,000 head from January 1, 1924 to January 1, 1925. The grand total of 2,694,911,000 pounds for the world in 1923 is approximately 60,000,000 pounds smaller than in 1922. Unable to get 1924 production but think it would show an increase over these figures.

The present strength of wool mutton in the United States coupled with increased population and demand leaves room for expansion of 14,000,000 sheep on our ranches and farms, and demand for 100,000,000 pounds of wool for clothing purposes.

The United States produces only 60 per cent of its wool requirements. Therefore we see no immediate danger in the sheep business for several years yet and would recommend, when range and pasture is available, to increase the sheep, both on farm and range. But farmers engaging in the sheep business should bear in mind that they will require some attention on their part especially horses, Government Report 1920 to 1923. Horses decreased 47,000 in the United States. Mules decreased 55,000 in the United States. We have 17,800,000 horses in the United States which is 2.6 per cent below normal. 3,410,000 mules in the United States which is 6 per cent below normal. The average age of all work horses on the farms at the present time is 13 years. Tax toll of Union county, 1924 shows 1924 horses and mules in Union county. We would recommend that the farmer consider this as his own problem, if he prefers to farm with horses, to at least raise horses enough for his own need, as there are but few cuts being raised at this time. There are so many tractors being used that it is hard to determine the exact requirements but consider every farmer give this careful attention. Best Cattle. The supply of beef cattle in the United States shows a 5 per cent decrease in numbers during the past year. The total per capita consumption of beef and veal is around 70 pounds. While the beef cattle production has been a losing venture during the immediate past few years, a study of the value of the beef man's dollar, in comparison with value of other commodities has shown a slow but steady increase since 1922. The past year the per capita consumption of pork products increased nearly 20 pounds due to increased production and a lower price to consumer. With a shortage of supply of hogs and a consequently higher price for pork products to the consumer during the present year the beef industry should be materially benefited. Union county, according to best local estimates carries 10,000 beef cattle which carries to be slightly over the available range but with the other livestock states, on farms is about enough to consume available hay produced. Recommendation. 1. No general increase in beef cattle under present conditions is expected or recommended, although enough cattle should be kept to use the feed not suited to other purposes. 2. It is recommended that those who know the cattle business and are in position to do so should continue in the business rather than to change to sheep or some other enterprise for which they may not be suited. Miscellaneous. We recommend boys' and girls' clubs as an excellent means of keeping young people interested in livestock products. Hogs—Present Status. The number of hogs shown on the Union county assessment roll will replace one pound of grain for fattening pigs. 2. By utilizing farm wastes practically enough hogs can be raised to meet local consumption. Resolutions. Whereas, The predatory animals are increasing in Union county and have become a serious menace to the livestock industry, and Whereas, the counties of Baker and Wallawa both have government trappers leaving this county situated between them as a breeding place and refuge for such predatory animals, therefore, Be it resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the county court proceed at once to engage a government trapper for Union county. Whereas, the Chamber of Commerce of the City of La Grande, Oregon, has taken steps for the promotion of irrigation in the Grande Ronde valley, be it resolved that the farmers in attendance upon the Agricultural Conference do hereby express to the Chamber of Commerce their appreciation of its efforts to promote the development of the Grande Ronde valley, and especially to secure the irrigation of its lands. (Signed: Committee of Farm Crops.) A. R. Hunter, W. R. Ledbetter, J. A. Gaskill, Frank McKennon.

Successful hog raisers in this county utilize farm wastes to a great extent. Also the larger the number of pigs weaned per litter decreases the cost per weaned pig. With good management the number of pigs weaned per litter should average at least 5.5 pigs. A satisfactory rule for determining the value of weaned pigs (weighing 50 to 40 pounds) would be to figure a good pig worth 20 per cent as much as one finished for market. And if finished on grain alone will require about 450 pounds of grain per 100-pound gain. Recommendations. 1. The production of hogs can be profitably increased on those farms where there is a supply of some waste product such as skim milk, grain stubble, garbage or waste fruit. The pig being so used as a means of marketing these waste products. Dairy farms not over half their calves and not selling whole milk can raise one pig for each cow milked, 4 to 5 pounds skim milk being worth the same as one pound of grain at farm price. Grain farmers may profitably raise one pig for each 5 to 20 acres grain except where harvest is exceptionally clean or water not available. Six to eleven pounds of garbage
