All British Industries To Be Card-Indexed

LONDON (AP)—The new president of the Board of Trade, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, is not satisfied with records kept by the board regarding British industries, and intends to compile a "Domesday Book of Business."

He is sending out 250,000 questionnaires to British firms as to their production costs and methods which will be regarded as strictly private, but which are expected to assist the government of the day in making plans for the future.

If he advertises it, he knows it's good.

All of the sons and daughters of Mrs. Choate and several grandchildren were present. Burial was made in the Summerville cemetery.

Solons Labeled Dawes Failure "Poetic Justice"

was not altogether due to opposition to the Warren nomination itself.

It was just as much a protest against the strong-arm tactics of the administration forces in the senate, in disciplining insurgent republican members and demoting them in committee assignments.

The rough-shod method by which the Watson-Moses old guard group in the senate overrode the seniority rights and privileges of Senators Ladd, Frazier and Brookhart served to crystallize an anti-Warren sentiment that otherwise probably could not have been consolidated.

It was a first demonstration of what Senator Borah had predicted would result from the reading out of the party of men who by their constituencies at least, were regarded as "Republicans" and were so elected.

This test vote, on a matter that many members considered as primarily a matted to be decided by the president—the selection of a member for his own official family—indicates that the administration control of the senate in the next session will not be as "safe and certain" as had been expected.

The administration ax is still poised over the heads of individuals whose views do not properly parallel those of the president.

Down in the department of agriculture it is hinted H. C. Taylor, chief of the bureau of farm economics, and C. J. Brand, consulting specialist in marketing, are slated for the slaughter.

Taylor is charged with having written, or having helped to write, the Dickinson co-operative marketing bill and Brand with assisting on the McNary-Haugen bill, both of which were frowned on by the president.

Dogs Given Legal Freedom To Change Living Quarters

LONDON (AP)—The old understanding in law that "finding is keeping" may be superseded by "following is keeping" in the eyes of the London Sessions, which interpreted the code recently to mean that if a dog follows a man home, the person followed was not bound to communicate the fact to the canine's owner.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY IS GIVEN

UNION (Special)—Tuesday evening, St. Patrick Day, the junior class of the Union high school put on a three-act comedy drama entitled "Irish Rose," to a fairly good crowd, although the flu epidemic kept away many who would otherwise have been present. All the parts were well taken and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the production. To accommodate those who were unable to see the play Tuesday evening a later performance will be given, probably in a couple of weeks.

At the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening a short program and lunch were prepared by the committee who were in charge of that part of the work for February and March. The program consisted of a piano solo by Miss Murilda Sturgill, a reading by Miss Josephine Bliss, and a dance by Katheryn Kiehlock and Ruth Connor.

Although the attendance at the high school and in the grades continues to be only about 65 per cent for the former and 75 for the latter, the board has not decided to close school. Many of the students are out only a few days so they are not losing much of the work.

Work on the municipal tennis courts at the city park is getting under way while the weather permits. The sod has been removed, lumber and wire put on the ground and the former painted ready for putting up. Double courts will be made. The committee is now looking for material to fill in for the base and top of the courts. Cinders being difficult to secure, they will probably make a gravel and clay court. If the weather continues favorable the courts will be ready for use in a couple of weeks.

William Davis, who was taken to Hot Lake a few days ago suffering from blood poison, resulting from injury to one of his toes, is still in a very serious condition, though some better than he was the latter part of last week.

Parties from Telocaset were in Union Tuesday following the trouble in the Telocaset school, during which the principal, Mrs. Caton, was severely injured by one of the patrons of the district. The primary teacher had punished a child and the mother, Mrs. Daniels, visited the school and had an encounter with the principal, breaking her nose glasses and cutting her face. Mrs. Caton came to Union to see Mr. Maxwell, and was advised to go to La Grande and swear out a warrant. Wednesday officers passed through Union on their way to Telocaset, but no further particulars have been learned here.

Tony Smith, Edith Gilkinson, Marelda Sturgill and Vina Conley helped out with the vocal and instrumental music for the high school play last Tuesday evening.

The concert given Wednesday evening at the school gymnasium by the La Grande band was an excellent program, showing the high quality of music that organization is able to render. The only regrettable feature of the concert is the fact that so few of our people were present to enjoy it. The dance following the concert, was well patronized.

One thing proved by statistics is that you can't always prove a thing by statistics.
