 depression is." He stated that the opportunity for business here is abundant and that La Grande is an important city as exists in the northwest. He agreed with the preceding speaker that internal organizations in the chamber of commerce would be worthy of consideration.

Mr. Appleby scored the transient peddler, "the bellringer," who comes into a community, sells his products and leaves on the next train. He asserted that this is one of the greatest enemies that the business men of a community face and that if this problem is successfully solved, it would have the same financial worth as if the population was increased by from 400 to 500.

Mr. Appleby also took issue with reports that La Grande is a high priced city, declaring that it is only a few items that bring about this impression and that La Grande "is not living up to its reputation" conveyed by these reports.

During the lunch hour, three members of the Brandon Opera company, Mr. Jewkes, Miss Andrews and Miss Evans, playing at the Arcade theater, now sang vocal solos that were enthusiastically received.

Eight-inch Steel Plate To Reveal Innuce Secrets

LONDON (AP)—It will be possible, in the near future, by the aid of the X-ray, to see through steel eight inches thick, Professor Paulin, director of the Radiological Research department at Woolwich Government arsenal, predicted in a recent address before the Royal Society.

It is an easy matter at present by the use of the X-ray to penetrate pieces of steel three inches in thickness, Professor Paulin asserted, but what is sought by scientists is an apparatus to enable them to examine into coatings ten or twelve inches through. This is desired so that flaws may be detected in castings, and to avoid serious danger to workmen's lives.

BOBBED HAIR HERE TO STAY

(By M. M. M.)
 The bob is not passing, and probably never will. Although many La Grande women have a faint suspicion that long hair is coming back, it will not. Several has started to let their hair grow, but when it gets to that stage where it is neither bobbed or long all interest in the idea is lost and a visit to the barber shop or beauty shop results and the locks are once more short.

A craze for extra hair pieces for normal wear is sweeping the feminine world, however, and although it is not being used extensively here yet it probably will be soon. Short hair for sports and day time wear and pinned on hair for evening and formal wear is getting to be the fashionable thing.

But the women today demand more individuality to their bobbed hair. Large loose waves are more popular than the tight marcelles. They are striving for a more natural effect. The French paper curl is very popular at the present time. This is a loose fluffy wave and when put in gives the effect of natural curl.

Shingle Bob Popular.
 The shingle bob is more popular among the various styles of hair cuts. The hair has a lower line in the back and the shingle is not set close as formerly. Many of the younger girls cling to the straight bob, although the loose natural wave is more fashionable at the present time.

Referring to the alleged agreement between Colonel Dennistoun and his former wife, the judge said to the jury:

"You are asked to believe the vaguest agreement known to me was made as a definite legal bargain."

Condemns Dennistoun.
 Regarding Dennistoun, he said his conduct was "gravely to be condemned" and added:

"His conduct discredits him in a great measure but though a man has been guilty of enormities such as that, it might well be that by reason of these very circumstances you ought to view the case with greater care."

He had not finished examining up when court adjourned yesterday afternoon.

Mysterious Trance Cation Salvaged by Pacific Diver

SEATTLE (AP)—A small bronze muzzle-loading cannon has been recovered from Neah Bay at the open entrance of the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The origin of the find is a mystery. State historians advance the theory that the weapon is a relic of the Spanish occupation in 1792, when a small band of wreck salvagers lived in an improvised fort above the bay.

The cannon was recovered by W. S. Benjamin, a diver of Seattle, who was working on a sunken Japanese ship. The gun bears a design indicating a man in armor, carrying a bow in his right hand and an arrow in his left. Over his right shoulder a star is discernible.

Rules for Prevention Of Spud Diseases Given

 ble in the growing period. All seed potatoes should be treated before planting to destroy rhizoctonia and common scab infection. The seed is treated with corrosive sublimate four ounces water and then placed in 20 gallons of water in which the potatoes are soaked for an hour and a half. After each quantity of potatoes is removed an ounce additional of sublimate should be placed in the water in order to keep up the strength of the solution.

Potatoes may be treated before or after cutting seed.

Phanarium of will is another disease which can be detected in the potato in the growing period. Potatoes with this disease will show a discoloration usually in the form of a brown ring when the end of the potato is cut off. Farmers should discard these potatoes as unfit for planting.

Two Deadly Diseases.
 The most serious diseases are late rot and leaf mosaic which cannot be detected in the seed. The only way to eliminate these diseases is to secure seed from reliable sources known to be free of them.

Certified potatoes must not have more than five per cent of the two diseases mentioned above are also discriminated against in certification, but are not considered serious.

According to indications at present the acreage of potatoes this year will not be quite as large as last season. Most of the planting will be done in about three weeks.

Topog's Flagship Preserved.

TOKIO (AP)—The battleship Mikasa, Admiral Topog's flagship in the battle of the Sea of Japan when the Russian fleet was destroyed, is to be preserved as a monument. When the famous ship was sentenced to the scrap heap a national movement was begun to preserve her, with the result that she will be included in concrete halfway up her hull, and gangways will connect her with shore.

Charades May Come Back As Cross-word Puzzles Wane

NUREMBERG (AP)—Charades will be the next world-wide fad, in the opinion of German specialists in games who have had much to do with popularizing cross-word puzzles in this country. The cross-word puzzle is a direct logical descendant of charades, they declare, and one of the many curious and interesting games which have grown out of plays on words.

 STOCKHOLM (AP)—The exceptionally mild winter continues throughout Sweden, and up to the latter part of February no snow had fallen in this usually snow-covered country. Winter shipping traffic in the Baltic Gulf, usually closed in November, is still opening and throughout the country cattle are grazing in pastures instead of being housed in barns.

The mild weather has been a great boon to the poor, who have not been compelled to buy fuel, an item in the budget which usually burdens the poor.

 for any teacher in the university, normal or other schools of the state which obtain state funds "to teach any theory that denies the story of the divine creation of man as taught in the Bible, and to teach that man had descended from a lower order of animals."

"It will be seen," the message pointed out, "that this bill does not require any particular theory or interpretation of the Bible regarding man's creation to be taught in the public schools."

Under the anti-evolution act the governor elaborated, "It is perfectly plain that any creed or interpretation of the Bible, touching man's creation, is permissible under this bill, which does not deny his divinity and does not teach that man has been evolved from a lower animal. Indeed it is my understanding that those professing the theory of evolution have discarded that idea. Certainly, it has never been established as a fact."

The bill was passed in each house of the assembly by a heavy vote.
