Agnew Pilots Horse Home in Race In Star Picture.

Bobby Agnew, playing the leading male role in "Gold Heels," the William Fox pictureization of the sensational stage success "Checkers," which is now in the midst of a satisfying run at the Star theatre, claims the distinction of being the only actor in pictures who ever actually rode a race under the watchful eye of the camera.
 "Gold Heels" is a story about the racetrack, with all the color, thrills and excitement of the sport of kings. Bobby plays the part of "Checkers" Campbell, jockey, and as the script calls for several races by night, there perched on his mount's back when the trump is snapped.
 And he is still there at the finish and on each occasion he brought his horse across the line a winner without any juggling of the other entries. It was agreed, for the sake of realism, to have the horses evenly matched and the race run true. If it happened that Bobby was not skilful enough to bring his horse in winner, they would keep improving his mount until all he would have to do would be give rein and let it breeze in.
 This step was made unnecessary because Bobby, in the evenly matched races, brought his horse home first in each instance.

Sherrys Has a Treat in Store for His Patrons in "Two Piped Justice."

Sherrys has a treat in store for his patrons in "Two Piped Justice," a new Arrow-Great Western in which Dick Hatton stars, supported by Marilyn Mills and the wonderfully trained horse "Star".
 This is a red-blooded, thrilling story of the search of "Star" Hatton, sheriff of Elberie county, for the murderer of his younger brother Harvey.
 How he unexpectedly locates his man hiding with his wife in the isolated camp of "Red Oldham," general outlaw. His efforts to help her escape her husband's cruelty. The discovery of his identity and capture by Oldham men. The escape of the woman on "Star" Hatton's horse, who comes back alone and on hearing his master's whistle, kicks down the door of the cabin, enters the room, kicks the two guards nearly to death, quips with his teeth the ropes binding "Inane's" wrists in a hair-raising, nerve-straining story.
 The finale is a fitting finish to a picture that gives Hatton and Mills every opportunity to display their wonderful ability in the kind of riding, fighting and boxing that has made the west famous.
 "Comedy" "Step Lightly."

Dick Hatton and Horse Star Here Today Only.

And still they come another bright and sparkling combination of vaudeville's finest will be seen at the Arcade theatre on Sunday next.
 "Unique Dance Fantasy," pretty girls, handsome costumes, and gorgeous scenic effects, an artistic treat most certain to appeal to the most critical and sure to please the element desiring speed, class and color. Highway & Ploomy of "Two Black Sheep," two of minstrelsy's funniest comedians both having done service with "Three Women" to Open Three-Day Run At Sherrys Sunday.

"Three Women" the production to which Ernst Lubitch, the well known director, has again so well applied his unusual talent, is to be presented at the Sherry theatre beginning Sunday. Theater goers are looking forward with more than ordinary interest to the appearance of another Lubitch masterpiece, knowing that each production is even greater than the one before.
 The story deals with an unusual situation of three women and one man—far removed from the trite plot of the everlasting triangle.
 Mrs. Wilton, awake to the realization that she is growing older and will soon lose her attraction to men, decides to marry again, and chooses as her subject Lamont, a man about town, in love with her money rather than herself. When Mrs. Wilton's daughter returns from school, Lamont transfers his attentions to her and invites her to marry him. Then comes months of unhappiness when Lamont, having fulfilled his monetary desires, finds himself a sweetheart and neglects his wife. The climax is reached when

27 YEARS AGO

Daily Morning Observer, March 28, 1898.—D. Schmitter, the pioneer merchant from Elgin, spent Saturday and Sunday in La Grande.
 The Elgin train brought up 264 dozen eggs Saturday to be forwarded to Sumpter.
 J. E. Reynolds returned yesterday from the People's Party State convention at Portland.
 County Assessor J. H. Chandler passed through the city yesterday en route to his home in Union. He had been in Portland in attendance at the People's Party State convention.
 C. A. Playle will plant forty acres in potatoes on his farm on the Sandridge. Potato raising is no experiment with him and when he plants he knows where to plant and when he digs he always finds big potatoes and plenty in the hill.
 The Republican says: "It is rumored that John Elliot, of Union, is talked of for county judge on the democratic ticket; that J. E. Hough of La Grande, is mentioned as republican candidate for recorder."
 The days of surmises, conjectures, prophecies and dooming are over. The site for the sugar factory has not only been selected on the Williamson place north of La Grande, but the actual work of erecting the building has commenced. A crew of men is hard at work leveling off and other work preparing the ground for the popular featured attractions. They promise a collection of song and comedy. Knight & Heinsohn, "The Chassy Duo" in comedy harmony songs and eccentric dancing. Featuring their creation, "The Ghost of the Saloon," snappy and up-to-the-minute, Josephine Worth & Co., in "More Speed," depicting night life in the slums of New York. Miss Worth impersonates two distinct characters, an old Irish woman and an East-side flapper; the male member, a New York copper. Songs & comedy situations, pre-eminently, buck and wing, eccentric, and walk out dances, a little patter and an imitation or two to help in an interesting way. Orchestra and pictures also featured on the bill.

Record Run Brings Fine.
 ALBANY, Ore.—George Perononi made a record of 26 hours from San Francisco to Salem in an automobile, but in doing so he ran afoul of Traffic Officer Lillard and was brought before Justice of the Peace Oliver, who fined him $20. He acknowledged a speed of 55 miles an hour, an average from San Francisco north, but denied that he was going more than 22 miles an hour when arrested.
Sugar Beets Get Boost.
 KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—Klamath county's new sugar beet growing industry received official recognition when the county fair board announced that cash prizes would be awarded at this year's fair to the best sugar beet display.
