La Grande Theatres

"Three Women" at Sherrys Make Fine Impression.

"Three Women," which opened at the Sherry theater yesterday, convinced us that new plots do exist.

Ernst Lubitch, the director, has a unique situation to deal with, which he has succeeded in making into a production of remarkable merit. The story is of three women, rivals for the love of a man about town; a perfect lover, a real gold digger, an unfaithful husband. With the revelation that two of the rivals are a mother and daughter, we look for more intricacies of plot and are not disappointed. The complex problem is solved to the satisfaction of the audience who made no attempt to hide their enthusiasm during last night's performance.

The stellar honors in this production are divided between Marie Prevost, who is charmingly convincing as one of the three sweethearts, and May McAvoy and Pauline Frederick, who take the parts of the daughter and mother, respectively. Lew Cody, as the tempting villain, portrays his role exceptionally well. Others in the cast are Pierre Godpon, Mary Carr and Willard Louis.

"Three Women" has to its credit not only an unusual story, but an exceptional cast and excellent direction. Mr. Lubitch has again scored a triumph, even greater than his "The Marriage Circle."

"If you are looking for real entertainment presented in unexcelled dramatic situations, see "Three Women." Comedy showing. "Hooked."

Constance Talmadge Stars in "Goldfish" At Arcade Today.

Discerned: A sure way to make Constance Talmadge cry!

Director Storm, who directed Constance Talmadge in "The Goldfish" had Art Jell's orchestra play all sorts of sad music in order to coax a few tears from Constance. But Constance absolutely refused to cry.

"I feel too happy today to cry," declared Constance. "Can't you find some 'sad' stuff?"

Director Storm was adamantine. "We've got to have some tears, Miss Talmadge," he said. "You see you have been divorced from your first and second husbands and your third husband, a multi-millionaire has just died. It is a very sad scene. Please cry a few tears."

"Tell you what," replied Constance, "send over to the bungalow for my portable phonograph. I have some old records there, too. Some numbers bought away back in 1904, 1905, 1906 and 1907. When I was a little girl they used to make me cry something awful."

Accordingly Storm stilled the staid orchestra and got out the phonograph. In turn he played "Won't You Come Over to My House?" "Honey, Stay in Your Own Back Yard." "I'm Tying the Leaves So They Won't Come Down." "Good Bye, Dollie, I Must Leave You." and "Don't Cry, Little Girl, Don't Cry."

Soon the tears began trickling down Constance's face and Camera-man Ray Binger began "mooching his scenes." Finally Constance, the tears streaming down her cheeks, could stand it no longer.

27 YEARS AGO

Daily Morning Observer, March 29, 1898—Charles McNeil, a boy of about 12 years, was hunting cattle near the mouth of the Grande Ronde river on day recently. The boy saw some cattle on a flat with the canyon of the Grande Ronde river on one side and a precipitous ledge on the other. Going upon this flat for the cattle he happened to look up the rocky ledge where he discovered a mountain lion ready to jump upon him. The boy sprang from under the beast and fled towards home. The beast followed him for several miles and did not give up the chase until near his home. On reaching home the father started back on the boy's trail and soon found and shot the monster.

Delegates John W. McAlister, O. P. Goodhall, J. M. Hiltz and Geo. H. Churry returned from the Portland State Convention Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robbins are expected home from Portland tomorrow morning. Mr. Robbins was a member of the conference committee of the three parties.

J. H. Marshall and company bought tools, saws, hubs of bar-ley from A. R. Conley and 1000 bushels from Frank McAllister. The price paid was 45 cents. The barley will be shipped to San Francisco.

Workmen commenced work yesterday clearing away small buildings preparatory to building an addition to the Hotel Foley. Another story will be added to the part of the hotel which is now only one story high and the annex will be extended and enlarged so it will connect with the hotel proper. This addition will give Mr. Foley nearly 100 rooms.

Ideal Homes Sought For Disabled Veterans

DETROIT, Mich. (AP).—An endowment fund with which to maintain Spencer Manor as the home of disabled and aged veterans, their widows and orphans, is contemplated by the National Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Spencer Manor, a 472-acre tract of rolling country land near Eaton Rapids, Mich., and fronting for a mile on the placid Grand river, was the gift of Corey J. Spencer, wealthy clubman of Jackson, Mich., and a member of the order. "A place full of life, hope and happiness" is Mr. Spencer's idea of what Spencer Manor should be. The tract of land which he donated to the organization has between Jackson and Lansing and is of clay loam. All but 100 acres of the soil is tillable.

Giant trees, small brooks and springs and numerous glens add to the attractiveness of the site. It is here the V. F. W., looking forward, hopes to see grow a village of neat little homes, with well kept gardens, a school for children and a place for Sabbath worship.

"A home rather than an institution," is the way officers of the organization outline the project. It is intended there shall be work for those who can work, and comfort for those unable to labor.
