Breakfast. Baker apples, cereal, thin cream, baked hash, crisp graham toast, marmalade, milk, coffee.

Luncheon. Baked fish and potato loaf, egg sauce, cabbage salad, whole wheat bread, pineapple bliss, milk, tea.

Dinner. Scalloped potatoes with parsnips, buttered parsnips, molded mandarin salad, soup, cream pie, hot rolls, coffee.

Dinner for Children. Poached eggs on graham toast, shredded lettuce, cereal pudding, thin cream, milk.

The cereal pudding may simply be cereal left from breakfast served in individual molds or the recipe for cereal pudding suggested several weeks ago may be used.

Needless to say, the dinner of scalloped potatoes and so forth is planned to please the grown-up members of the household.

Baked Fish and Potato Loaf. Three pounds halibut, halibut or cod, four good-sized potatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Cook fish by boiling or baking and remove skin. Prce from bones and separate into flakes. Roll potatoes until tender and put through a river. Season with salt, pepper and butter and beat well. Add fish and mix thoroughly. Add egg well beaten. If the mixture is so stiff it can't be handled, add enough milk to make workable. Shape into a loaf, sprinkle with minced parsley and brush over with melted butter. Place on a well-buttered baking sheet and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with egg sauce.
