

NEWS of SOCIETY

Mrs. T. J. Scroggins was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at the Country club. The club rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, tulips being used. Mrs. A. C. Hampton won high score for the club prize and the guest prize went to Mrs. Earl Stoddard.

An excellent two course luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon's play.

Members of the Tuesday Bridge club were charmingly entertained yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Lee Hanford was hostess at her home on Sixth street. During the afternoon's play at two tables Mrs. W. C. Crews won high honors.

The home was tastefully decorated with beautiful bouquets of cherry blossoms. At the close of the play a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. F. K. Ivanhoe delightfully entertained the Thursday Bridge club yesterday afternoon at her home on Main avenue. The rooms were beautifully decorated with various colored tulips and during the afternoon's play Mrs. Chas. Dwyer won high score.

A dainty two course luncheon was served at an appropriate hour.

The first of a series of recitals by pupils of Miss Hilda Anthony, teacher of piano, will be given Tuesday evening, April 21, at the First Methodist Episcopal church, when Miss Helen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shorwood Williams, will be presented to recital.

Miss Williams will be assisted by Miss Dorothy Caldwell, violinist. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

For the benefit of the school children of La Grande the operetta "Cinderella in Flowerland," given last Saturday evening in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Neighborhood club will be repeated tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Neighborhood club rooms.

Party children take part in the operetta, which is under the direction of Mrs. Verne Atkinson and Mrs. Elmer McManus. It is through the untiring efforts of these two women that the presentation has been so successful.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Baker, on Fir street. Mrs. Cain had charge of the devotion, after which all present sang a hymn. The society had the first lesson from the book, "Study of the Old Testament," at this time. Mrs. Quinlan and Mrs. Hazel Barber gave stories of the Missionary work in Japan.

During the business session the members decided to make a quilt. Before adjournment luncheon was served by the committee in charge, with Mrs. Effie Helvey as chairman.

Grange Hall (Special) — People in this vicinity spent a delightful Easter. After Sunday school everyone went to the Grange hall where an excellent dinner was served. A feature of the afternoon's program was an egg hunt with Arthur Spencer and Roy Fleishman winning the prizes.

Laid Canyon (Special) — The Get-Together club met recently at the home of Mrs. Claude Beale. The afternoon was spent in social conversation and needle work, at-

You Can Be A Fashion Leader

It is quite possible these days for the woman outside of New York to appear in the new styles at the same time her Eastern city friends are beginning to wear them.

In our own Dress Department we are introducing styles designed by Peggy Paige of New York and Paris.

We invite you to see them. Selections made at this time will give to your Spring wardrobe a distinction that will stamp you as fashion follower, but as a fashion leader.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

BY SISTER MARY

- Breakfast.
- Orange juice, rice with this dressing, crisp whole wheat toast, creamed dried beef, milk, coffee.
- Luncheon.
- Apples stuffed with sausage, French fried sweet potatoes, lettuce sandwiches, bread pudding, milk, tea.
- Dinner.
- Clear soup, croissants, baked ham with pineapple, roasted carrots and peas, maple custard, Graham bread, milk, coffee.
- An apple stuffed with very little meat combined with dried bread crumbs should be prepared for a child under school age. While pork is not as rich in iron as beef is, if it's well cooked it may occasionally be used in the diet of "juvies."
- Rice as a breakfast food is an innovation in many families, but quite worth trying. The following recipe using milk is an aid to the mother whose child does not drink his daily portion eagerly.
- Rice as a Breakfast Food.
- One cup rice, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 2 cups milk.
- Wash rice through several waters. Put water with salt in a double boiler. When you are boiling rapidly add rice with stirring the bubbling. Boil for ten minutes over the flame. Put over hot water, add milk, a pinch of salt, rice is tender and milk is absorbed. It will take at least 40 minutes for the rice to cook and maybe longer if the rice is old. Serve with sugar and cream. Chopped dates or raisins can be added with the milk if desired.

England Makes Motorists Glad to Stop for Gasoline

LONDON (AP) — Quick lunch tea rooms are to be added to filling stations in England for the benefit of motorists.

Gasoline supply branch stations are comparatively new here, but the idea has taken hold and spread rapidly, and some of the new houses now going up in and near London for the spring trade are known as "petrol palaces." Quite a number have free "wash and brush-up" rooms as well as quick lunch facilities, where members of the motor party may satisfy their thirst for tea, cake and sandwiches while the car is being filled with gasoline.

NATIONS WILL MEET IN JULY

HONOLULU, (AP) — The non-political Pan-Pacific conference of prominent men from seven countries in this area, which will be held here from July 1-16 as a preliminary to a permanent political forum of all peoples of the Pacific, had its inception as a proposed Pan-Pacific Y. M. C. A. conference attended by high officials of that organization. It has been rescheduled by the Pan-Pacific Union, which is sponsoring the meeting.

From the limits of a Y. M. C. A. conference, it was widened to a Pan-Pacific Christian Conference, and recently assumed its still wider scope as the Pacific model of the Institute of Politics at Williams-town, Mass.

A number of lecturers and round-table leaders of last year's Williams-town Institute will attend the Honolulu conference. It is announced. Among those are Yusef Saunusi, son-in-law of Viceroy Goto; Henry Pratt Fairchild, New York University; and George H. Blackledge, at Clark University.

Among the members of the Institute last year who are on the American advisory council of the Honolulu council are Charles C. Battecher, former secretary of commerce, Philippine Islands, an expert on commercial relations and Stanley K. Hornbeck, of Washington, D. C.

Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College; A. C. Coolidge, director of the Harvard University Library and a member of the Institute of advisors; and Bertram H. Harsh, who financed the first three sessions of the institute, have been cooperating with the American committee in arranging the Honolulu conference.
