more offices and the Silverthorn-Weight drug store.

Probably the feature of the entire week will be a joint recital to be given as a prelude to the week proper, May 1, when the Neighborhood club and the Monday Musical will present Mrs. A. L. Richardson, coloratura soprano, Mrs. Ella Connell Jesse, pianist, and Mark Daniels, baritone. Such a combination of artists will make a perfect concert, it is said.

Mrs. Jesse is a pianist of great ability and the only teacher on the coast having the endorsement of the famous French master, E. Robert Schmitt. Mrs. A. L. Richardson has for years been ranked as one of the leading musicians in Oregon. Mark Daniels will give a concert April 25th at the Portland municipal auditorium and his appearance here will be his final one before leaving to study in Europe.

The Monday Musical is circulating whistled stickers advertising Music Week. The stickers are bright blue in color, and carry the caption "Music Week, May 3-9." According to members of the club "a motor may refuse to respond with a musical hum unless it has one of these."

Moe came here about six months ago as manager of the theater. He formerly lived at Longview, Wash., and Kellogg, Idaho. He said he was manager of the Longview baseball team in the Timber League for a time last year.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Klamath Falls baseball club and took a leading part in the business and social life of the city.

Following an examination of several of the mounds Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion that their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Colham Falls was demolished during the flood of 1903, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilization.

Development of the crop is due to the expansion of the dairy industry, said the bulletin. The crop of the sunflower was first planted by experts. Many farmers sowed small fields to the plant. The experiment was successful. From 20 to 25 bushels an acre can be expected from sunflowers and, as they are nutritious, stock find them palatable, the bulletin asserted.

Rowing for Women Finds Enthusiastic Advocates in London

LONDON (AP)—News that the faculty of the University College of North Wales had barred boat racing among its fair students on the ground that the exercise is highly injurious to them has aroused the earnest girls in other parts of England, who contend that the action is not justified by past experiences.

"If properly trained, there is no danger of straining the heart," said Miss Evelyn Cantiffe, president of the London University Women's Rowing club, recently. "If one takes a proper care to avoid all sweets and chocolates, new bread, pastries and other choice bits so often served at afternoon teas for a long time in advance, there is no risk at all for rowing aspirants." Miss Cantiffe continued: "We are the oldest London women's crew and practice inter-varsity racing before any other London university. I do not advocate mixed boat racing. As yet we are not able to compete with men, and I don't think we ever shall be, as there is no sport in the world in which strength tells so much as rowing. I have never seen a case of ill effects from racing, as all our candidates must have strong hearts to be allowed to take on training. Rowing as a sport for women is on its way to enjoy greater popularity here than hockey, judging by the strides it has made during the last two years."

CATTLE TURN GLAMBY TO SUNFLOWERSLAGE

KEMMINGTON, Ala. (AP)—Designated as a sunflower seed a few years ago, sunflowers have developed into an important stage crop in western Canada, according to a bulletin of the department of agriculture.

Alaska produced a sunflower crop of nearly 200,000 bushels last year, the largest output yet recorded. The seed is a high value commodity, and the high road value of the crop, the bulletin declared, is to be the cheapest stage or fodder crop ever raised.

Development of the crop is due to the expansion of the dairy industry, said the bulletin. The crop of the sunflower was first planted by experts. Many farmers sowed small fields to the plant. The experiment was successful. From 20 to 25 bushels an acre can be expected from sunflowers and, as they are nutritious, stock find them palatable, the bulletin asserted.
