NEWS of SOCIETY

A delightful afternoon was enjoyed by the Rambler's Art club yesterday when Mrs. Turner Oliver and Miss Margaret Anson were hostesses at a delicious four course luncheon. Apple blossoms were used for the centerpiece and the same color scheme prevailed in the menu, giving an artistic and beautiful effect.

Covers were laid for twelve and dainty cards marked the places for the following guests: Mrs. O. E. Silverthorn, Mrs. E. P. Mossman, Mrs. P. S. Robinson, Mrs. E. E. Kiddle, Mrs. C. H. Bidwell, Mrs. J. K. Weight, Mrs. L. R. Moe, Mrs. R. S. Ekkin, Mrs. G. S. Birnie and Mrs. F. B. Appleby.

Preceding the luncheon the usual meeting was held and two interesting and comprehensive talks were given, "Music of the Thirteenth Century," by Mrs. Robinson and "Drama of the Thirteenth Century," by Mrs. Appleby.

Members of the Monday Bridge club were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dwight Jesse, on Spring street, when Mrs. Jesse and Mrs. A. E. Hendrickson were hostesses. The home was charmingly decorated with beautiful crab apple blossoms and at the close of the play a dainty luncheon was served.

Mrs. Fred Holmes won high score for the club prize and the guest prize went to Mrs. Donald Pague.

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church met last evening at the home of Mrs. I. C. Bowser. Mrs. Agnes Duncan had charge of the program for the evening and she gave a wonderful talk on "The Lord's Last Supper,"

Color Contrast Here

APPLIQUED designs of brown kasha trim this tan coat which is guiltless of curve or flare and makes the distance from shoulder to hemline in the straightest possible line. It is ideal over the thin summer frock, and affords ample protection as well as much decoration giving those present a very vivid picture of the supper. There was also a short musical program.

At an appropriate hour refreshments were served.

The Young Women's Bible class of the First Methodist Episcopal church met last evening at the home of Mrs. Roy Tyler for its regular business and social meeting. After the business session, during which time many important items were discussed, the evening was spent at games and a short musical program was rendered. The Tyler home was attractively decorated for the occasion with wild flowers of the season.

Before adjournment luncheon was served.

Breakfast — Stewed rhubarb, crisp bacon, poached eggs on graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Toasted cheese sandwich, hearts of lettuce, pineapple bliss, sponge cake, milk, tea.

Dinner—Lamb stew with dumplings, boiled macaroni, stuffed cabbage, molded dandelion salad, caramel custard, milk, coffee, whole wheat bread.

There are no dishes suggested in these menus that may not be served to children four years of age. Perhaps the dumplings should be taboo for very small persons, but the macaroni, a bit of the cabbage without the stuffing, the salad, custard, milk, bread and some of the stew itself offer a wide choice.

Stuffed Cabbage

One solid, medium-sized head of cabbage, 3 cups bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, 1 cup finely chopped cooked ham, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 4 tablespoons melted butter, yolks 2 eggs, ½ cup cracker crumbs.

Remove the coarse outer leaves of the cabbage. Cut out the stalk and cabbage around it to make a good-sized cavity, but leave a shell about one inch thick. Cook the cabbage shell in boiling water for ten minutes. Dip into cold water and drain. Combine bread crumbs with ham, melted butter, green pepper and yolks of eggs. Mix thoroughly and fill cabbage with mixture. Cover filling with a coarse cabbage leaf. Put two or three strips of bacon in a casserole and place the bacon on top of the cabbage and pour in two cups boiling water. Place cover on casserole and cook in a slow oven for two hours. Take off the cabbage leaf covering the stuffing, sprinkle with cracker crumbs and dot with bits of butter. Brown in a hot oven.

South African Woman Lives In Trance Fifteen Years

RIETFONTEIN, South Africa, (AP) — Scientists from England who have heard recently of the case of a woman here who has been in a trance for 15 years may come to Rietfontein to make extensive investigations with the hopes of helping the victim. The woman is Miss Anna Swanepoel, of Lichtenburg, age 35, who became unconscious in 1910 when she was notified of the sudden death of her fiance.

Not once, according to the attending physicians, since that time has the woman been fully conscious. After 11 years in her own home, under the care of relatives, she was taken to a hospital where attendants administer food and water every two hours.

The way so many young fellows are ruining their health with cigarettes you would think they expect another war.
