ARTISTS TO GIVE RECITAL FRIDAY EVE

 Winds (Keel); (d) Song of the Flea (Monsieur); Mr. Daniels.

DANIELS IN RECITAL

(By Noble Aubrey Smith)
 PORTLAND, Ore. — A remarkably fine recital was given at the Auditorium by Mark Daniels, young Portland baritone, who sang a well arranged program before an enthusiastic, if not overly-large audience. This Portland artist seemed to have all the necessary musical equipment for a successful career. He possesses a voice of big range and beautiful quality, which he uses with musical intelligence. He has a good stage presence, an assurance of manner and a finished style of singing. His diction in four languages is admirable, and he has a sense of the dramatic that was especially noticeable in his recital, "Der Wanderer," of Schubert, and "Herzlied," (Schubert), which is an effective song and was most effectively sung.

The most striking thing he did was the "Hummingbird" in the "Garden of Night" — unless it was Monsievsky's "Song of the Flea," which he gave as an extra. Mr. Daniels sings this in fantastic style. Keel's "Trade Winds" with its fascinating rhythm was also a well liked number.

May Van Dyke Hardwick was at the piano and played the artistic accompaniment. The Portland musical public has come to expect of her.

The recital was in the nature of a benefit of the singer, who plans to leave in the near future for the east to continue his professional work on a larger scale. Mr. Daniels is an artist pupil of Gto Tylec-Tagliari.

Most people expect something for nothing, which is why many people expect medicine to keep them well.

NEW WITNESSES TO TESTIFY IN POISON INQUEST

CHICAGO (By Associated Press) — More than a dozen new witnesses will be produced today when the further inquiry into the death of young William McIntock and his mother is resumed. Judge Harry Olson, instigator of the investigation announced yesterday.

He did not comment on the testimony to be given by the witnesses, except that it would be very important.

John Sbarboro, assistant station attorney who went to Texas where Mrs. McIntock was taken 11 1/2 years ago to make investigations in connection with her illness, is on his way back to Chicago with important evidence in connection with the woman's death, according to announcement made by the district attorney's office.

Senator Is Converted To Mr. Dawes' Scheme

WASHINGTON (By the Associated Press) — Another voice was added to the Dawes demand for revision of the senate rules after a speech yesterday at the White House by Senator Fessenden, republican, Ohio, last night declared that he would join any group of senators to revise the rules to require senators to speak to the issue before the senate, giving members the right to call the member to order.

OPTIMISM PREVAILS AT MEETING

state department headquarters. Several present made a strong plea for better accommodations for the boys' and girls' club work exhibits. The importance of interesting and encouraging the youth in the agricultural work was strongly emphasized. The response to the plea was gratifying and the boys and girls club department will be sure to be larger than ever. More suitable quarters for the boys and girls club exhibits was assured.

It is also intended to have the boys and girls attend all open meetings of the association, between now and the show, which will be held each Wednesday night in the city hall.

MEN ARRESTED FOR FLOGGING

Two men had been sent to Barker, he was lured to a lonely spot in the country and given a severe beating. He was warned that he would be flogged again if his daughter appeared any more in the knickers and further threatened death if he disobeyed the order.

Recently the father became ill and it was with difficulty he was able to provide the necessities for his family.

This came to the attention of welfare workers, who thus by chance discovered the ill health of the daughter, and the flogging.

Two men were under arrest in connection with the beating of Barker. Four others are under surveillance, suspected of complicity in the attack.

Jewell had given up her daily cycling for fear she will be molested.

PETITION RULING MADE

SALEM, Ore. (Special) — Petitions for the initiative or referendum of a measure shall contain a minimum of 2004 names of qualified voters, according to announcement made by the secretary of state here following receipt of a legal opinion from the attorney general.

The attorney general held that in computing the number of names results on initiatives or referenda petitions the secretary of state shall divide by two the whole number of votes cast for the three candidates for justice of the state supreme court at the last general election.

Five per cent of the total votes cast for three candidates, after dividing the same by two, may be considered a sufficient number of signatures on the petitions, the attorney general held.

"Since this admittedly is only approximate and not accurate," read the opinion, "it should be regarded only as the minimum, and, to be entirely sure, persons offering such petitions for filing should see that they contain the required per cent of the highest vote cast for any office."

Yesterday In Washington

John Marshall, of Parkersburg, W. Va., was named assistant attorney general.

Secretary Hoover called a conference of Atlantic and Gulf state executives to consider fish conservation.

A formal contract was expected between the bollard interests and the shipping board for purchase of the California-Orient line.

Chairman O'Connor announced he would recommend legislation authorizing treasury payments to American sailors on American ships in foreign trade.

The immigration bureau began an inquiry into circumstances surrounding the American tour of Mr. Mary MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney, the late Irish republican leader.

D. O. K. K. IN CEREMONIAL LAST NIGHT

It is said that the hands of the desert between knighthood and Khorassan fertile plains were ferociously hot, and the tyros are one by one fell in the long mecca to be devoured by ferocious tigers, made the evening unusually enjoyable. The observer has persistently interviewed tyros of the evening but the list of named or the extent of their mutilation by animals and manhandling by the brigands has not been learned. It is reported one of the tyros is quite advanced in years and that he alone escaped the tortures and torment.

Divan Personnel

The divan was made up of the following: C. K. McCormick, La Grande, vocal singer; Mr. Humphreys, Pendleton, grand emcee; Lawrence Graham, La Grande, shik; Claude Berry, La Grande, Mahedi; Charles Despain, Pendleton, Saruk; Bruce Cox, Wallawa, Mokanna; J. H. Kenney and J. McCarthy, La Grande, Sabig and Satrap; and Walter Jones, La Grande, master of ceremonies.

The occasion was further enhanced by the presence of W. J. H. Clark, of Portland, personal representative of the Imperial Prince.

Such of the success of the undertaking last evening is due to the untiring efforts of Royal Viber Jones and Secretary Ralph Byers and the committee in charge.

An arship without a rudder landed in Belleville, Ill., without even one person mistaking it for a congressman.

If you are planning a trip to New York, now is the time to go, before they build another subway.

Capital Citizens Want To Handle the Reins

It wouldn't be so bad if congress did a first-class job of city governing, but there's room for a lot of improvement. Every time anybody, no matter where, gets a funny new idea on municipal regulation and wants to try it out on the dog, he picks Washington. Washington doesn't have to be consulted. If congressional consent can be secured, the Washingtonians have to stand it, whether they like it or not.

And congressional consent is easy to secure. Washington isn't any congressman's own home town. If it were, he wouldn't be so ready to have it monkeyed with. But being Washington—why sure, go as far as you like. All this being the case, a fat chance the Washingtonians have of getting anywhere with their self-government campaign.

In the Washington police department's opinion, evidently, the mere fact that a man has a prison record is no conclusive proof that he's a "bad guy." Not these times. Too many people get into jail who nevertheless are all right. At all events, even if an applicant has "done time," he still can get a taxicab license, provided he knows his business and is respectable.
