Aircraft Supreme in Future War, Is Belief

LONDON (AP) — Airplanes to transport troops long distances in great numbers are forehadowed in a book, "The Royal Air Force as a Career," issued recently by the British Air Ministry. Development of aircraft, it is set forth, points to the coming of machines much larger than those now in use to be driven by two or more high powered engines and which will be capable of performing very long flights.

In these machines, it is stated, it will be feasible to transport soldiers, fighting equipment or bombs great distances at speeds considerably greater than 100 miles per hour. Large flying boats, designed to remain at sea several days at a time, and other machines for use in cooperation with the navy, are among the interesting developments predicted.

Other craft mentioned are gun spotting planes for the wireless direction of fleet gunfiring, torpedo carriers and new fighting scouts, all of which are planned to be able to fly off and alight upon decks of ships or which they are units.

Bagdad Comments on Present Model Autos

BAGDAD (AP) — Tourists are showing an increasing fondness for traveling over the desert in automobiles, and the recent death of a French woman at the hands of a desert marauder does not deter them. The traffic is growing, and the various cross-desert routes have recorded a total of 1,000,000 miles of transit.

Something of a mild motor boom is beginning in Bagdad, to which the arrival of cars of recent models has added measurably. New hotels are going up, one English and one French, and better tourist business confidently is expected. Nevertheless, general business is far from satisfactory. Poverty among the working classes is acute in both towns and country, though the advent of better weather has done something to stimulate conditions.

Since the opening of the desert line between Syria and Mesopotamia two routes have been followed by automobiles traveling between these two countries. In leaving Damascus one follows a straight line through the desert to Bagdad, while the second route points slightly to the north to pass through Palmyra, the well known historic site, which attracts thousands of tourists, and then comes direct to Bagdad.

ZBYNSKO WILLING TO MEET MUNN ANY TIME

CHICAGO (AP) — Stanislaw Zbyszko, heavyweight wrestling champion, is willing to meet Wayne "Big" Munn in a return match at any time and any place he announced in a telegram to promoters arranging his appearance here May 4.

"I am ready and willing at any time to wrestle Munn as soon as he feels that he has fully recovered," the telegram read. "I believe I owe this to Munn in view of the fact that he says he was ill when he battled with me in Philadelphia recently."

Meanwhile preparations are advancing for the match between Munn and Ed "Strangler" Lewis at Michigan City, Ind., on May 29, also billed as a championship affair.

Zbyszko will arrive in Chicago Saturday from the east and will defend his title against George Kotchmarov, a Greek heavyweight, in the May 4 go.

MATCHES DOLLARS

CAMERON, Texas — A. P. Mitchell, retiring commander of The American Legion, post here, has made a gift of $500 to the post and proposes to match every dollar raised by the post for the erection of a modern home for the Milam County Legion.

Champs Sign for Bout

Here we have Mickey Walker and Harry Greb signing articles for their championship fight at the Polo Grounds, New York City, June 19. Walker, welterweight king, is on the left, Jimmy DeForest, matchmaker, in the center, and Greb, middleweight title holder, on the right. The bout will be for the middleweight crown.

Billy Evans Says

Two of the biggest pitching disappointments last year were George Uhle of Cleveland and Adolfo Lopez of Cincinnati. Counted upon to turn in a big bunch of victories for their clubs, both failed miserably.

Uhle, leading American League hurler two years ago, won but nine games for the Spedaker entourage in 1924. He lost 15 times, showing a percentage drop of 243 points.

Lopez, a pair of campaigns back, held the same position in the National circuit as Uhle did in the American. That season the "Solon" topped 27 games against just eight defeats. In 1924, however, he won but 10, losing 15, a decline of 371 points.

In a word, Uhle and Lopez showed form reversals far out of the ordinary, all things considered.

LOOK GOOD AGAIN

This season, though, Uhle and Lopez again appear to stack up in real style. They give evidence of returning to their winning ways of two years back. For each has got off to a good start.

Uhle, the campaign is early yet, and their performances may be only the well-known flash in the bucket. But judging from present indications, both should chalk up a goodly quota of victories. Far better, at least, than was the case in 1924.

With these two fellows in shape and hitting their real stride, the chances of the Indians and Reds to get somewhere in the race are greatly enhanced. For "27-victory" pitchers, like Uhle and Lopez, are two years ago, are a bit uncommon in the days of lively baseballs and heavy batting.
