"Dice Dress" From Paris

PARIS just dates on designing unique frocks such as this one. It is of thick chiffon in smart straight lines and the unique feature is a cluster of regular dice at the end of a long ribbon necktie.

Sister Mary's Kitchen BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal with thin cream, fish mash, bran muffins, marmalade, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Eggs on coquette, vegetable timbales, brown bread, steamed rhubarb, milk, tea.

Dinner—Fricassee of lamb, new potatoes in cream sauce, dandelion greens, asparagus salad, cottage pudding with strawberry sauce, graham bread, milk, coffee.

When serving new potatoes to a family of "assorted sizes" keep in mind that new potatoes are like unripe fruit and much less digestible than ripe fruit or mature potatoes. If the potatoes are too new, rice should be provided for children under 15 years of age.

Eggs on Coquette Four eggs, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 1 egg yolk, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, four crustards.

Cut slices of bread about two inches thick. Cut out rounds with a large biscuit cutter. With a smaller cutter cut half through each round in the center. Cut out this center, making a "crustard." Dip each in melted butter and color in a hot oven. Arrange on a fire-proof platter and drop an egg in each cavity, being careful not to break the yolk. Place in a moderate oven until the eggs are set and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and cook five minutes. Add cheese and cook over hot water until cheese is melted. Remove from the heat and stir in unbroken egg yolk. Pour this sauce over and around the eggs. Garnish with sprigs of parsley if convenient and serve.

While this recipe has a rather "high falutin'" name, it's really very simple, and a delicious change from plain toast and eggs.

FAMOUS IRISH BAND MAY TOUR AMERICA DUBLIN (AP)—The Free State Army band has now reached a stage of artistic skill in which it can bear comparison with the best military bands in Europe. It has frequently filled the Theatre Royal with enthusiastic audiences at good prices, and its performance throughout the provinces have been warmly welcomed.

It is now suggested by some American friends who have heard the band that it should be sent to the United States to give performances in centers where there are large populations of Irish origin, and the defense and finance ministers have been asked to consider this proposal.
