

NEWS of SOCIETY

A delightful affair of last week was a family reunion of the Metcalf family held at the M. I. A. hall Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. Mary K. Metcalf's seventy-eighth birthday anniversary. Forty-five members of the family were present, including all her sons and daughters, except one who lives in California.

A delicious dinner was served at 6:20 o'clock. The tables were attractively decorated in a pink and white color scheme, with flowers and apple blossoms being used. A huge birthday cake in the same colors served as the centerpiece. After dinner the evening was spent socially and a program was rendered.

Mrs. Metcalf's sons and daughters presented her with a beautiful pearl ring.

Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stringham and son, Elwood, of Astoria; Mrs. Madge Price, of Portland; and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Metcalf and Mrs. and Mrs. Ledbetter, of North Powder.

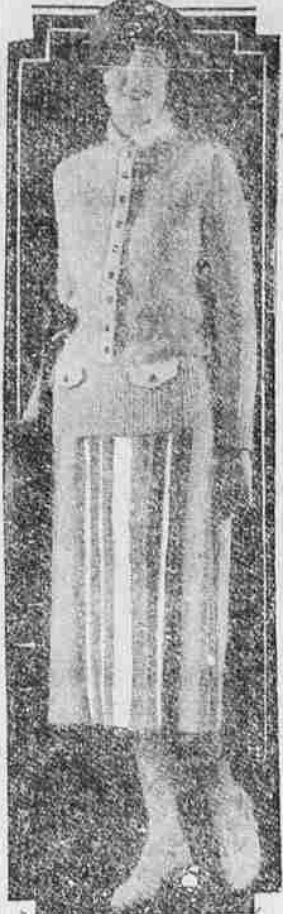

A group of members of the World Wide Guild of the Baptist church met yesterday afternoon to practice numbers on the Mother's Day program to be given Sunday morning, May 10, at 11:30 o'clock. An excellent program in keeping with the occasion is being planned, including a vocal solo by Mrs. Florence Lynch Miller, and a harp solo by Miss Payne Price, who will also appear in harp recital at the Presbyterian church that evening at 8:15 o'clock, as a feature of Music Week.

The public is invited.

A public program will be held at the Eagles hall at 8:20 o'clock Friday evening, May 8, at which time La Grande Art No. 259 F. O. Eagles will pay their respect to "The Best Pal On Earth—Mother." The Eagles have always stood by mother and home and an excellent program is expected.

The program will include speaking by Reverend O. W. Jones, assisted by Rev. Williams, the little Misses Hanson and others. In addition to the program a class of candidates will be initiated into the order. Otto P. DeLuse, Grand Wor-

Loans Total $284,941

SALEM, Ore.—Wheat seed loans under a law enacted at the 1923 session of the legislature now aggregate $284,941, according to a report prepared by the secretary of the state board of control. The amount represents 541 applications. The legislature appropriated $1,250,000 for the relief of farmers in great devastated areas, but it is not believed here that more than $250,000 will be required.

Under the law none of the money could be used except for seedling.

If he advertises it, he knows it's good.

Breakfast

Shredded fresh pineapple, poached eggs on Graham toast with water, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon

Baked lima beans, lettuce sandwiches, sponge cake pudding, milk tea.

Dinner

Broiled herring, horseradish butter, scalloped potatoes, buttered spinach, eubards and strawberries, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

The butter served with the fish should not be given to children of four years of age nor should they have the crust of the pie suggested for the dinner dessert. But as these two dishes are an addition to the menu for adults the recipes follow.

Rhubarb and Strawberry Pie

Two cups rhubarb, 1 cup sliced strawberries, 3/4 cup sugar, 1/2 cup One dried bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon flour.

The rhubarb should be cut into one-inch pieces before measuring. Line a deep pie plate with a plain paste. Sprinkle evenly over the crust two tablespoons sugar and the flour well mixed. Add one cup rhubarb and one-half cup strawberries. Mix remaining sugar and bread crumbs and sprinkle half of it over the layer of fruit. Add remaining fruit and crumbs. Cover with top crust and bake from 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

Be sure the upper crust is pressed firmly over the lower one to prevent the escape of juice. Moisten the under edge well before fitting over the top.

An indigestible but "mummy" dessert is made if this pie is served with whipped cream. However, if the main part of the meal is planned to be lacking in fat calories a rich dessert of this sort can be served very comfortably.

Hints for the Housewife

OUR FAVORITE JAM

The housewife who has not had good results in making strawberry jam will welcome this hint which insures perfect success.

The strawberry is lacking in pectin, the really active constituent in making jelly and jam "set." Although syrup, which always contains sugar, and fruit acid play an important part, it is this necessary "pectin" substance which is accountable for the failures.

Tip: meaty strawberries make a good jam, but override berries which are usually used because they are cheaper, have more water content than the less ripe berries and require additional pectin to bring about the desired consistency. Some housewives add additional sugar when confronted with this problem and while it does help to make the jam thicker, it also makes it sickeningly sweet, and has a tendency to make the jam become crystallized when exposed to the atmosphere.

In making strawberry jam the berries should be washed well after they are hulled and allowed to drain thoroughly in an enameled sieve or colander.

Measure the berries and put berries into an enameled wire preserving kettle, the vitreous surface of which will preserve the delicate color of the berries, add a cupful of granulated sugar for each cupful of fruit and let stand an hour to draw juice. Then allow to simmer for ten or fifteen minutes before boiling. Boil fifteen minutes and stir constantly, and then gradually add concentrated home-made pectin or that which is now sold in small bottles, until the desired thickness of the jam is obtained. Seal white hot.

DELICIOUS ORANGE-GRAPEFRUIT MARMALADE

The housewife, whose supply of jelly and jam is rather low or exhausted, will make a few quarts of orange-grapefruit marmalade to help out until the berry season is in full swing. Marmalade can be used in much the same way as jelly or jam—for topping off desserts, in cakes, combined with cream, cream for a sandwich filling, or for the breakfast toast.

Care but do not peel two grapefruit and slice in one inch lengths and as thin as possible. Slice four oranges in the same way. Measure all the fruit and add three times as much water. Turn into an enameled wire preserving kettle and

Man With More Than Million Dies of Starvation in Smyrna
CMYRNA (AP)—The body of a millionaire who died of starvation recently was found in the beggar's quarter of Smyrna. The man, about 80 years of age, was known to most of the inhabitants of the city. When he had not been seen for several days the police were informed and forced an entrance to his squalid habitation.

Among his filthy possessions were found large stacks of gold and silver coins, bank notes and jewelry, the value of which was estimated at $1,164,000. There was no food in the place except a pile of rotten oranges. It was said the miser had inherited his fortune from his wealthy family when he was a young man and that his love for his money made of him an enemy of mankind.

that the aspirant to stardom in the films must overcome a 50,000-to-1 chance of achieving success. The figures indicate that in the past five years, screen service bureaus of Hollywood have supplied over 100,000 men, women and children, who at first were inexperienced in moving picture work. Of these 100,000, not to exceed six or seven have reached a point where their names were carried on the screen, and only two have become stars of any magnitude.

Many included in the figures had some theatrical experience, and the contrast is drawn with the fact that nearly all of the prominent stars and featured players have had stage experience. "A beautiful face," directors say, "or a pretty figure, or both, without special histrionic ability, are useless in filmland." The straw lid is budding forth. It blossoms out. Then goes to seed.
