The Piercing Pains of NEURITIS

Torturing pains—the kind that pierce and burn and never seem to let up—that rob a man of his sleep—that make him just a bag of nerves and all worn out. These are the pains that dope and cool rat products can only relieve. You've got to get something more lasting.

The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent, nerve-racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenburh Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced if not entirely banished those severe, torturing pains that have caused you no many sleepless nights. Continue for two or three days more or until the pains have entirely disappeared.

It doesn't matter how long you may have suffered or whether your Neuritis is in the shoulder, arm, neck or leg. Allenburh Special Formula No. 2 will stop the torture and give you speedy relief.

Red Cross Drug Store or any good druggist will be glad to supply you. Mail orders accepted. Adv.

"Secrets of Night" Showing at Star Today.

Disappearance of a man who had borrowed $2000.00 from a bank, set in motion a chain of events that threatened a while to bring terrible disaster to a number of persons.

The story of what ensued is told in "Secrets of the Night" Universal Jewel to be shown in the Star theater, commencing today. Produced with an all star cast under direction of Herbert Blaché, it was produced as one of the big feature pictures Universal has made for the current year, and is the screen adaptation of the successful stage play, "The Nightingale" by Max Marcin and Guy Bolton.

James Kirkwood and Madge Bellamy are the featured players of a cast that contains seventeen players, all widely known to screen fans, and many of whom have earned enviable reputations on the speaking stage. Others having important parts are Zasu Pitts, Rosemary Theby, Tom Wilson, Gino Hoffman, Tom Ricketts, Tom S. Gules, Joseph Singleton and Arthur Stewart Hall.

Included in the cast are Edward Cecil, Frederick Cole, Tyrone Dession, Arthur Morrison, Arthur Thalasso, Bull Montana and Anton Vavereka.

This production is a seriously melodramatic roll of hair-raising situations and highly humorous anti-climax. The most of the action takes place in a country home where the characters are suspended for the week end. The introductory scenes are in the director's room of the bank, where assistant and directors are trying to find a way out of the difficulty in which they have found themselves because of the bad loan.

While they are discussing the situation which has been created by the offer of the president to sacrifice his life so that the bank may realize on his life insurance. A series of mysterious circumstances arise which entangle all the guests at a week-end party.

The spot selected by Director King for the "press" trail was an unbroken mountain-side trail. Caldwell was to gallop at neck-breaking speed down the incline, come alongside Foreby; Sebastian's ring came mounted on a path none too ample for one horse, and lit her too safely.

A downhill path on a narrow path—and not much of a path inasmuch as the ground was loose and covered with pebbles would have been had enough. But to make the rescue made it even
