

CELEBRATION SET FOR 1932

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The American people generally will be given a new view of the development of the celebration which is to be commemorated in 1932 the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

The celebration will be held from 1931 to 1933. Washington, D. C., will be the center of the celebration, and the observance will be a national one, involving the participation of all states and territories.

At the present time, the celebration is being planned by the National Historical Commission, which is a part of the War Department. The commission is composed of representatives from all states and territories, and is headed by the secretary of war, George H. Dern.

The commission has already decided upon many of the details of the celebration, and is now working on the final plans. It is expected that the celebration will be one of the most successful in the history of the United States.
