Hints for the Housewife

BE PREPARED TO CAN WHILE YOU CAN

Strawberries, the first of the berry crop are now in season and within a few weeks they will be plentiful and selling at a reasonable price for preserving.

The spring sales advertised in this newspaper feature all the necessary equipment—enameled ware preserving kettles and funnels, long handled spoons, skimmers, colanders and glass jars.

Be prepared to take advantage of the low price your dealer will ask for strawberries when he finds that he has overstocked.

HOW TO MAKE AND USE PECTIN EXTRACT

Apples and citrus fruits make an excellent pectin extract which is so necessary in preserving such fruits as strawberries, rhubarb, ripe red and black raspberries, pineapples, peaches and cherries.

For apple pectin use tart, firm apples — not the non-acid sweetly kind. Core but do not pare four pounds of apples, slice them and place them in an enameled ware saucepan, which will not discolor the pectin nor be injured by the acid in the fruit.

the fire until the desired consistency is obtained.

Pectin extracts can be made in quantities and used throughout the canning season, if put up in airtight bottles or jars while hot.

A Mirror of Tragedy

A world of tragedy is mirrored in the face of Mrs. Mary E. Perry, widow of Los Angeles, Calif. She has borne three sons. The youngest, Louis, 18, whom the mother calls "my baby," is in murderers' row in San Quentin prison, where he will be hanged for killing a policeman.

COLUMBIA RISES RAPIDLY HOOD RIVER, Ore. — The Columbia river, rising at the rate of one-half inch an hour as a result of the last week's warm weather on headquarters, had reached a stage of 22 feet above low water mark. While the river was expected to rise several more feet, no land gardens were menaced. Cooler weather on the headwaters was expected to check the freshet, and mid-Columbia truck gardeners anticipated that they would pass this season without flood damage. Can you imagine the surprise of a Boston woman when a jury found her husband perfectly sane?
