Billy Evans Says

TRIPLE-PLAY HEROES.
 Glenn Wright, southern pitcher, has joined the ranks of triple-play celebrities. He got into the hall of fame in a game at the Sius City Thursday when he retired three Cardinal players, single-handed.

Wright's feat was but the sixth of its kind in major league history. It came in the ninth inning with two men on, an idle drive from the bat of Bottomley starting the triple killing.

Down through the years each major league has produced but three or four out-of-the-ordinary affairs. Pair of them have been chalked up during the past five seasons.

The triple play heroes to date include Paul Hines, of the old Providence team; Neal Ball, once Cleveland shortstop; Bill Wambogans, Red Sox second baseman, but who performed the stunt while playing with Cleveland; Ernie Padgett, of the Braves; George Burns, while with the Red Sox; and Glenn Wright.

The most famous of them all was Paul Hines, who was the only one to have been executed in the blue ribbon classic.

More Common Now
 Triple plays, not unassisted affairs, are more common now than was the case years ago. In the old days, a three-play killing was quite unusual. Now it is only put over once a season or so.

Sometimes, however, a triple-slaying doesn't cause much more excitement than does a double play.

Last year there were 11 such plays turned in on major league diamonds. The American had six of them, the Red Sox leading the list with three.

Three seasons back the American did even better, hanging up seven triple plays. This stands as the high mark for both leagues over a season's stretch.

Making a triple play, unassisted, is, of course, something else again. It's about the maximum effort in defensive work.

HEREDITY'S POWER SEEN

SALEM, Ore.—Three families in Oregon contribute approximately 60 per cent of the inmates of the state home for the feeble-minded and 40 per cent of the wards of the state training school, according to a statement made by Dr. J. N. Smith, superintendent of the feeble-minded home, in an address before the students of Willamette university here.

"The members of these families are increasing rapidly," said Dr. Smith, "and have created a serious problem. Heredity, which is influential materially by environment, plays an important part in shaping the destinies of society. It is my opinion that people generally underestimate heredity in dealing with our social problems."

Lynn (Mass.) earthquake failed to disturb the Harvard seismograph. Big colleges are too small.

HI-JACK NINE DEFEATS REDS

A battling orgy in the ninth inning, which started with the Reds trying to win, won the game for the Hi-Jacks yesterday. The contest was snappy throughout and for the most part run getting was a difficult task. Hi-Grande scored first in the third with three runs—the result of two two-baggers and a brace of singles. In the fifth, the Indians went on the war path and which the dust settled six and crushed home plate. They scored once in the sixth and twice in the eighth, bringing their total to nine.

Bally Successful
 Two errors were made in the seventh and eighth, making the count five for the Hi-Jacks and after the Indians had been retired in the first of the ninth, the local team members started swiping their bats with remarkable results. Cleveland first up, popped out to first. Carroll singled. Williams singled and Cameron made first on an error. Hayes singled and two more errors by the Indians and a triple by Garity accounted for four runs—the final score. Children, with two home, single bringing home home with the winning run. Johnny, who had done the twirling for the Indians until the ninth inning rally, was replaced by Elk who failed to prove that he could stem the tide of runs better than his teammate. Yeske pitched fair ball until the fifth.

Four double plays—three by Hi-Jacks, and one to the entertainment. A fair-sized crowd witnessed the game.

Home-Grown Berries Sold.
 OYVATGE GROVE, Ore.—A case of strawberries delivered in the city Tuesday by Mrs. Malcolm Horn were the first home-grown berries to be put on the market here. A large number of strawberry growers have had some for their own use, and the prospects are that within a few days there will be plenty of the home-grown berries to supply the local demand.

Williams, Perry (L). Double plays; Williams to Shippentower; Price to Garity to Childers; Cameron to Garity; Price to Cameron to Garity. Three base hits: J. Garity, Struck out by Yeske 2, by Hawes 1, by Johnny 2. Bases on balls: off Johnny 4. Innings pitched: Johnny 9 1/3, Elk 1 2/3, Yeske 7, Hawes 2. Credit victory to Hawes, charge defeat to Johnny. Officials: Williams, umpire; Gossett, base umpire. Time of game: 1 hour 45 minutes.

Bull fighting is attended by great pomp and ceremony. And to fit into the picture matadors go to great trouble to look real pretty. Above is Roberto Gama, most famous Mexican matador, in his spangled suit of many colors, having his hair vase-matted and pulled straight back to form the characteristic pig tail.

New Players Secured By Pendleton

"The strongest aggregation that has yet taken the field for the Hi-Jacks will test on the Board-Top diamond Sunday afternoon," reads an article about tomorrow's game in yesterday's Pendleton East Oregonian.

The Ducks have three new men, a first sacker, a catcher and a center fielder. The new first baseman refuses to let his name be known before the game, according to the newspaper account. A gentleman by the name of Jones, a recent importation from Spokane, will do the backstopping for the Pendleton club tomorrow and Don Harsted is scheduled to play center field.

Otto Royce and Homer Taylor who have been doing the reeling for the Ducks will make their league debuts at second and third bases, respectively. Barney Hodges will play shortstop with Ed Olson right field and either Babe Adams or Chad Hargett in left.

Earl Frankay, the mighty porting, will probably pitch the first ball for the club with McGarrigle in reserve. With the Pirate batsmen on a rampage it seems likely that this same McGarrigle stands a good chance to get into the game.

No Pirate Changes
 For their part the Pirates are doing little talking and a lot of working. La Grande has no new men—none are needed. The same outfit that has turned in four winning games with no defeats will start the session for the Pirates at Pendleton tomorrow.

The only change in the La Grande lineup is the possibility of placing Dutch Olson on first base instead of Knight. Knight has been playing for Holtz for the last four games and has showed up well but the team managers are planning on putting Holtz in as soon as he is able to play.

Holtz has been in the hospital for some time with a case of pneumonia but is on his feet now and will be able to play in a few days although probably not tomorrow.

Immediately on leaving the hospital Dutch got down town as fast as he could, got hold of some new bats and now has them worked down to suit him. From the glint in his eye when he puts his brawny paws around those black-orbs it is easy to see that he is planning on smacking the ball over the fence and outside every time he comes to bat.

The game at Pendleton will start promptly at 2 p. m. The referee plans on motoring over should figure their running time accordingly. Bob Murray and W. C. Crews will officiate as umpires.

400 PHEASANTS HATCHED

PENDLETON, Ore.—The first hatches of Mongolian pheasants of the season and in the history of the recently established state game farm near here have just been taken off, according to Lawrence Demagaki, superintendent. Between 300 and 400 of the baby birds have been hatched to date, and beginning Sunday the hatch from 200 eggs will be taken off every other day.

A present 3000 eggs are being incubated under 200 hens, and before the season is completed, an additional 600 hens will be set, Mr. Demagaki said. Some of the eggs will be brought to Pendleton from the state farm at Eugene.

The interest taken by local people in the state farm here is shown in the fact that on one Sunday 100 automobiles carried people to see the birds on display.

ROAD SURVEY IS PUSHED

BEND, Ore.—The three survey crews now at work between Bend and Klamath Falls on the proposed Oregon Trunk railroad will be joined shortly by a fourth crew, according to Guy V. Lamsler, chief engineer of the Oregon Trunk, who arrived in Bend.

Linsler left for Klamath Falls and was accompanied on the trip south by Clyde McKay, Deschutes county treasurer, whose guest he was while in Bend. They expected to arrive in Klamath Falls in the afternoon.
