

NEWS of SOCIETY

A large and enthusiastic audience attended the recital given last evening at the library auditorium by eleven eighth grade and high school piano students of Miss Hilda Anthony. The stage was attractively decorated with a red and white color scheme, beautiful red tulips and white aprons being used forming a delightful setting for the recital.

Edwin Kirby played two numbers, "Sally's Song" by Schumann and "Hungarian Dance" by Beethoven; Mildred Standley played "Carnet Dance" by Chopin and "Waltz" by Liszt; Bernice Wilson played "Arabesque" by Debussy and "Pelle Asinara" by Liszt; Adolph Siegfried played "From Knightly Days" by Krentzlin and "On Herosback" by Heurter; Judith Snodgrass played "Children in the Garden" by Harbour and "Winged Horns" by Florida; Clark Lockman played "Melody Serenade" by Rogers and "Shepherds All and Maidens Fair" by Novin; and Raymond Meyerell played "Good Night" by Novin and "Valse Miniature" by Heurter.

The other four appearing on the program, Joan Williams, Lois Nelson, Dorothy Brown and Jack Coullidge, gave a short explanation of their numbers. They each played a group of three pieces. Miss Williams' selections were: "April" by Tchaikovsky, "James Garfield" by Grier and "Rose Garden" by Moxie; Lois Nelson's numbers were: "The Gypsy" by Liszt, "Spinning Song" by Mendelssohn and "Valse in E Minor" by Chopin; Miss Nelson played "Fantasy" by Scarlatti-Toum; "The Swan" by Saint-Saens and "Dance American" by Scott; Dorothy Brown and Master Coullidge gave "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" by Cadman, "Bluettes" by MacFowell and "Hunting Song" by Mendelssohn.

Each number was played with understanding and expression and showed excellent training.

The annual meeting of the Art Research Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. T. Hill. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. A. T. Hill, president; Mrs. E. A. Henderson, first vice president; Mrs. H. K. Wallis, second vice president; Mrs. H. F. Grove, treasurer, and Mrs. Richard Claycomb, secretary.

Ruffles That Go Nowhere

EACH of the ruffles that adorn this frock seems to have a different idea of where to begin and where to stop, and only one feels any responsibility to go ahead and exaggerate the hem. However, the effect is very French and very unusual and it makes a very distinctive frock on a simple white crepe de chine foundation. A unisex belt is another original touch.

Breakfast
Halves of grapefruit, broiled soft mackerel, potatoes hashed in milk, toasted corn bread, milk, coffee.

Luncheon
Scalloped celery, cottage cheese, whole wheat bread, cup cakes with new-falling icing, strawberries, milk, tea.

Dinner
Bouillon, toast sticks, baked stuffed haddock, potatoes with parmesan butter, creamed kale, cucumber salad, pineapple bavarian cream, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Salad
Kale is green leaf vegetable, valuable both for its mineral matter and its vitamin content. It requires longer cooking than spinach and should be chopped very fine before serving. A child under school age should be served less heartily with kale than with spinach as the kale is less easily digested.

Scalloped Celery.
Two cups dried celery, 1 cup celery stock, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 cup the dried bread crumbs, 1/2 cup cream, salt and pepper.
Cook celery in water to cover until tender. Reserve 1 cup of celery stock and use with milk. Melt butter, stir in flour and when smooth slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, cheese and celery. Bake a buttered baking dish with dried bread crumbs and a layer of celery mixture and a layer of crumbs. Continue layer for layer until all is used. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

Never-Fail Baking
White 1 cup, 1 tablespoon water, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla.
Put first three ingredients in top of double boiler. Put over scalding water and beat with a dower beater for four minutes. Beat in vanilla, remove from heat and spread on cake.

Governor General Learns South African's Language

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The Earl of Athlone, British governor general of South Africa, since 1923, surprised his subjects and many of his friends recently by making a public speech in Afrikaans or Cape Dutch, which is the country's second official language. Responding in English to an address of welcome during a visit to the village of Oudshoorn, the earl suddenly astonished his hearers with several sentences in Afrikaans. Afterward he spoke especially to the farmers of the Oudshoorn district in that language, sympathizing with them because of the business depression in the eastern leather industry.

Princess Alice is also studying Afrikaans and making excellent progress. The earl had for several months when he first came here, arms at 4 o'clock each morning for a lesson from a native teacher and within six months he was able to read the language fairly well, but this was all a secret until the governor general opportunity to show what he had accomplished.

Star Gazers Told How The Heavens Will Look In June

WASHINGTON (AP)—You may not see the summer stars in the sky until June 21, which will be the longest day of the year in the northern hemisphere. It comes on Sunday, which will doubtless make tennis and golf players rejoice.

June is the month to look for the Big Dipper high in the western sky with the end of the handle nearly due north, says a bulletin by the American Nature association. Bootes, generally spoken of as the Herdsman, is also known as the "Owl" and is supposed to be driving the seven plough oxen, as the seven stars of the Big Dipper are also known, around the north pole of the heavens.

Arcturus, the brightest star in Bootes, is the Bear-guard, as its name signifies, and it can be easily found by prolonging the line of stars in the tail of the Great Bear or the handle of the Big Dipper toward the southeast. Some say it is a hunter pursuing the Great Bear with his two hounds.

Bootes is easily found, because its chief stars form the outline of a boy's legs, and the bright orange-colored star Arcturus at the point where the tail joins the body of the kite. This kite has two tails, however, extending to either side from Arcturus.

Some prefer to see the five fairly bright stars in Bootes to the north of Arcturus as corners of a pentagon, a five-sided figure with its sides of equal length.

Arcturus, its peculiar orange color makes it easy to find, is also one of the three brightest stars north of the celestial equator. The other two are Vega, low far over in the northeast, and Capella in the northwest. The three stars differ greatly in color, for Vega is bluish-white; Capella, yellow; and Arcturus orange. Vega is a shade brighter than the other two, which are exactly equal in brightness.

Arcturus, the American Nature Association points out, is one of the nearest stars to the earth, though there is some uncertainty as to its exact distance. It is placed between 21 and 26 light years. A light year is the distance light travels in a year at the speed of 186,000 miles a second. Arcturus is also quite a giant star, the stars being all suns of course. Its diameter is nearly 20,000,000 miles. That makes our sun with its diameter of only 84,000 miles look pretty small, though compared to our planet earth, with its diameter of 8,000 miles, it seems large.

Corona Borealis, next to Bootes on the left, is the Northern Crown, and it is indeed a beautiful little crown of six stars in which the second magnitude star, Gemma or Alpha, the brightest star in the

South Africa Views Return Of Gold Money Both Ways
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—There has been much rejoicing among the natives because of the return in gold money which they use as personal ornaments, but the change is not popular with the public generally which has become accustomed to paper currency. Several of the larger mining companies have already adopted gold in anticipation of South Africa's official return July 1 and more than 500,000 sovereigns have been paid out to workers.

These men, however, say they prefer paper to gold because the gold coins are so easily lost and are too heavy for the pockets. It is quite different, however, with the natives, who, as has been the custom for years, make the gold pieces into jewelry and any surplus they hold they bury in the second floors of their huts. They have feared, too, that the white men would take the gold.

Aged Japanese Kills Self Because of Another's Error
TOKYO (AP)—Because he was actually only 30 years old, and not 41 years, as reported in the last of those to whom silver cups are to be presented in commemoration of the silver wedding celebration of the emperor and empress, Kinshaku Tajima or Imayakumura, Saitama, killed himself in the traditional harakiri way.

The old man's body, with stomach ripped open was found in his room with a letter explaining that he could not accept the Imperial cup under the circumstances, and did not wish to refuse it because such action would necessitate explanation and bring someone into disgrace for making a mistake. Death offered the only way out.

of vehicles have been dubbed "white wings".
As an experiment the "white wings" have been placed at congested crossings near the Houses of Parliament and other busy corners and for the first week or two attracted much attention. In several instances such crowds assembled to watch the policemen wave their "wings" that extra policemen had to be called to show the motorists on their way so that traffic could again flow through its normal channels.
