the Bible. Are the school children of this nation to be taught that the Bible is untrue? No, and they shall not be so taught for the majority of the people of this nation believe in the Bible and the hand that writes the pay checks should control the schools."

Mr. Bryan said it would be ridiculous to entrust the education of children to an oligarchy of scientists, referring to the society for the advancement of science. The moderates, he asserted, "are making us brothers to the heathen."

Mr. Bryan recently announced that he would assist in the promotion of J. P. Seapes, charged with violation of the Tennessee anti-evolution statute.

Strauss Objects to Exiled Pay—BERLIN (AP)—Richard Strauss has decided to boycott the German Theatrical Association. BIBLE SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY particular faith, it is said. Besides bible and missionary courses, dramatization, geography, games, plays, music, singing and handicraft, including sewing, raffia work, paper cutting, etc., will be taught.

Response Gratifying. In other cities where the daily vocational bible schools have been held, the children were enthusiastic in their response to the work and some classes were greatly disappointed that the schools did not continue all summer.

Response of the people of La Grande to the school has been very gratifying, according to the ministers, and augurs well for the success of the institution.

The local chamber of commerce and other institutions, both fraternal, civic and religious, have fully approved the school.

ROSEBURG ELECTS QUEEN—ROSEBURG, Ore.—Miss Theima Newhard was elected queen of Roseburg's strawberry carnival to be held May 21, 22 and 23, in a thrilling contest which ended here last night. The votes were cast until 2 o'clock when the polls were declared closed.

The queen candidates exhibited considerable political strategy and withheld many thousand ballots until the last few minutes in order to hide their real strength. Miss Newhard was closely pressed by Miss Fern Leymers, who took second place. Misses Velma Goff and Catherine Slatta were the other contestants. Queen Theima is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Newhard of this city and is one of the most popular young women of the Roseburg younger set.

FIGHTERS ARE ARRESTED—MIDFORD, Ore.—Eddie Shannon, a couple of years ago a light-weight pugilist of some renown on the coast, and his wife were arrested by the sheriff, charged with possession of a .45-caliber rifle found on the farm Shannon and his brother rented in the Applegate district. At Shannon, arrested on the same charge with Denny Shannon, Jimmy Martin, pugilist; Gus Sorenson, wrestler, and Neg Yeager of Portland, heavy-weight fighter, was released on $1000 bonds Saturday. Yeager's brother and an upstairs friend were in the city today endeavoring to secure his release on bail.

KNEES BARED IN WEST—SALFEM, Ore.—"Women's styles are more extreme in the west than in the east and you have to come to Oregon to see bare knees."

This was the statement of Dr. Carl George Doney, president of Willamette university in an address before members of the Salem chapter of commerce here.

In addition to discussing styles in different sections of the country Dr. Doney contrasted weather conditions as observed by him on his recent trip.

"We think we have unusual weather here in Oregon," said Dr. Doney, "but the weather changes more rapidly and to greater extremes in the east than in the west."

It was taking one of his almost-daily walks, with his usual plain-clothes guard, Hiking southward down Connecticut avenue, they came to the point where it intersects Rhode Island avenue and M street—a mean place.

The cop had the east and west traffic held up, to let it pass up and down Connecticut. It looked like a good time. The president and retinue stepped off the curb and got nearly half way across the road.

At that juncture the cop, of course entirely indifferent to the fate of pedestrians, thought perhaps he'd better make an exception in the president's favor. If he'd know it was he, turned the traffic.

The plain clothes men are big, husky chaps who'd fight a lion.

COP INHERITS COLD MILLION

crossing the Atlantic alone in the yacht, Armguard, will accompany the Ellises on their voyage.

The first lap of their trip will take them to the South Sea Islands. From there they intend going through the Panama Canal to the Fiji group, Singapore and a cruise of the Indian ocean will be next and then they will sail to Cairo, up the Nile, journey overland through the Holy Land, circle back along the Mediterranean across the Black Sea to Odessa and up the Volga river to central Europe.

"What will I do when we get back to Los Angeles?" asks the big cop. "Oh, I'll probably ask for my job back on the force. I'll probably be pretty homesick for the old beat that I have walked for so long."

WASHINGTON MAY LEFT $120,000 TO SISTER, NEPHEW—PORT TOWNSEND, Wash. (By the Associated Press).—A sister in Albany, N. Y., and a nephew, Laurence W. Smith, in Henderson, Ky., it was learned Monday afternoon by the Associated Press here until his death Saturday, but who left an estate exceeding $120,000.

Smith came to Port Townsend in 1872.

He lived most of his life in a cabin on a ranch, but did not work. Early in the World war he reported that his all had been stolen. This was $50,000 in liberty bonds, but the bonds were sewed into a pillow on the ranch. He left one hundred thousand dollars in government bonds, $20,000 in cash and the ranch. He thought everybody was after his money and was wont to meet callers with a rifle.

In the president's defense but they knew there was no hope of stopping that herd of charging automobiles. The whole party simply turned ignominiously and streaked it for the curb they'd just left.

Well, they got there, somebody's nudged grazing one of the plain-clothes men's leg. The president didn't go in for athletics in his college days, and spectators in his incident may he would have beaten all records for any known variety of jump.

It is becoming very clear that Vice President Dawes is not going to succeed in getting the Senate rules changed when Congress meets next. The thing is developing into a party fight and on that basis the administration hasn't enough votes.

It can and probably will have the House rules changed. It has a clear majority there. It probably will clear them back in the direction of Uncle Joe Cannonism, making a clear out of Speaker Longworth and taking away from the minority even those rights which it hath—if any.

But in the Senate, no. If a Republican senator and an administration senator were synonymous terms, all would be well for the Dawes plan—that is, the Dawes senatorial plan, not the European one.

However, they are not synonymous terms. Anything the administration wants, the Democratic senators don't want it to have. Ditto as to the Republican progressive. And the Democrats: the Republican progressive; Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite, and Senator La Follette, Brookhart,razier and Ladd, unclassified, outnumber the Republicans by several votes.

So that means thumbs down for the Dawes plan.
