BEARS LOSE THIRD GAME TO PIRATES.

to Harris and Barth, next up scored Hartman for the first run of the game. Hartman, Helm, Barth and Gossett all scored before the Bears were able to slap on the damper.

Several scores

It looked like the Pirates had the game safely laid away but Walla Walla slipped up and took two runs in their first inning at the plate. Again in the third inning the Bears squeezed a man in and the score stood four to three until the seventh. In the seventh frame Hartman again scored for La Grande and the eighth and ninth were blanks for both teams.

Big Hein opened the afternoon with a stiff arm and got batted all over the lot but during the latter half of the game he pitched great ball. By the sixth inning he was commencing to get warmed up and his delivery showed better than it has this season than during the seventh, eighth and ninth innings.

League Meeting Held

Several rules and regulations tending to improve the league were discussed and accepted at the meeting of the Blue Mountain League managers at Pendleton yesterday morning. Representatives of the Baker, Walla Walla, La Grande and Pendleton teams were all present and the business was put through in the minimum of time with the greatest satisfaction to all concerned.

The grand stand reserved seat charge begun by Baker and La Grande will be continued. This extra charge on the grandstand seats was placed, according to the managers of the two teams, for the purpose of a resident of any of the towns in the league. Two umpires may be used in important games, at the pleasure of the managers of the competing teams.

CHARACTER IN WRITING PAPER

A like character in clothes—quadrants but recognized instantly. A choice of styles and shapes to suit individual preferences and uses is fairly easy. There remains the problem of quality and finish.

SYMPHONY LAWN makes the solution simple. Its beautiful linen finish is always correct. The quality is the finest money and paper-making brains can produce.

EXPORTS IN PAST YEAR WERE GREAT

$731,592,502; Pennsylvania, $293,279,153; Illinois, $229,214,427; California, $224,884,210; New Jersey, $222,821,264; Louisiana, $222,847,224; Michigan, $177,876,654; Virginia, $150,198,225; Ohio, $135,559,262; and Massachusetts, with merchandise valuations of $114,418,430. Minnesota, with shipments valued at $99,839,498, was just outside the first eleven states, while Nevada, with exports amounting to $235,413 brought up the rear of the entire list.

This is the first time in the history of governmental trade statistics, according to Dr. J. J. Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, under whose charge the figures were compiled, that an attempt has been made to show the relative yearly standing of the different states and territories of the Union in the never-ending struggle for foreign trade. Formerly official trade figures gave only the port from which shipments were cleared, inland producers, desirous of finding out what agricultural and manufacturing goods came from their respective states, had to consult the department to adopt some other system. The outcome was the new compilation which is based on thorough bills-of-lading, and therefore in the case of some states, reflects but a part of their total foreign trade, and for other includes goods produced elsewhere. The element of seasonal fluctuation, says Director Klein, should also be considered.

NATIONAL EXPORTS IN 1924

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas ranked first in the nation during 1924 as a source of export contributions to the foreign trade of the United States.

The commerce department gave out today a compilation of figures—the first of their kind ever collected—which shows that Texas exports for the year had a valuation of $737,218,227, just above the $731,592,502 of exports credited to New York, and comparing with the $292,299,000 of exports which originated in Pennsylvania, the state which ranked third.

The collection of the exports by states of origin was begun first by the commerce department in 1924, and in subject, it was said officially, to some allowance for error, due to the experimental nature of the attempt, and to the fact that bills of lading attached to export shipments are not always marked to show the exact point of production. Notwithstanding, the records obtained are considered fairly reliable, and their collection will be continued.
